

Of a newspaper's success is the circulation record. The one big, outstanding fact about the newspaper situation in Washington is that the increase in the circulation of The Washington Herald has broken all records and now has the largest circulation ever gathered together in this city.

Decide the big advertisers in their selection of newspapers—will their ads be read, and how many will read them. The opportunity for uninterfered advertising is the one thing that is the deciding factor with the big advertisers in Philadelphia, Boston, Baltimore, and others of the large cities. More and more they are using the MORNING papers with the LARGEST circulation.

U. S. CRUISER, DRIVEN ASHORE, TOTAL WRECK; TWENTY LIVES LOST

Memphis Hurlled Onto Rocks by Sudden Ground Swell in Santo Domingo Harbor.

The following message was received by cable at the Navy Department at 11:34 o'clock last night from Admiral Pond: "Memphis driven ashore by heavy swell at Santo Domingo, Aug. 29. Light house at 4:30 p. m. She is lying close under bluff. Has lines ashore and is getting crew off. Heavy sea came up very suddenly. Ship was unable to get steam in time to save her. "Twenty men of the liberty party were drowned on their way back to the ship. Castine dragged close in, but did not strike and got out to sea. No other casualties known. Memphis will be total loss. Expect to save everybody on board." The Castine is a United States gunboat.

Santo Domingo, Aug. 29.—The United States cruiser Memphis, formerly the Tennessee, was driven on the rocks off the outer harbor today by a sudden and gigantic ground swell. It is believed that many lives have been lost. The vessel was literally hurled from the waters onto the rocks. All the fires beneath the boiler were extinguished by the sudden inrush of water. This left her at the mercy of the sea. The United States gunboat Castine escaped a similar fate by putting to sea. The two warships were units in the cruiser squadron of Rear Admiral Charles F. Pond. The squadron has been in West Indian waters several months, due to the unsettled internal conditions on Haiti. The Memphis was the flagship of the squadron. There have been serious weather disturbances throughout the West Indies for the past few days. These culminated today in a swell which played havoc with shipping. The harbor here is considered one of the most dangerous road leads in the world. It is open and affords but little protection to ships.

COLE L. BLEASE TO FIGHT FOR ELECTION

Returns for Carolina Primary Coming In Slowly.

Columbia, S. C., Aug. 29.—One-third of the expected vote reported unofficially in the Statewide Democratic primary shows that former Gov. Cole L. Blease will make a second race for the gubernatorial nomination against Richard I. Manning, the incumbent, or Robert A. Cooper. Blease has a long lead over his opponents, but apparently lacks the majority necessary for nomination. Cooper is slightly ahead of Gov. Manning and the latter may get the place in the second primary. The vote at 9:30 o'clock stood: Blease, 10,669; Cooper, 10,712; Manning, 10,842; J. H. Deschamps, 1,220; John T. Duncan, 96. The indications were that A. J. Bethea, lieutenant governor, had been nominated over Dr. E. C. L. Adams, his opponent. Samuel T. Carter was renominated for State treasurer over D. V. McLaughlin, and William B. Dove seemed to be certain of nomination for secretary of state over W. G. Wightman. With James Casler and Albert S. Funt as contenders, indications were that another primary will be necessary for railroad commission. G. McD. Hampton, the incumbent is out of the race. Other State officials are unopposed. Returns from the German municipalities, where six of the States' congressmen have opposition, were meagre. A. P. Lever in the Seventh district, was the only one unopposed.

GERMAN BOMB PLOTTER ESCAPES FROM PRISON

Lieut. Robert Fay Breaks Out of Atlanta Jail.

(By the International News Service.) Atlanta, Ga., Aug. 29.—Lieut. Robert Fay, convicted in the German munitions plot conspiracy in New York, escaped today from the Federal prison here. William Knoblock, another prisoner serving a sentence for using the mails to defraud, got away with Fay. Fay accomplished his escape with cleverness. There was a terrific thunder and lightning storm in the afternoon. Bolts struck at several points around the prison. Fay and Knoblock were employed in the prison as electricians. After the storm had subsided a bit, the two went to the guard at the great gate of the penitentiary. They had work kits under their arms and told him they were to repair electric wires outside the prison wall which had been struck by lightning. The guard questioned the two workmen and finally allowed them to pass outside. They made good their escape and had nearly two hours' start on the authorities before they were missed. No Smallpox at His Home. The statement printed yesterday that C. Raymond Embry had been removed to the smallest hospital from 714 Fifth street northwest was an error. There has been no smallpox in the house, which is occupied by W. S. Darden, a salesman.

