Regular patrons need no description of the Palais Royal's Lingerie of this autumn-winter of 1915. While some of the garments are now mussed and tumbled, they will be recognized as the best values of the year at the regular prices. Supplies for long future, as well as present needs, are being quickly carried off—in armsful—by many of our regular patrons.

$1.00 Lingerie, 69c

The Palais Royal's $1.00 Lingerie of 1915 is favorably known to many thousands of discriminating women. Superior materials, home-like needlework.

Correct styles and perfect fit have made these garments so deservedly popular. With the late advance in cost of materials the dollar lingerie of 1916 can certainly be no better and it will be less good, unless the merchant is to sacrifice part of his fair profit. At 69c the remaining 1915 lingerie will be only too quickly appropriated—for those who defer a visit.

75c Lingerie, 47c

Broken lots—mussed and tumbled some—but easily recognized by recognized patrons and duly appreciated as among the best bargains of 1915—at only 47c.
