

EMBARGO AGITATION JUSTIFIED—MORAN

Chamber of Commerce President Says Exportations Should Cease.

With about one-third of the Eastern winter wheat crop damaged to such an extent that it is unsuited for the milling of flour and can be used only as grain feed for poultry, and flour, selling now for about $5 more a barrel than a year ago, the present agitation toward establishing an embargo on flour seems justified, said P. T. Moran, president of the Chamber of Commerce, in an interview last night.

"The wheat crop this year," continued President Moran, "is the smallest in fifty years, and although the exports have been lighter, there is still enough of the article leaving the country to raise the price to a figure which threatens to reach $15 a barrel."

The Chamber of Commerce of the United States has been appealed to for the purpose of obtaining the views of its various subsidiary bodies on the conditions in their particular locality. In addition to this, the co-operation of many Federal agencies is to be invoked, including the Bureau of Markets of the Department of Agriculture, the Federal Trade Commission, and the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce of the Department of Commerce. It is expected that should an embargo be placed on wheat the farmers would receive just as much for their crops as the additional expense of shipping and the middlemen's profit.

GO-OPERATIVE DAIRIES IN FOUR OTHER CITIES

Milk Producers Gather Data on Handling of Problems.

Y. E. Booker, business manager of the Maryland and Virginia Milk Producers' Association, yesterday afternoon was in conference with experts of the Agricultural Department in an effort to obtain data showing how the milk problem is being handled in other parts of the country.

The association has already obtained information concerning the workings of co-operative dairies in four cities. In Erie, it was found that the co-operative system of distribution has been successfully carried on for fifteen years.

In Kalamazoo, Mich., there are two co-operative bodies supplying the city with milk, while in Seattle, Wash., there is a central dairy conducted by private interests, but under supervision of a public utilities commission.

In Providence, R. I., the milk problems found are much the same as face the District of Columbia. A State commission in Rhode Island recently recommended the legislature that municipal dairies be established in every Rhode Island city of 5,000 inhabitants or more.
