OLD COINS MARK PHILATELIC SALE

Auction Takes Place of Trip to Congressional Library.

Instead of a visit to the Congressional Library, as originally scheduled, the members of the Southern Philatelic Association last night held an official auction of old stamps and coins and other rarities connected with their business. The auction was held in the oak room of the Raleigh Hotel, which is the convention headquarters.

The evening's business was under the direction of W. F. Gregory, of New York. Many old coins and old and new stamps were sold, ranging from $5 to more than $50 each in value.

The convention opened yesterday morning with election of officers. The following were selected for the ensuing year:

President, C. W. Kissinger; vice president, William Lycoett; secretary, C. V. Webb; treasurer, E. L. Fisher; international secretary, H. E. Klotzberg; board of trustees, C. W. Arr. O. G. Beardslee, C. S. Lewis; sales manager, J. E. Guest; auction manager, M. Ohlman; exchange manager, E. F. Wallis; purchase manager, P. M. Lawrence; counterfeiter detector, J. B. Leavy and librarian, W. R. Ricketts.

Following the election the delegates listened to an address by Director Ralph of the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, Albert E. Gorham, president of the Washington branch of the association, delivered the address of welcome.

Tomorrow the convention will resume in earnest. The morning session will be taken up with speeches by various officers and government officials. In the afternoon there will be a reception in the White House. And in the evening they will hold the annual banquet of the association at their headquarters.

Although known as the Southern Philatelic Association the organization is really a national one. There are delegates here from all parts of the country. Many women are also in attendance.

YARD WAGES INCREASE.

More Men Employed Than Ever Before.

Secretary of the Navy Daniels yesterday stated that the navy yards of the country employ more men now than ever before in the entire history of the United States.

In July, 1916, there were 24,333 men employed in the different yards. In June, 1915, there were only 15,838 men. The total daily pay roll of these employes in 1913 was $46,077.35 as against $78,912 of July 1, 1916. Secretary Daniels also points out that the wages have been materially increased.

RESCUES CRUISER SWEETHEART Saved From Flames By Navigation Motor Tarragon.

The Bureau of Navigation has received a report telling of the rescue of the speed cruiser Sweetheart by the navigation motor tarragon in Jamaica Bay on the evening of August 3.

The Sweetheart was first noticed to be on fire and in distress when the Tarragon was about a quarter of a mile distant, the tender being absent on other duty, fire fighting apparatus was put aboard a row boat and towed by a passing motor boat to the distressed vessel.

The Sweetheart is owned by Mr. J. J. Hanson, of New York, vice commander of the Jamaica Bay Yacht Club.

CABINET SEES ITSELF IN MOTION PICTURES

President Wilson, Vice President Marshall and Campaign Committee Shown on Screen.

Members of the President's Cabinet saw themselves as motion picture actors yesterday afternoon at Keith's Theater, where a private exhibition was given of the first film issued by the Motion Picture Forum of which C. R. McCauley, the distinguished capitalist, is the head. The exhibition was given by Vice President Marshall and the Cabinet officers, together with Chairman Vance McCormick and the other officers of the Democratic national committee were the principal figures in the film.

A regular program had been prepared by Mr. McCauley for his guests. The first was a film cartoon comedy. Then came a picture of former President William Howard Taft telling Mark Twain's famous dog story.

The exhibition concluded with a showing of the portrait bust of President Wilson which was recently made by Joseph Davidson, an sculptor, with pictures of Mr. Davidson and his studio.

Mr. McCauley was in personal charge of the exhibition. His special guests were Secretary of State Lansing, Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo, Secretary of the Navy Daniels, Postmaster General Burleson and many officers of the various government bureaus, the army and navy and members of the House and Senate and the Democratic national committee who were in the city.

PLANS TWO MORE JUDGES FOR D. C.

Favorable Report on Bill to Increase Supreme Court of District.

The Carlin bill, providing two additional justices for the Supreme Court of the District was favorably reported by the House Judiciary Committee yesterday.

The bill is over a year behind in some of the dockets and the increase of the judiciary was recommended by Chief Justice Covington.

Representative Rainey could not get action by the Ways and Means Committee on his bill designed to abolish the duties on mixed flour. The Illinois Representative claims the passage of this bill would operate to increase the size of the 5-cent loaf of bread and prevent an increase in price. The bill may be considered later in committee, as a motion to defer action until the next Congress failed of passage.

The Webb bill designed to promote the export trade of the United States by permitting American exporters to form associations and combinations to promote their foreign business was favorably reported by the Judiciary Committee. It is expressly provided that its terms apply only to foreign business.

London, Aug. 15.—Large numbers of British prisoners of war in Germany have been sent into that part of Russia held by Germany to do menial labor, Lord Robert Cecil stated in commons today.

Hebrews Plan Straw Ride.

The Perpetual Hebrew Association is planning a straw ride to Baltimore. The matter was considered at a meeting held at 1131 Tenth street northwest.

$46,000 WILL PROBATED.

Requests of Mrs. Ella Merchant Announced.

In the will of Mrs. Ella Merchant, made out February 2, 1916, which was filed for probate yesterday, her brother Henry W. Robinson, receives $10,000 which he is instructed to hold in trust until his death and then give to his sons, Katherine McCluny and Louise S. Woodward, nieces, receive $3,000 each for the estate. Kate Merchant and Frank I. Merchant, sister-in-law and brother-in-law, jointly receive $10,000.

Ten thousand dollars are also left to Mary E. Mullet, which she is to hold in trust for two nephews, Julia N. Robinson and her children receive the rest of the estate. Mrs. Robinson is named as executrix.

SOUTHWICK PLEADS NOT GUILTY OF FAKE "ADS"

Attorney Asks Court for Continuance of Case, Pleading Illness of Chief Counsel.

