

ROOT 'IDEAL MAN' THINKS DEPEW

Former Senator Says He Would Be Best Republican Candidate.

PREDICTS UNITED PARTY

Declares Country Is Tired of Having Inexperienced Man in White House.

"If the Republican party will vote the way I want it to, I will nominate Elihu Root as its Presidential candidate," declared former Senator Chauncey M. Depew, of New York, at the Willard last evening.

"It is not a new thing to say that Mr. Root is the brainiest man and the most astute statesman this country has turned out in the past half century. He would make an ideal man for the White House when the present war in Europe ceases."

"And I think the people of this country have awakened to the fallacy of the idea of putting a man in the White House who has not had any political experience and of having him learn politics while in office."

"In New York State the delegates to the convention in Chicago will go almost equally divided between Mr. Justice Hughes and Mr. Root. Mr. Root has a few delegates, but the majority of them are divided between the other two."

"These three New York men stand out above all the favorite sons in the consideration of Presidential timber, though one must remember that the dark horses of the party who were nominated after the delegates had reached practical deadlocks over the recognized candidates."

"I hardly look for evidence of any rancor or bitterness in this convention, such as was shown in the last one. That condition will be passed away and I really believe the party will forget its differences and work unitedly behind any candidate the convention chooses. The country will elect its choice because the people want a man in the White House who has backbone and cleverness, rather than pure scholastic training."

"If this convention will do as its oldest member desires, it will name Mr. Root for the head of its ticket," he asserted. "I am not looking for any political plums, have no axes to grind or prejudices to satisfy; I favor the best man in this country for the Presidency, and I do sincerely hope the Grand Old Party will name him."

50,000 MEN WILL TRAIN IN CAMPS

Citizens Will Spend $3,000,000 This Summer for Military Knowledge.

HARVARD HOLDS LEAD

Cambridge Institution to Have Larger University Representation—Local Colleges Will Send Students.

Statistics revealing the scope of preparedness sentiment in the United States and showing how many American men are eager for military training in the so-called "Plattsburg camps" this summer has just been compiled.

It is estimated that more than 50,000 men will take the "Plattsburg" training during the summer at various camps throughout the country.

Each man will be required to pay about $20 for his expenses in camp. The 50,000 "citizen soldiers" in this way will spend $3,000,000 in gaining military knowledge and practical experience.

Harvard Leads. The percentage of university men who are going to take the camp "treatment" is astounding. Of 8,000 already enlisted, approximately 4,000 are university men.

The big camp, of course, is Plattsburg, and for the five sessions which are to be held, so far about 8,000 men have registered. The number is increasing each week, and the authorities believe that before the season is over they will have the 20,000 for which they have planned.

The first session at Fort Oglethorpe has already begun, with about 800 men at present in camp.

The first training camps were held in 1913, the movement originating with college undergraduates. The idea took hold of the country, and last year the camp at Plattsburg for business and professional men had an attendance of about 1,800 men.

This year the movement has taken on a national scope, and it is expected that Congress will recognize it in the shape of appropriations to help defray the expenses of the camps.

AERO CLUB TO HOLD CROSS-COUNTRY FLIGHT

$20,000 Offered as First Prize—Pulitzer Will Give Trophy—Route Is Described.

To develop aerial defenses, the executive committee of the Aero Club of America has decided to hold a transcontinental aeroplane competition, with a first prize of $20,000, a possible total of over $30,000 in prizes, and a trophy offered for annual competition by Ralph Pulitzer, owner of the New York World.

The route for the competition, to be selected shortly, may be adopted as part of a permanent aerial highway across the continent, for which there will be established landing places at intervals of between twenty and fifty miles. The most progressive cities will realize the opportunity afforded to establish permanent aeroplane stations in their locations and will give substantial co-operation to make this competition a success. As aeroplanes are now safe the establishing of such a chain of landing stations across the continent will make aerial touring popular, just as the advent of good roads made automobile touring popular.

There are about fifty trained aviators and fifty civilian and militia aviators being trained and as many more will be trained during the coming two months. There are about 150 aviators who took their pilot's licenses in the past two years. Most of these will compete, it is believed.

ALTERS BURNETT BILL TO PLACATE JAPANESE

Senate Immigration Committee Will Report Measure with Phraseology Amended Tomorrow.