In response to the urgent request of the American Newspaper Publishers' Association that newspapers eliminate all unnecessary waste and do everything in their power to lessen the present news print paper shortage, The Washington Herald will abolish all returns and free copies, beginning September 1. In order to prevent any disappointment, we suggest that your order be left with the agent, carrier or newsdealer at once for the daily and Sunday Washington Herald, as only the actual number of copies ordered will constitute each day's press run.

She was sent to Turkey to protect the interest of America during the Balkan war. At the beginning of the present war she went to Europe with $4,500,000 for the relief of refugee Americans.

ROUMANIANS HIT HUNGARIAN LINE AT THREE POINTS

Encircling Movement Forces Advanced Guards to Withdraw, Vienna Admits.

(By the International News Service.) London, Aug. 29.—Military developments have been rapidly following the announcement of Roumania's entrance into the war. Roumanian troops are striking against Hungary at three points, according to news reaching here tonight. King Ferdinand has gone to the front to join the general staff at main headquarters, having before his departure from Bucharest issued an order mobilizing all arms of the service. The following official statement from Vienna was received tonight: "At all the passes of the 23-mile Roumanian mountain frontier, our frontier guards engaged the enemy with success. Only an extensive encircling movement of strong Roumanian forces forced our advanced guards to withdraw, as had been planned, to prepared positions in the rear." On the frontier of Bukovina Roumanian and Russian troops already have effected a junction and are attacking the Austrians in the Carpathian foothills under the direction of the Russian general, Letchitzky. Preparations also are being made, it is stated in the "Parisien" of Paris, for the junction of Russian and Roumanian corps on the Danube. The first contact will be established, it is believed, at Tulcea, near the mouth of the Danube, on Roumanian soil. In the Transylvanian Alps, the Roumanians are meeting on Austro-Hungarian soil, but owing to the nature of the ground and the fact that the main forces have not yet come into collision, no important results have been attained. The objective of the Roumanian attack are three strongly fortified passes, Rohlenturm, Toerzburger and Toemoes, seizure of which would open the road to the important industrial cities of Kronstadt and Hermannstadt to the Roumanians.

PRINCESS ROBBED OF $2,000 BAR PIN HERE

Costly Heirloom Stolen in Capital City. Princess Kawananakoa, of 1744 N street northwest, widow of Prince David Kawananakoa, of Honolulu, who is on her way to Hawaii, discovered when she reached New York that a $2,000 bar pin had been robbed, prior to leaving Washington, of a platinum bar pin, set with three large white diamonds and a number of smaller ones, all totaling $2,000 in value. The pin is a family heirloom and came to the princess from her mother, when she made her debut at semi-royal function in her honor in Honolulu. The princess is 32 years old and spends much of her time in her Washington home during the sessions of Congress. The robbery was reported to the detective headquarters yesterday by Dr. Natham Boyd, of 1800 L street northwest, a friend. The letter reporting the robbery was sent by the princess to her maid, who remained in Washington. It directed the maid to report the case to Dr. Boyd with the request that he place the matter in the hands of the police. Dr. Boyd said last night that the princess had worn the pin at a social given on August 19 by Mrs. Nicholas Longworth, of Cincinnati, Ohio. The princess is now somewhere between New York City and the Pacific Coast. She is a sister, it is said, of Huhio Kalani'ano'ole, the Hawaiian delegate in Congress from the Honolulu district, who is a cousin of the late King Kalakaua and Queen Liliuokalani.

Prepares to Build Four Battleships, Four Cruisers, and Thirty Submarines.

