

BRANCH POSTOFFICE OPENED DOWNTOWN

First Day's Receipts of Substation Reach Almost $1,000.

When the new downtown branch of the city postoffice, at 114 Eleventh street, between E and F streets northwest, closed its doors last night nearly $1,000 had passed over the counters and the volume of business indicated that the station will be a valuable convenience for business houses.

During the day thirty-five lock boxes and drawers were contracted for by new applicants or transfers from the main postoffice, and Superintendent Beall expects that soon all the 288 receptacles available will be taken.

Postmaster Chance has arranged a schedule of fifteen mails from the station to the central postoffice and seven box deliveries. The boxes are of the latest type with combination locks.

The ceremonies marking the opening at 7 a. m. were informal. Postmaster Merritt O. Chance and executives of the department were present. The former bought the first money order sold at the station. A visitor from the Harrington Hotel registered the first letter. Miss Flag from a neighboring business house bought the first stamp and the first postal savings certificate was opened by a newspaperman.

When the volume of Christmas business reaches its height, postoffice officials believe the necessity of the new station will be made apparent to all, especially in connection with the distribution of the seven clerks on duty in the branch, which will open daily from 7 o'clock in the morning to 10 at night, and on holidays, from 9 a. m. to 10 a. m. It will be closed on Sundays.

If Your Baby Has Eczema Read Mrs. Finnie's Account of How Her Baby Was Healed.

"Our baby had eczema nearly all over his face for three months. It came in little red pimples and then would turn to yellow blisters and burst and scale over. It itched and burned and whenever he scratched it would make more eruptions. He fretted all the time and could not sleep and it soon spread over the right side of his face, and over his chin.

"I tried everything we could think of but with no results, and then I tried Cuticura Soap and Ointment, and before I used one box of the Cuticura Ointment and one cake of Cuticura Soap he was entirely healed." (Signed) Mrs. Lulu Finnie, R. F. D. 2, Box 77, Como, Texas, Feb. 24, 1916.

PRUNES GAIN FAVOR AS FOOD PRICES SOAR

Nickels Tacked on Here and There by Lunch Venders.

"On account of the war in Europe," so the all-day management of many of Washington's eating places have raised their prices. The additional cost to the consumer is represented by an occasional nickel tacked on the list, particularly where eggs figure in the dish offered.

The lunchrooms which have raised prices are those which are units of systems operated by large corporations, in some instances by chains of restaurants in a number of cities.

"Two positively fresh eggs," which formerly sold for 15 cents in one of these establishments, has risen to the dignity of a 20-cent valuation, with most other bill-of-fare quotations manifesting a sympathetic tendency.

All of which has resulted in the lowly prune—4 cents the order—regaining much of its prestige. Prunes are declared to be very wholesome and very nourishing.

While many of the smaller and independent lunchrooms have not raised their prices, it was significantly added by the managers of a number of them: "Not yet but—"

With eggs at 50 cents a dozen, the lunch men say they must protect themselves.

HARVARD PARTY FINDS STATUES OF 10 KINGS

Light Thrown on Early History of Ethiopia.

Special to The Washington Herald.

Cairo, Egypt, Oct. 6.—Important discoveries which are said to have supplied much of the hitherto obscure history of ancient Ethiopia were made recently by the Egyptian Expedition sent by Harvard University and the Boston Museum of Fine Arts under the directorship of Dr. George A. Reisner, well known as an Egyptologist.

In an interview Dr. Reisner said that during excavations at Gebel Barkal material bearing on the whole period between 1500 B. C. and 100 A. D. had been found and that prospects were that further excavation would bring to light objects of still greater importance.

Among the more important finds have been ten large statues of kings of Ethiopia. Five of these were nearly complete and five were lacking the heads, but it is believed these will be found.

The expedition has also uncovered the foundations of temples built by Egyptian kings of the Eighteenth Dynasty which show that the sphinxes of Amenophis III and other monuments of that period found at Barkal belong to these temples and were not brought in later times as some historians have assumed. Dr. Reisner said in part:

"Gebel Barkal, in the district of Napata, lies 250 miles up the Nile from Kermah in the province of Dongola. Napata was the capital of that kingdom of Ethiopia whose armies are mentioned in the Old Testament as the opponents of Assyria in the latter part of the eighth century before Christ. Gebel Barkal is an upstanding table mountain of sandstone, visible for a great distance. From the moment it appears in the Egyptian inscriptions it is marked as 'The Holy Mountain.' Its selection was no doubt due to its proximity to Napata, the great city, which must have lain on both sides of the Nile."

GIRLS' CLUB PUTS BAN ON AUTO COURTSHIPS

Wooing Stripped of Romance by Speedy Motorcars.

Special to The Washington Herald.

Smith Center, Kans., Oct. 6.—There is widespread approval and sympathy among young men in many sections of the girls here who formed the Cupid Association to discourage motor car courting.

Among other claims of members is that the motor car has taken away all chances of old-time courtship; that too much attention is taken in the manipulation of the car, and that they are sick of the talk of carburetors, spark plugs, tire mileage, the speed a car can make, and how many miles per gallon of gasoline this, or that, or the other car can do.

The men are becoming less romantic than in the days of Old Dobbin when one could drop the reins over the dashboard and spoon to his heart's content, without being in any danger of getting a broken neck as the result of skidding into a ditch.

Hundreds of letters are being received from young men by Miss Jeanette Purcell, president of the association. Without exception, the writers insist that the attitude of the young women, and each disavows the ownership of anything faster than a gentle horse. The letters come principally from eligible young men in Missouri, Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas.

CHLOROFORMS WOMAN, GAGS GIRL, GETS $160

New York, Oct. 6.—A man, described as tall and dark and well attired, entered the home of Mrs. Ernest Dube, 3 Henderson street, Passaic, N. J., and after attacking her and binding and gagging her little daughter, robbed the place of $160 in cash and a quantity of silverware.

Mrs. Dube was cooking as the man entered. She was seized from behind by the intruder, who then thrust a cloth saturated with chloroform over her head. As the woman dropped to the floor unconscious the man grabbed the screaming child, stifled her cries with a gag and then tied her feet to her little rocking chair. Mrs. Dube was revived after fifteen minutes' effort on the part of a passer-by.