Henry G. Southwick entered Police Court yesterday morning with his attorney, H. K. Acker, and pleaded not guilty to the charge of fake advertising.

Judge Mulowny was asked by counsel for Southwick to continue the case until September 11, stating that chief counsel for Southwick, Frank Smith, is ill. Judge Mulowny decreed that if Attorney Acker could produce a physician's certificate to that effect that he would grant the continuance. Attorney Acker was given a week in which to get the certificate.

Miss Weedon Improving.

Physicians in charge of Miss Virginia Weedon, of Occoquan, Va., who was severely injured Sunday, when her hair caught in the driving shaft of the propeller of Frederick Woodyard's motor boat near Occoquan, say that she has improved somewhat. Her scalp was torn off during the accident.

CHARGES PRESENCE OF WATER POWER LOBBY

Resolution to Investigate Rumors That Special Interests Are Working to Pass Shields Bill.

Representative Smith, of Minnesota, asked for an investigation by a House committee of intimated charges that an insidious lobby was working at the Capitol in the interest of the Shields and Myers water power bills, in a resolution introduced yesterday.

The resolution says that the water power bills would give away valuable natural rights which the United States possesses and declares that it is common talk that a powerful lobby is working to effect their final passage.

The commission to investigate the charges would be composed of five members and would be authorized to hold hearings, subpoena witnesses and report to Congress not later than January, 1917.

The Shields bill has already passed both houses of Congress and is in conference with a report scheduled for the next session.

MANY USE NATIONAL FOREST PLAYGROUNDS

Increasing use of the national forests for municipal camp sites and summer school locations is reported by the Forest Service. Permits have already been issued to several cities and educational institutions and other applications are expected. Officials say that far more people use the forests for public playgrounds than for any other purpose, and that this use promises to be one of the most important to which they can be put. Fresno, Calif., has been granted a permit for the use of a fifteen-acre camp on the shores of Huntington Lake, in the Sierra National Forest. A camp for outings during summer months will be provided at low cost for 11,000 school children and their parents. Oil of cedar is one of the anti-mosquito drugs.

Notes of Camp Ordway

By WATSON DAVIS.

Mrs. G. J. Allen and Mary Elizabeth Allen, 2 years old, will meet Sergt. G. J. Allen, of the regimental Sanitary Troops, at Bisbee when the regiment gets there. Mary Elizabeth says that she certainly is glad that "daddy" is going to let her go to the border with him, even though she won't be able to ride on the same train with him.

Lieut. William J. Bacon, of Company G, has a shirt that hangs at his knees. At the elbow the sleeves are attached by buttons, and in very hot weather the lower half of the sleeves are worn hanging on his tent.

The chilly nights at the camp have made the sentries look like the cutposts of an Indian encampment. The sentries have wrapped themselves in olive-drab army blankets and have walked post without shivering.

Private Melvin Childs, of Battery A, has been limping around the camp on crutches. The other day while on a horseback ride, his steed shied at a piece of paper in the road, and in the mix-up he was kicked in the right leg by the horse that his companion was riding. Childs is not badly injured, and will soon recover.

Private H. L. Smith, of Battery A, was not continually waiting at his comrades, as many thought, the other day. He was stung just under the eye by a bee, while he was trying to wrest a big, ripe plum from the tree, and the bee didn't approve of it.

Private Roy Beasley, of Company G, is willing to wrestle any militiaman his weight. He weighs about 130 pounds, he says.

Private Phillip Talbert, of Battery A, who has been on sick leave in the city for two weeks is back at camp. He says that camp life, even with its many hardships, is better than being sick.

Every little while the men of Battery A are principals in an exciting, but harmless, runaway. Private E. J. Black has been started out on a run for about two miles before Private Paul Pirrone finally stopped him.

Jesse H. Wilson, Jr., a lawyer of this city, is a recent recruit to Troop A.

R. M. Cathcart who has been assistant chief cook and bottle washer for Troop A for several weeks is congratulating himself on being relieved. Simon Allen, former regular trooper of Troop D, has enlisted and been assigned to kitchen detail. Capt. Washburn praised Cathcart for his loyalty to the kitchen, and the men say that his cooking has been just as good and better than that they got at home.

Father Leo Cull celebrated Assumption for the Catholic militiamen at 5 o'clock mass in the chapel at Fort Myer yesterday morning. Mass was also said for James Spaulding, the victim of the accidental shooting on Sunday.

Due to the efforts of Private Wade P. Lane, of Company H, seven prominent music dealers of Washington have made liberal gifts of needles and records for the company's phonograph.

Charles E. Robinson, a civil engineer in the valuation department of the Pennsylvania Railroad stationed at Philadelphia, has enlisted in Troop A.

Because the troop did not entrain on Monday as expected, Private Mark Ingle lost a two pound box of candy to Private J. B. Mulford on a bet.

Bridge guard instead of being a bore to the cavalymen is now one of the most desired details. When a trooper is seen carefully dressed in his best olive-drab, he is asked if he is on bridge guard. Stationed at the Virginia end of Aqueduct Bridge, the sentry has a chance to see all the pretty girls that enter Virginia over that route. The names of those who most desire bridge guard are not mentioned as it might cause embarrassment.

Former Sergt. L. L. Krentzlin, of Troop A, has sent out notices calling a meeting of former members of the troop in order to form a Troop A Veteran Association.

Solons Will Speak at Festival. The committee in charge of the second carnival and tournament of the congregation of Esther Memorial Church has obtained the services of Senator J. Walter Smith, of Maryland and Representative C. C. Carlin, of Virginia, as speakers for the exercises which will be held in Wilson Park, Anacostia, on the afternoon and evening of August 24.
