Japs Supplant American Merchant Marine—Make Contract with Southern Pacific for Carrying Freight.

New York, Jan. 22.—Price changes in the stock market today were unimportant, as applied to the standard issues.

Steel common was quiet and moved within a narrow price range, thus reflecting less discussion relative to the resumption of the common stock dividend.

Coincident with the active speculation going on about International Mercantile Marine shares, the writer learned today that the Japanese have already begun to supplant the American merchant marine on the high seas.

Deals in United States Industrial Alcohol overshadowed transactions in any other issue.
