

George Dumont's Wilderness in Ninth Inning Defeats Nationals 2 to 1

Nationals Are Beaten Again in Ninth Inning

George Dumont's Wilderness Gives White Sox Game in Final Session, 2 to 1.

SHAW'S ERROR COSTLY

By WILLIAM PEET.

Chicago, June 10.—Another one of those ninth-inning shenanigans by the enemy took place here today. The Nationals were leading the Griffen during the early chapters gave Rowland's White Sox the opening game of the five-set-piece here this afternoon, by 2 to 1.

After carrying the jinx in Cleveland and pulling out of Detroit all scarred up, the Nationals looked for better things here in Chicago, but the cards were stacked against us and the boys are willing to bet for Mr. Hughes at the next election, if by so doing assurances would be given that the club could win a game now and then, instead of only then.

Today's battle ended in a sensational manner. George Dumont, who had relieved Jim Shaw in the ninth inning, got himself out of a bad hole when he forced Fournier with the bases loaded to hit into a double play, only to throw away the game by walking John Collins purposely and by passing Weaver in the back with a curve ball, forcing in the winning tally.

Wolfgang Goes a Full Game.

Mel Wolfgang, who has never on previous starts finished a game against the Griffen, went the entire route today. He was touched up for eight hits, one more than the Sox got on the combined deliveries of Harper, Shaw, and Dumont, but Wolfgang besides keeping the blows well scattered, was backed up brilliantly in the field.

Thanks to Judge and Jamieson, the ex-Buffalo stars, Washington managed to avert a shut-out and give the crowd a run for its money. Milan, Morgan, Williams and other dependable hitters could not produce when opportunities to score runs bobbed up.

Harper was effective but wild. It was due to wildness that the Sox put over a run in the fifth inning. Jim Shaw looked fairly good, but stayed in the box long enough to contribute a rotten throw which gave the Sox that much-needed break. Dumont was nervous and it was because of his poor control that the home team grabbed its chance to put over a victory.

Jackson Starts Trouble.

Harper escaped trouble until the fifth when Joe Jackson got out of a jam by the ball past Judge for a double. Feltch was hit and Schalk walked, filling the bases. Terry's short fly was caught by Milan, nobody attempting to score.

Wolfgang fled to seller, the wind carrying the ball into foul territory. Dumont should have dropped the ball purposely, but no, he made the catch and was in no position to peg home, Jackson scoring on a throw. J. Collins also drew a pass, but Weaver's fly to Jamieson ended the inning.

The Nationals filled the bases in the fifth when a hit would have caused complications, but two were down and the best Judge could do was to dump the ball in front of the plate.

Again in the sixth an opportunity for a Washington run was lost for lack of consistent hitting.

The Griffen knotted the count in the seventh when Judge led off with a shrieking triple to left center. Foster and Milan died in turn but Jamieson came through with a clean single to right; scores Judge.

As Griff sent up Shanks to pinch hit for Harper in the eighth, Jim Shaw was in the box when the Sox came to bat in the ninth. The enemy until the ninth which Feltch cracked open with a single to left. Schalk grounded in front of the plate and Shaw with plenty of time to retire Feltch at second threw the ball over McBride's head. E. Murphy, hitting for Terry, was passed, and Jim Shaw in favor of Dumont, who faced Fournier, another pinch hitter.

SCOREBOARD AT LYCEUM.

Direct Wire to Theater Will Reproduce Sox-Griffen Game.

The Lyceum Theater will show the game between the Nationals and Chicago White Sox in detail on its big score board this afternoon. The game will be given in addition to the regular performance.

The game will begin at 4 o'clock. Washington time, and the show will be given at the usual time. The score board will be started as soon as the first flash is received on the direct wire to the theater.

Federals Play Cleveland A. C.

The Federal A. C. will cross bats with the strong Cleveland A. C. Sunday, June 11, at 2:30 p. m., at Thirty-fifth and Wisconsin avenues. The game will be started as soon as the first flash is received on the direct wire to the theater.

CHEVY CHASE IS LOSER IN TENNIS

Doyle's Departmental League Team Defeats Clubmen Six Out of Nine Matches.

DOUBLES INTERESTING

The Departmental League's representatives walked all over the Chevy Chase Club tennis team yesterday afternoon on the latter's courts when these two aggregations met in their scheduled match in the Washington Tennis Association.

"Lou" Doyle's team took four out of the six singles matches and two out of the three doubles.

The Chevy Chase team was weakened in its singles matches by the absence of Moore, Bethel and Olivey, three of its best players, who were unable to play until later in the evening when the doubles were staged.

