

CLAIM NEW YORK FOR PRESIDENT

All Empire State Democrats Will Support Wilson Say Leaders.

(By the International News Service.) New York, Aug. 16.—I believe that every regular Democratic organization man will loyally support President Wilson for re-election and that he will carry New York State, said Chairman McCormick, of the Democratic National Committee on his return from the White House today.

SPELLBINDERS START FOR MAINE CAMPAIGN

Clark Opens for Democrats Saturday. Republicans Will Send Roosevelt and Fairbanks Later.

(By the International News Service.) New York, Aug. 16.—Charles W. Fairbanks, Vice Presidential candidate on the Republican ticket, and Col. Theodore Roosevelt will throw their oratorical force into the Maine campaign today. Mr. Fairbanks will speak in the far Eastern State on September 4, the dates for the Colonel have not yet been announced.

New York, Aug. 16.—About fifteen members of the Progressive party will take the stump in Maine for the Democratic ticket, it was announced today at Democratic national headquarters. Among them will be Bainbridge Colby, E. T. Tuttle, national committeeman from Rhode Island, and Matthew Hale. Mr. Colby will open at Portland next Monday.

Speaker Champ Clark will also work for the Democratic party in Maine and will deliver an address at Augusta on Saturday.

The Democrats are preparing to send a number of women speakers into Maine. Among them will be State Senator Helen Robinson, of Colorado.

John I. Thrashed by Woman. New York, Aug. 16.—John I. Sullivan, a burglar, failed to live up to his name when Mrs. Pecosca caught him in her apartment. She thrashed him soundly and turned him over to the police.

WHAT DYSPETICS SHOULD EAT

A PHYSICIAN'S ADVICE.
Indigestion and practically all forms of stomach trouble arise many times out of ten, due to acidity; therefore stomach sufferers should, whenever possible, avoid eating food that is acid in its nature, or which by chemical action in the stomach develops acidity. Unfortunately, such a rule eliminates most foods which are pleasant to the taste as well as those which are rich in blood, flesh and nerve-building properties. This is the reason why dyspeptics and stomach sufferers are usually so thin, emaciated and lacking in that vital energy which can only come from a well-fed body.

For the benefit of those sufferers who have been obliged to exclude from their diet all starchy, sweet or fatty food, and are trying to keep up a miserable existence on starchy products, I would suggest that you should try a meal of any food or foods which may be obtained in moderate amounts immediately afterwards a teaspoonful of bisurated magnesia in a little hot or cold water. This will neutralize any acid which may be present, or which may be formed, and instead of the usual feeling of uneasiness and fullness, you will find that your food agrees with you perfectly.

I know of nothing better than plain bisurated magnesia as a food corrector and antacid. It has no direct action on the stomach; but by neutralizing the acidity of the food contents, and thus removing the source of the acid irritation which inflames the delicate stomach lining, it does more than could possibly be done by any drug or medicine.

As a physician, I believe in the use of medicine whenever necessary, but I must admit that I cannot see the sense of dosing an inflamed and irritated stomach with drugs instead of getting rid of the acid—the cause of the trouble. Get a little bisurated magnesia from your druggist, eat what you want at your next meal, take some of the bisurated magnesia as directed above, and see if I'm not right.—Adv.

Elks Requested Not to Take Children to Pennsylvania Meeting.

Harrisburg, Pa., Aug. 16.—The State department of health today sent letters to State officers of the E. P. O. Elks asking them to instruct the various lodges in Pennsylvania not to take children under 18 years of age to the State convention, which opens in Reading August 28. The department made the request in an effort to check the spread of infantile paralysis in Pennsylvania.

COUPLE WED BY TRANCE MESSAGE

Spiritualist Mother of Bride Conducts Ceremony and Imparts Mystic Blessing.

Special to The Washington Herald. New York, Aug. 16.—Married by a spirit message, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Koch began housekeeping today at No. 114 Hudson street, Jersey City, with the "blessing of Alhambra" as the sanction for their wedding. This was truly a wedding of the spirit and the message making them one was taken down at the ceremony in a trance by Mrs. Annie Stewart, who is the head of the Mount Pittsford Spiritualist church.

Mrs. Marquette Pols, of No. 4 Manhattan avenue, mother of the bride, is an ardent Spiritualist, and it was on her insistence that the young people had a spirit ceremony instead of going to the Rev. A. F. Bender, a Dutch Reformed Church minister, as they had intended.

The wedding was performed in the parlor of the Pols home.

"We ask the Father that His best blessings on your every path attend. You have all the years that span your life, with all the joys and changes and strife.

"I, as spirit, pronounce you husband and wife, and give you my blessing.

Those not in the cult did not learn just what the authority of Alhambra in the spirit world was, but Mrs. Pols is satisfied that her daughter is sure of happiness with such an unusual inspiration at the bestowing of her marital life.