(By the International News Service.) The Navy Department yesterday advertised for bids for the construction of four battleships, four scout cruisers, twenty destroyers and thirty submarines. Immediate construction of which is provided for in the naval appropriation bill. Advertisements were placed within a few hours after President Wilson signed the army and navy preparedness bill yesterday. The navy bill as signed provides for a three-year program which includes ten battleships, six battle cruisers, ten scout cruisers, fifty destroyers, nine fleet submarines, fifty-one coast submarines and thirteen auxiliary craft. "In the designs of the new ships," the Navy Department says, in a statement issued yesterday, "are incorporated military characteristics which are the result of a careful study of the lessons to be learned from the naval operations in the European war, and the application of these lessons to the peculiar strategic requirements of the United States navy." The four new battleships will be larger than any now in the United States navy.

"NOT ONE HIT IN 125 SHOTS," SAYS GARDNER

Declares Recent Target Practice Revealed Poor Navy.

Special to The Washington Herald. Hallowell, Me., Aug. 29.—At a rally held here tonight, Representative A. P. Gardner, of Massachusetts, made a speech in which the keynote was "A Vote for Wilson is a Vote for Daniels." Mr. Gardner astounded his hearers by declaring that in the recent division target practice in Coast waters the battleship Nebraska fired 83 shots and the battleship Michigan fired 42 shots without either ship hitting the target a single time. Mr. Gardner offered to contribute $50 to any charity which Secretary Daniels might name if that official could deny the correctness of the scores attributed by Mr. Gardner to the battleships Michigan and Nebraska. In answer to Admiral Dewey's interview praising the efficiency of the navy under Secretary Daniels, Representative Gardner quoted from the report of the General Board of the navy, signed by Admiral Dewey as president of the board in November, 1914. In this report Admiral Dewey took exactly the opposite position.

STRIKE ORDER STANDS DESPITE WILSON PLEA UNDER CAPITOL DOME

Wilson's Remedy for Possible Rail Strike

1. Enlargement and administrative reorganization of the Interstate Commerce Commission. 2. An eight-hour day for all railroad employees engaged in operating trains in interstate transportation. 3. A Presidential commission to study results of the application of the eight-hour day to railroad operation, alike for the men and for the roads. 4. Approval by Congress of freight rate increases to meet such additional expenditures by the roads as are rendered necessary by adoption of the eight-hour day. 5. Amendment of the Federal mediation, conciliation and arbitration laws to provide a full public investigation before a strike or lockout may lawfully be attempted. 6. Granting the President power in case of military necessity to seize and operate such portions of the railways as may be required for military use and to draft into the military service such train crews and administrative officials as circumstances require.

Brotherhood Leaders Vote, Following President's Address, Not to Change Their Plans.

President Wilson took a strange hold on Congress yesterday in an effort to get legislation that will prevent the threatened railway strike. In a message, delivered in person, before a joint session of the Senate and the House, he admitted having failed to bring about an amicable solution of the controversy. Last night he returned to Capitol Hill to confer with the House leaders on the procedure that will be the most expeditious. The meeting took place in Speaker Clark's room. Present in addition to the Speaker were: Chairman Adamson of the Interstate Commerce Committee; Majority Leader Kitchin, an Minority Leader Mann. It is understood to have been agreed to attach the remedial measures as riders to the Newlands bill calling for an increase in membership of the Interstate Commerce Commission now before the Senate. Whether or not the Senate will go into the merits of the proposed legislation before sending it back for the consideration of the House has not been determined. The President's efforts to check the legislation through with the least possible delay have not removed the strike menace. The leaders of the railroad brotherhoods voted yesterday, after having heard the address before Congress, not to permit it to change their determination in the slightest to carry out the order for a strike on September 4, unless the railway executive officials consent to a plan to have under advisement a plan to charge the Brotherhood leaders with instigating a conspiracy in restraint of interstate commerce. The strike order is not withdrawn by Saturday. It is known the administration will not be withdrawn.

(By the International News Service.) Estes Park, Colo., Aug. 29.—Governor Hughes motored up to the Timber Line, ten thousand feet above sea level, on the side of Longs Peak, this afternoon and had luncheon with Enos Mills, "father of Rocky Mountain Park." Farnham, manager of the Hughes' party, has declared war on the management of the hotel, where the party is stopping. Mr. and Mrs. Hughes came down to breakfast yesterday morning at 9:45 with an appetite. They were informed by the head waiter that the dining room is closed at 9:20 and it would be impossible to serve them.