The singles matches brought out nothing out of the ordinary, but all of the doubles were very interesting and some brilliant tennis was shown in them. In the best of the three, Doyle and Barber defeated Moorhead and Bethel, 6-4 and 6-0. The winners played in their old-time form and couldn't miss a shot, as the Philadelphia result and it was not until fourteen hard, fast games had been played that the Departmental League pair was given the decision.

At one time, Karrick and Moore were within a single point of the match, as they were leading, 6-4, and had the score 40-10, but the Graves-Colton team finally deuced the game and went in and took the next two, the match ending in the following rain. Summary:

SINGLES. Departmental, Chevy Chase, 2; J. Uphor Moorhead, Chevy Chase, defeated Horace W. Barber, Departmental, by 6-3 and 6-2; Louis E. Doyle, Departmental, defeated Walter E. Dunlop, Chevy Chase, by 5-6, 6-3, and 6-0; John T. Graves, Jr., Departmental, defeated James K. Karrick, Chevy Chase, by 6-2 and 6-2; Virginia DeBergh, Chevy Chase, defeated E. C. Colton, Departmental, by 6-4, 6-2, and 6-3; G. C. Williams, Departmental, defeated T. Baldwin, Chevy Chase, by 6-2 and 6-2; H. B. Buckingham, Departmental, defeated Edward W. Donn, Jr., Chevy Chase, by 6-1 and 6-4.

DOUBLES. Departmental, 2; Chevy Chase, 1. Barber and Doyle, Departmental, defeated Moorhead and W. A. Bethel, Chevy Chase, by 6-4 and 6-2; Moore and Colton, Departmental, defeated J. B. Moore and Karrick, Chevy Chase, by 3-6, 6-4, and 6-2; Richard Olivey and Dunlop, Chevy Chase, defeated Williams and Buckingham, Departmental, by 6-2, 6-4, and 6-2.

TINKER'S CUBS ARE BEATEN BY GIANTS

New York, June 10.—Refreshed after their three-day lay-off, the Giants broke back into the winning column again this afternoon. They grabbed off a 1 to 2 victory in the first of four-game series with Joe Tinker's Cubs at the Polo Grounds.

Cleaver and steady slabwork by "Poll" Perritt, and a nice pinch wallop by Larry Doyle were the prominent factors in the victory. Perritt held the Cubs' sluggers pretty well in hand and Doyle's hefty crack to right in the seventh shoved over the lone run of the game. Score:

Cubs Release Two.

Chicago, June 10.—The announcement of President Weeghman, of the Chicago Cubs, that he had released two players, caused a sensation in baseball circles today. Both men, according to Weeghman, will go to Atlanta, of the Southern League. Doolan and Yerkes held iron-clad contracts for large salaries, but the Cubs from the Federal League these contracts will be fulfilled, it is understood, by the Atlanta Club paying an amount in accord with the Southern League scale of salaries, the balance being made up by Weeghman.

Columbia C. C. Tennis Team Easily Defeats Dumbarton

"Connie" Doyle and his Columbia Country Club team scored an overwhelming victory over the Dumbarton Club tennis team on the former's courts yesterday afternoon when these two teams met in the Washington Tennis Association matches. Columbia took all six singles matches, but lost two out of the three doubles.

This match was originally scheduled to be played on the Dumbarton courts but it was switched to Columbia at the last minute as its courts were in better condition.

Albert J. Gore, of Dumbarton, put up a great fight against Henry C. Breck, of Columbia, when these two met, and it took the latter three sets to dispose of Gore. When Gore is going well, he is a mighty hard man to beat and he certainly was right in form yesterday, especially in the first set which he took 7-5. He really outplayed Breck in this set, but the latter solved his game in the next two and took them, 6-1 and 6-3.

Another good singles match was that between Norris W. McLean, of Columbia, and R. R. Candor, of Dumbarton, the former winning after three hard sets, 7-5, 6-4 and 6-3. Both showed some good Giants and Macks Have Not Changed Managers in 10 Years.

During the last ten years in baseball every team in the National and American leagues, with the exception of the Philadelphia Athletics and the New York Giants, have had two or more managers.

Ten years ago John McGraw was managing the Giants and Connie Mack was leading the Athletics. These two men are still piloting those teams, and bid fair to do so for many years to come.

McGraw started his career with the Giants in 1903. Under him the New Yorkers won the National League pennant in 1904 and 1905 and the world's title in 1905. They lost the National League championship in 1906 because of Merkle's famous "boner," and finished third in 1909. In 1910 the Giants finished second, and were first in 1911, 1912 and 1913. The Giants lost the world's series with the Philadelphia Athletics in 1911, lost to the Boston Red Sox in 1912, and in 1913 were again beaten by the Athletics for the big honors. In 1914 the Giants were noosed out in the pennant fight by the Braves after the latter had made a scintillating finish. In 1915, for the first time in McGraw's management, they finished in the cellar.