Political Notes

Chairman Willcox, of the Republican national committee, describes the Maine campaign as a "race to the bottom."

"There are side issues in the Maine campaign not entirely political. One of these is State-wide prohibition versus local option. The prohibition question has a figure in Maine elections for more than half a century, and has made and unmade many political fortunes. It will be a factor in this year's fight.

"Of course, there are other issues. The tariff is one of them. Maine always has been a protectionist State. In the 1914 campaign the tariff, which had practically the same protective features for Maine industries as a tariff, eliminated the tariff question from the campaign, although it was well understood that the Underwood tariff was rapidly putting the country into a distressing business condition. It is well understood, too, that with the close of the war a protective tariff will have to be restored or Maine industries will go to smash.

"The sectionalism of the present administration does not set well in Maine, and I am told the Mexican and foreign policies of the President are regarded with little respect."

Mr. Willcox points to the fact that the combined Republican and Progressive vote four years ago was 23,925 in excess of the Democratic vote, and that in 1914 Progressive vote in the State dropped from 48,483 to 17,860.

"The Progressive vote today, I am told," he says, "is practically merged with the Republican, and if this information is correct we may reasonably expect to carry the State all along the line."

Oshkosh, Wis., Aug. 16.—Congressman Michael J. Reilly returns next week from Washington to take up his fight for re-nomination and election. The primary contest will not be bitter but former Representative James H. Davidson, Republican nominee, expects to put the District once more in the Hughes column and will have the assistance of the Republican congressional committee in his effort.

Boston, Aug. 16.—Former Representative Lewis R. Sullivan of Dorchester withdrew from the fight for the Democratic nomination for Congress in the Twelfth District which leaves Congressman James A. Gallivan, unopposed.

Lewiston, Me., Aug. 16.—For the first time in the history of Maine politics the active campaigning for the State election in September will be conducted in the open air. Both Republicans and Democrats have decided to use the street corners, squares and parks for open air rallies and the campaign will be the liveliest conducted in years.

Salt Lake City, Utah, Aug. 16.—After twelve years service in Congress, Representative Joseph Howell has been turned down for re-nomination by the Republican state convention. Timothy C. Hoyt is favored for the nomination in the First District. Charles R. Mabey was named as the nominee in the Second District.

Milwaukee, Wis., Aug. 16.—Congressman Cary, ranking Republican member of the District of Columbia House committee is in the midst of a bitter fight for re-election. He is opposed by W. R. Gaylord, a Socialist and the contest just now is very even. Cary won two years ago by several hundred votes.

Chicago, Aug. 16.—Roger C. Sullivan, former Democratic national committeeman from Illinois, will not take an active part in the management of the western campaign headquarters of the Democratic national committee in Chicago this fall, according to a report today. None of his political friends will get positions in the headquarters, according to the same report.

According to the story, friends of President Wilson blame Mr. Sullivan for Raymond Robins' support of Hughes, despite the fact that representatives of Mr. Sullivan offered the support of the regular State Democratic organization to Mr. Robins if he would run for governor against Edward F. Dunne, the present incumbent.

Formal notification to President Wilson of his nomination will take place September 2. Arrangements have been made for the President to go to Long Branch, N. J., for the ceremony.

Boston, Aug. 16.—Gov. McCall has filed papers as a candidate for re-nomination on the Republican ticket in the September primaries.

FORMER PATIENTS TO FIGHT PLAGUE

District Health Department Asks Blood of Previous Sufferers for Remedy.

The District Health Department will launch, within a short time, a city-wide campaign to obtain the names of former infantile paralysis sufferers. Health Officer Woodward said yesterday.

All previous plague patients will be listed with the idea of calling upon them for donations of blood to be used in the new paralysis treatment.

It is believed that the blood of those who have recovered from the disease contains combative qualities that will assist other patients in nature's fight on the disease.

The blood treatment is new, having only been in use for a few weeks. While it is not heralded as a cure, the authorities say it is absolutely harmless and of much benefit in many cases.

"New York is experiencing what probably is the greatest epidemic of the disease that the world has known," Dr. Woodward said, "but I see no danger of it spreading to Washington."

Dr. Woodward will attend the conference of health officials from all parts of the country which convenes at the headquarters of the Public Health Service this morning at 10 o'clock. Dr. W. C. Burker will preside.

Secretary McAdon will be the principal speaker at this morning's session. Thirty-eight States have sent official delegates and the railroads of the East will have representatives present.

A new case of the scourge was reported to the local authorities yesterday. Francis Anderson, a 12-year-old boy, living at 125 Florida avenue, is the victim.

EMERGENCY BILL BEFORE SENATE

Measure Designed to Raise $205,000,000—Opposition May Delay Passage.

Senator Simmons for the Committee on Finance reported the emergency revenue bill to the Senate yesterday.

