

J. A. SULLIVAN DIES IN RIVER

Newspaper Photographer Falls from Motorboat and Drowns with Rescuers Near.

James A. Sullivan, 26 years old, well-known newspaper photographer, of Washington, was drowned in the Potomac River of Jones Point Lighthouse, when he fell from the stern of a motor launch about 6:30 o'clock yesterday evening.

Sullivan was a member of Hope Lodge, No. 22, of Masons.

Sullivan leaves a bride of five months, who was prostrated by the news of his death.

After spending the afternoon on the river the party left for home about 6 o'clock and were almost to Alexandria, when Sullivan fell backwards from a box on which he was sitting in the stern of the launch.

Lifelines and buoys were thrown the drowning man, but fell short of their mark. Rescuers yelled to him to quit swimming and float. Sullivan seemed to be seized with cramps suddenly and went under.

Frank Roache and Frank Hardie, of the "Bohemian," plunged in the water and tried to find Sullivan. After swimming around for several minutes they failed to locate him. The harbor police were notified and the patrol boat was sent to drag the river for the body.

Sullivan, who is familiarly known among newspaper men and in sport circles as "Jimmy," had been connected with the art department of the Star for about twelve years, during which time he had made a great many baseball and football pictures.

Called to Sullivan. According to Dumbhart, Sullivan had promised to take a picture of the "Lorraine" the next time he had his camera on the river.

Sullivan's widow, who is in delicate health, was on a trip to Frederick, Md., with her mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Smith, and Mrs. Mary Hartford, her mother-in-law, at the time of the accident.

Twenty-five thousand dollars, with which to enlarge the Interstate Old Folks' Home, Inc., at 1512 Corcoran street northwest, is the goal of a sixty-day campaign started by the trustees of the institution.

Twenty-five thousand persons will be asked to give $1 each. Checks can be sent to H. B. Byrd, Fidelity Savings Company, 715 Thirteenth street northwest.

The home was founded May, 1914. Sixty-four aged men and women now are being cared for at the institution and it is said that many more applications are being received.

WOMEN "SUFFS" READY FOR PARTY GATHERING

Two Thousand Voters Crowd Chicago Headquarters on Eve of Big Convention.

(By the Sun News Service.) Chicago, June 4.—The Woman's Party convention opening tomorrow night will be about 2,000 women voters, representing the twelve "free States" and many others from States not "free."

Among the number will be Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont, Mrs. Robert Adamson, Miss Alice Carpenter, Mrs. George Ruble, Miss Marion May, Mrs. Norman De R. Whitehouse, Mrs. William L. Colt, Miss Evelyn Newman, Miss Ethel Legge, Mrs. Frank Cochrane, Mrs. Charles Farnham, Mrs. Inez Millholland Bolesvain and Mrs. Rita Childre Dorr.

The fighting which has taken place around Ypres and Arras has been as desperate, though not as costly in life, as anything which has taken place around Verdun, but no progress has been made.

Senator Harding, of Ohio, who will deliver the keynote address at Chicago, and Senator Borah, who will probably have a hand in drafting the platform, headed the last contingent of Republicans who left the Capitol yesterday for Chicago.

Several Republicans remain on watch in the Senate to object to the consideration of bills against which there is opposition. Even many of the Democrats, taking advantage of the lull in Congress, have left for their homes before going on to St. Louis.

Legislation will practically remain at a standstill until the conventions have adjourned.

During an altercation in an alley near Twenty-second and M streets northwest, Frank West, colored, 23 years, of 217 L street northwest, was shot twice about 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon by Henry Grant, colored, 22 Twenty-second street northwest.

One bullet passed through West's chest and the other went through his stomach. He was removed to Emergency Hospital, where physicians said last night he was recovering. The police are looking for Grant.

English Well Equipped. In point of equipment, Mr. Bullen claims the British army in France is not alone the best in France but in the world.

The new gas helmets issued by the British, are considered a perfect protection against poison gas and a partial safeguard against lacrymatory shells.

The spirits of the men on the Western front, said Bullen, are cheerful. The men are supremely confident that when the time comes for an advance they will over a broad front—advances over a narrow front, it appears, are not worth while and only provide dangerous salients.