Connie Mack organized the Athletics in 1901. They won the American League championship in 1902, 1905, 1910, 1911, 1913 and 1914. They also captured the world's title in 1910 from the Cubs and from the Giants in 1911 and 1912. Last year they finished last, for the first time in their career.

Sidelights Seen and Heard on The Road With Griffen

By WILLIAM PEET.

The sixteen-player limit rule. Once more I was shipped to Fargo, where I finished the season with a good record. Cantillon sold me to Washington and I joined the Nationals in Philadelphia, on September 6, 1915.

Dumont's history is the history of an ambitious boy, who set out with the determination of some day being a major league pitcher. How well he has succeeded is well known to Washington fans who have seen the youngster in action.

Mary McHale, Tris Speaker, and Clyde Engel, members of the Cleveland Indians, are living at the Hollenden Hotel, where the Nationals are lodging.

Speaker has already invited Griff to come to Cleveland as his guest next October for the world's series.

Griff's reply cannot be printed, it was so sarcastic that Speaker refused to come back with a retort.

When the Nationals reach Chicago tomorrow it is expected that McGovern, the big Knox College southpaw twirler, will join the club. McGovern will either make or break Nick Atrock as a scout, for Nick declares he will stake his reputation that his protégé will make good.

McGovern is known here in Cleveland and nothing but good reports have been heard about his work.

Carl Sawyer is making his first Western trip with the Griffen and the young comedian has been so well advertised that he will need no introduction to the fans of Chicago or St. Louis.

Sawyer's work in the East has brought him a whole lot of newspaper notoriety—columns have been printed about the youngster's ability, his acrobatic stunts, etc., and as Carl always does his best work on the road, he will be a marked man during the remainder of his baseball career.

BUSINESS LOSES TO EASTERN NINE

Tomlin's Effective Pitching Puts the Capitol Hill Team Nearer Championship.

CENTRAL BEATS WESTERN

By JACK EASTER.

Due to the effective pitching of Tomlin, Eastern High School tightened its hold on first position in the high school series yesterday by defeating the Business nine at the American League Park by a 2-to-0 score.

The Central nine broke the tie for second honors by trimming the Western team in a hotly fought game by 3 to 1.

Eastern meets Western in its final game of the series on Tuesday afternoon, and a victory will clinch the pennant for the Capitol Hill team. Should Eastern lose to Western and Central wins from Technical on this date, the O Streeters and the Capitol Hill team will be tied for first honors.

Eastern, 3; Business, 2

Business started the scoring against Eastern in the first, when B. Wise, the first man up, singled to center, stole second and scored on T. Wise's infield tap, which was fielded badly. T. Wise made second when Tomlin fumbled his easy grounder.

After this Tomlin developed a wild streak and forced in another run. Outside of this Tomlin pitched airtight ball all the way, striking out nine and holding Business to four hits.

Eastern tied the score in the second, when Hardy got a life on an error, made third on Boettler's hit to right, and both scored on Litchfield's sharp single to center.

The score remained a tie until the ending of the eighth, when Eastern managed to push a run across when Tomlin started things going with a single to right. Fiabery advanced him with his single to right. Lanahan got a life when Keech fumbled his grounder. Thomas, the next man up, forced Tomlin at home, and Fiabery was later caught on a throw. Lanahan scored the winning run when Hardy singled through short. Score:

MEDAL PLAY EVENT TO J. D. CASSELLS

J. Donald Cassells yesterday afternoon won the regular Saturday event at the Chevy Chase Club with a net 24. This was an excellent medal play event, Casselle making the round in 88 with a 12 handicap.

W. G. Peter, with 88-9-78, was second, while Reeve Lewis and A. G. Lott tied for third with net 75. Lewis had a gross 88, with 9 off, while Lott took 80 strokes, but was handicapped at 14.

Twenty-three players entered the event, but the following scores were the only ones turned in:

J. D. Cassells, 88
W. G. Peter, 88-9-78
A. G. Lott, 80
Reeve Lewis, 85
E. M. Talcott, 82
G. T. Smith, 80
Dr. B. Miller, 80
J. M. Chamberlain, 79
George Richards, 78

Mrs. W. E. Shannon Lands Columbia Putting Contest

Mrs. William E. Shannon yesterday afternoon won the women's tournament played on the putting course of the Columbia Country Club, beating Mrs. Cranford in an extra-hole match in the final round. This victory gives her the first leg on the trophy put up by President Kimmons S. Smith, which must be won three times before becoming the permanent property of the winner.