The Senate Immigration Committee has agreed on the changes to be made in the Burnett immigration bill to meet the objections of Japan, and will report the amended measure to the Senate immediately after its meeting tomorrow.

Senator Ellison D. Smith, of South Carolina, chairman of the committee, said yesterday: "Action will be taken to accommodate the phraseology of the present text to meet the agreement made between this country and Japan concerning immigration."

The only effect of the changes to be made will be to remove features which Japan considers are not in keeping with the spirit of the agreement between the two countries, and will not affect the administration of the law in any way."

FAVORITE SONS POOL INTERESTS

Form Alliance in Effort to Undermine "Boom" for Hughes.

REPEAT OLD TACTICS

Plan of Burton, Sherman, Weeks, Fairbanks and Cummins Recalls Effort to Block Taft.

At a conference yesterday between Granville Mooney, manager for Theodore E. Burton, of Ohio, and Walter A. Rosenfield and Edward J. Brundage, spokesmen for Senator Lawrence J. Sherman, of Illinois, ways and means were considered to put a quietus on the movement to nominate Associate Justice Charles E. Hughes as the Republican Presidential candidate. It is understood that representatives of Senator John W. Weeks, of Massachusetts, also took part in the conference.

The "favorite son" group of candidates, which includes Messrs. Burton, Sherman, Weeks, Fairbanks, and Cummins, are said to have pooled their interests in an endeavor to land the nomination for one of the five. Their first endeavor will be to undermine the Hughes "boom," which, according to the "favorite son" managers, has made great headway within the past few weeks.

So far as can be learned, the "favorite sons" have made no combination with the Root forces. For the present they are said to be pooling their interests solely for the benefit of the five candidates, the same as the "allies" did in 1908 when they tried to head off William H. Taft.

Information was received in Washington yesterday indicating that the Root managers are running for delegates in Minnesota and other Northwestern States. In a statement made public at Root headquarters the claim is made that Root sentiment is growing, notably in the South.

REVENUE BILL PLANS ALTERED

Wilson Forced to Drop His Program for Raising Revenue.

President Wilson and the majority members of the House Ways and Means Committee have agreed on the principal provisions of the revenue bill, which will raise the money for the increased defense program.

Substantial agreement between the Democratic leaders and the rank and file of the Democratic members of Congress has forced the president to abandon the tentative revenue program which he proposed when the present session began.

There will be needed, according to members of the Ways and Means Committee, an increase of between $150,000,000 and $200,000,000 over the amount provided for in the Emergency Revenue Act, and this will be raised from the following three sources:

An increase in the tax on incomes of $10,000 a year or more. A Federal tax on inheritances. There may be an exemption of bequests below $100,000.

A heavy tax on the manufacture or profits of munitions of war.

To Repeal Stamp Taxes. There will be retained in the general revenue bill practically all the features of the emergency act except the stamp taxes. These taxes are on cosmetics, powders, perfumes, soaps and like articles, and on notes, telegraph and telephone messages, bills of lading, etc.

The special tax of $5 on small tobacco dealers affecting between 200,000 and 300,000 will be repealed.

There will be no special excise tax on gasoline, automobile engines, bank checks and other articles of common use, as suggested by President Wilson, as a means of raising additional revenue in his first address to the present session.

MINISTER IS ASSAILED AS MENACE TO HEALTH

Proceedings Are Instituted Against Trenton Clergyman, Alleged to Be Sufferer from Tuberculosis.

Trenton, N. J., May 14.—On the ground that he is afflicted with pulmonary tuberculosis and is a source of danger to public health, T. Dudley Ballinger, officer of the Princeton board of health, has instituted proceedings in Mercer County Court to compel Rev. Thomas W. Jones, pastor of the Bright Hope Baptist Church, to show cause why he should not be committed to the tuberculosis hospital in Hamilton Township.

In the petition it is alleged that Mr. Jones is suffering with the contagious type of the disease and that despite his condition he converses with the persons whom he meets, thereby creating a possibility of infecting others.

The petition is accompanied by the affidavit of the physician and others interested in the prevention of tuberculosis. Two of the affidavits contend that Rev. Mr. Jones has violated the health laws.

There is a strong feeling in the city that it should be granted in this county and is said to be the first in the State. The case was to have been heard in Mercer Court this morning, but a postponement of two weeks was granted. Mr. Jones has retained an attorney.