Mr. Bullen said the regulations would not permit of publication of any detail regarding numbers, but the size of the English army in France can be roughly estimated when it is reflected that German strength on the English front is well over 650,000 men.

The reason the Germans attacked Verdun instead of concentrating upon one more desperate effort to seize the Channel ports was simply because they thought the French would be an easier "nut" to crack.

The intelligence department of the British army is being splendidly served by aviators, who have shown their superiority over the Germans on the British front.

"In every engagement I saw between rival armies the Germans were worsted," says Bullen. "At the time I left France for England, it was known that the instructions to German aviators were to avoid a fight, whereas the British instructions were to seek a fight every time."

As a result of the development of aviation the element of surprise which the strategists of the old school considered of such importance in warfare has been practically eliminated.

Both sides now know nearly everything that the other side is doing, and the movement of troops, trains or the change in position of any important regimental unit.

Spirit of people Good. "What about the spirit of the people in England?" he was asked. "There has been nothing quite so fine," replied Mr. Bullen with enthusiasm, "since the days of Elizabeth and Marlborough. The people possess themselves in patience whether in adversity or good fortune; they are calmly confident that they will win in the long run and have now settled down to the task of mobilizing all their available resources."

MYSTERIOUS STRANGER CLAIMS TO BE ENVOY

State Department Investigating Record of American Who Says He Is Administration "Agent."

State Department officials are looking into the record of an American who has been traveling through some of the countries of South America posing as a "confidential agent" of the State Department and President Wilson.

Several days ago a report came to the department from an American minister, urgently requesting to be advised as to the status of the traveler, whose name, as reported to the department, officials here decline to disclose.

The climax came when, at a banquet he attended, the stranger, decidedly the worse for wine, amazed the local officials by some vigorous assertions of what the administration at Washington proposed to do with regard to the Monroe doctrine and other pan-American policies.

Officials here believe that the steps taken to repudiate the man will serve to commission similar to that of Col. Wood, John Lind and other confidential envoys employed by President Wilson.

Representative Warren Wood Bailey, of Pennsylvania, one of the closest friends of William Jennings Bryan in the House of Representatives, issued a statement last night announcing that he would offer a substitute for the Rainey bill, the administration measure, providing for the creation of a tariff commission.

Mr. Bailey proposes to clothe the tariff-making committees of the two houses with power to employ experts to collect information for them. By this means, he said, Congress will retain the control over the tariff.

Pain in Back or Neck Often Denotes Kidney Weakness

Symptoms of kidney trouble are various, but pain in back of neck and dull, aching feelings in small of back are to be looked for.

Simply by realizing that these distresses are often the onset or signals of kidney trouble it is well to get rid of them immediately by toning the kidneys.

The very best way to do this is by taking a little "Anuric" with hot water before meals.

In this way it aids digestion and finally reaches the kidneys, where it has a healing effect.

"Anuric" is endorsed by Dr. Pierce. Many can at once associate Dr. Pierce's well known "Golden Medical Discovery" and his "Favorite Prescription," universally known as an invigorator of womanly ills.

Kidney, Bladder and Uric Acid troubles bring misery to many. When the kidneys are weak or diseased, these natural filters do not cleanse the blood sufficiently and the poisons are carried to all parts of the body.

These follow depression, aches and pains, heaviness, drowsiness, irritability, headaches, chilliness and rheumatism. In some people there are sharp pains in the back and loins, distressing bladder disorders and sometimes obstinate dropsy.

The uric acid sometimes forms into gravel or kidney stones. When the uric acid affects the muscles and joints, it causes lumbago, rheumatism, gout or sciatica.

Send 10c for trial package to Dr. Pierce and prove that "Anuric" is many times more potent than lithia, and that it dissolves uric acid in the system, as hot water does sugar.

Some one daily offers his or her words of praise of "Anuric." Here is what Mr. HENRY A. CORDONIER has to say: "Those Anuric tablets sent by you surely are fine. They relieved the pain and weakness in my back within a few days after I began using them."

The one package relieved me. I have felt fine in that respect ever since. I live on a farm and work every day. Am a man 60 years of age. Had been been troubled with my kidneys for about ten years."

Step in the drug store and get "Anuric." or send Dr. Pierce 10c for trial package.