Mrs. Sinclair won the consolation with Mrs. Gott as runner-up. The score was 3 up and 1. Mrs. Sinclair getting a good lead just after the turn and clinching matters from that time until the match ended. The summaries:

Preliminary round—Mrs. McLachlen defeated Mrs. VanLeer, 3 up and 2; Mrs. Williams defeated Mrs. Nottingham, 2 up and 1; Mrs. Graves defeated Mrs. MacKenzie, 4 up and 2; Mrs. Cohen defeated Mrs. Keene, 3 up and 1; Mrs. Evans defeated Mrs. Siebold, 3 up and 1; Mrs. Brabany defeated Mrs. Sinclair, 3 up and 1.

First round—Mrs. Patterson defeated Mrs. Smith, 2 up and 1; Mrs. Shannon defeated Mrs. Gott, 1 up (9 holes); Mrs. Cranford defeated Mrs. Phelps, 4 up and 3; Mrs. Simpson defeated Mrs. MacLaughlin, 2 up and 1; Mrs. Winter defeated Mrs. L.

Nationals So Far Have Proved to Be Poor Road Club, Winning But One Game.

COMMENT OF LOCALS

Chicago, June 10.—With the first Western invasion half over, and only one victory to the credit of the Nationals so far, a decided brace must be taken by the club to return home in the first division in the game.

The Griffen, as a rule, are a fine road club. They play only fair ball at home. Conditions are reverse of this year and Manager Griffith is trying every possible combination in the hopes of getting his team back into its winning stride.

Just why Roudreau was not permitted to play today is not quite clear. For Roudreau has been hitting the ball hard ever since the Detroit series. Kid Jamieson was in left field and drove in the Nationals' only run. With Roudreau in right, surely more hitting strength would have been added, yet the Old Fox could not see it that way.

Moeller pulled a "boner" when he pitched upon catching that foul fly in the fifth inning, Jackson scoring from third on the put-out. He was actually very near the plate than he actually was, and probably thought he could easily throw out a runner from third, but he didn't, and that tally put the White Sox in the game.

Eddie Foster's weak hitting has also handicapped the Nationals a whole lot. The little third sacker does not stir his troubles, but it is known that his left wrist is bothering him, for the reason that he has never been able to give it the proper rest cure, and every time he tags a runner he sets back the sprained wrist just so much.

"If I could only get the blamed thing well I would be better off at present it is impossible for me to grip and take a good healthy swing at the ball. I have to try and poke it safely and also try to get on the bases by waiting out the pitcher," said Foster when questioned by the writer.

A party of Ed Garrity's friends from Beloit, Wis., the catcher's home town, attended today's game and cheered for the Nationals.

Dumont explained how he happened to hit Weaver and force in the Sox's winning run as follows:

"I tried to curve the ball over the plate so that it would come in on a Weaver, forcing him to hit up a popfly from the handle of the bat, but I started the curve too close and as a result the ball hit him. I was the sorest man in seven States when it happened and only hope Griffith gives me another chance to work against this club, for I feel sure I can beat them."

Jim Shaw looked pretty good during the short time he was on the rubber. Had it not been for Shaw's own bad play in the ninth it is doubtful if he would have been yanked out.

For the second game of the series tomorrow Doc Avers probably will be named to face the White Sox. Faber, who beat the Griffen in Washington last month, will be the Chicago pitcher.

Quite a lot of rain fell on the outfield in a soft condition and in addition a high wind was blowing, yet the fielders on both clubs played great ball and many difficult catches were made.

An absurd story printed in one of the Cleveland newspapers last Friday formed the public that the reason the Indians batted Harper so hard during the early innings of Thursday's game was that the Cleveland boys got out on Harper's pitching signals and knew what was coming up.

As a matter of fact the Washington batter signals are so perfectly covered up that no player in the world can detect them.

Harper did not have a thing—his curve he could not control, and his fast one came over the plate as straight as a string.

If Harper had worked the stuff he displayed against Detroit last night the Indians would have been helpless before him.

The throwing out of Griffith's protest of the game won by Detroit last Sunday was in a measure expected, and the incident is closed, but there is another matter which the Old Fox should take up with Ben Johnson when he returns to Chicago that demands the attention of the league chief.

Griff is going to institute a campaign against the use of the so-called "beating" by certain pitchers in the American League, and he should be put out of the game and fined in every instance, says Griff. "That will soon stop the practice, which is most dangerous to batsmen."

"There are one or two pitchers who would do it intentionally, but I am satisfied that the recent 'beating' of one of my men was intentional, because this particular player was warned of the danger by this particular pitcher was after him."

The first day the Nationals reached Cleveland Griff put himself on record by saying that "Chic" Gandil had won the "Tuscan" yesterday. Kolehmainen, the Old Fox evidently knew what Gandil spoke, as was demonstrated in Thursday's game, when Gandil came across with four hits out of five times up, and just about made it possible for the Indians to tie the score.
