All women are interested in learning of the beauty of the new styles—and there is real beauty in them, combined with a quaint picturesqueness and a charming femininity that is most pleasing. The modes which we are displaying for spring are distinguished by that element of newness with whose development only the best style authorities have been associated. Women can learn much about their spring wardrobes by inspecting the merchandise which is daily coming into the store.

The New Dress Modes for Women

Fashion experts have decided upon the materials and they are soiree, soft lustrous taffeta, gros de londre and satin-finished silks, and almost invariably combinations of Georgette crepe with one of the above mentioned. Light and dainty shades appropriate for afternoons, teas, and receptions, informal dances, etc.; also rich shades of green, mouse, Hague blue and others. The Washable Dresses are also being displayed, among them new linens, wash silks, gabardines, etc., for Southern wear, beach, tennis, and sports. Beautiful Nets and embroidered and plain Voiles.