The committee held a final session before reporting the bill with Senators Smoot and Penrose, Republican members of the committee, in attendance. Their opposition to the legislation was nullified by a straight party vote, which found the seven Democratic members supporting the measure.

The bill is designed to raise $205,000,000 in additional revenue, and has been so generally amended that more than 25 per cent of the House provisions are not included in the draft.

The last amendment tacked on prohibits the admission of fresh or frozen halibut or salmon from the North Pacific Ocean or its tributary waters into the United States through any foreign country except under bond from an American port.

Senator Underwood will oppose those sections of the bill which provide for the creation of a tariff commission and fix a tax on dyestuffs. His opposition is based on the fact that the sections are in conflict with the Democratic doctrine of free trade.

Senator Phelan, of California, will oppose the wine schedule. Senator O'Dorman criticizes the increases in the income tax. Senator Chamberlain will fight the tax on lumber, and Senators Ashurst, of Arizona, and Pittman, of Nevada, will fight the tax on copper.

These Democratic Senators with the Republicans who will fight the measure may delay the passage of the bill for days and retard the adjournment of Congress. Democratic Senators are not bound by the action of their caucus and are at liberty to oppose any and all provisions of the measure.

The Republicans expect to be able to voice all their opposition to the new taxes in four legislative days.

Under agreement, workmen's compensation and other minor bills will be taken up in the Senate and acted upon before the emergency bill is called for debate, in order to give Republicans a chance to study its provisions.

James Tinney, 35, of Elvira, Ohio, says he will dance a jig on his 100th birthday.

Notes of Camp Ordway

BY WATSON DAVIS.

With vaudeville, sharpshooting and boxing matches, the noncoms' party held Tuesday night in the Administration Building at Fort Myer was an evening of relaxation for every noncommissioned officer of the Third Infantry. Several hundred of the chevronsed soldiers composed the audience that applauded the music of the Third Infantry band, and the "stunts" on the stage. First Sgt. B. H. Streeks, president, was in general charge of the affair, and was assisted by the other officers, Sgt. Archibald King, secretary, and Sgt. Harlan Frey, treasurer. The refreshment committee that arranged for the buffet supper was headed by First Sgt. James F. Sayre, of Company L.

Sgt. Milo Atkinson, of Company D, shot cigarettes, and other small objects, out of the mouth of hands of Corporal James R. Quide, at the noncoms' party. He also drew a portrait of Gen. Harvey with bullet holes, a feat that only the most expert shot can accomplish.

Among those who were on the program at the noncoms' party were: Corporal Crevelinga, Company L; Private Robertson, Company A; Private Nixon, Company L; Trumpeter Earl Wheeler, Company L; Private Tony Rosetta, Machine Gun Company; Private Morris Welsh; Private Frank Fisher, Sgt. L. D. Addison, Private William J. Goddard, Corporal M. F. Emmert, all of Company G.

The following men boxed: Kid McCauley, Company E; Frank J. McAbby, Company A; Clark Young and Dick Seaby, regulars from the post.

Col. Glendie B. Young, commanding the Third Infantry, has purchased a Kentucky saddle horse, named "Pat." He made the purchase through Mounted Orderly H. A. Hall, of the headquarters company, from a horse dealer of Nokesville, Va.

In the tent of Lieut. Col. Anton Stephan can be seen all the latest novelties in camp equipment. His latest tent ornament is an unbreakable steel mirror. It is made with a highly polished metal surface and must be kept in a plush case. Col. Stephan is taking no chances on seven years of bad luck.

"Step in, ladies and gentlemen, see the educated files," should be the call heard from the cook tents of Companies I and H. Second Cook H. T. Fecuson and his fellow cooks have trained files to juggle dumb bells made of cork and staw.

Troop A has an all-university chess club. Each singer was in a college club during his college days. Its members are Corporal W. J. Souler, University of Pennsylvania; Trooper J. B. Bulkeley and Thomas Heald, University of Virginia; and Victor C. Oimsted, Cornell.

The acting major and senior captain of the St. John's College Cadets is now in Company H. He is Corporal W. J. Ahern. If he goes back next year to finish his course there he will be a major, but he is going to stick with the militia if a start is finally made for the border.

David Bloom, a former member of Troop B, Second Cavalry, has enlisted in Troop A as a blacksmith.

Private Ludwick Fowler, of Company H, company cartoonist, used Lance Corporal Claude Huff, of Company H, as a subject for a cartoon, so Corporal Huff thinks. It was a picture of two corporal stripes. Anyhow, Huff didn't like the public display of his ambitions.

Private Thomas J. Donovan has been transferred from headquarters to Company M.

Company G has green, white and gray as its company colors. Josiah Gray has just been made a corporal. Private Bernard Green enlisted recently, and the third member of the combination is Private William White.

Private Henry P. Ewing has been made corporal in Company G.

Private Bernard Tomlinson, of Company H, before he joined the militia was assistant advertising agent for Pol's Theater.
