NO. 3655. WEATHER—CLOUDY; COLDER. WASHINGTON, D. C., SATURDAY, OCTOBER 21, 1916. ONE CENT

OVATIONS MARK WILSON'S ROUTE

Man with Long Knife Tries to Board President's Auto.

(By the International News Service.) Lancaster, Pa., Oct. 20.—President Wilson, returning from Chicago to Shadow Lawn, today was greeted enthusiastically by large crowds from Pittsburgh to Harrisonburg. Two weeks ago, while passing over the same route, there were no demonstrations.

William J. Bryan met the Presidential party at Pittsburgh and remained on the train as far as Crasson, where he was due to speak tonight. He had just returned from a speaking tour along the Pacific coast. He predicted Mr. Wilson could win without the electoral vote of New York.

While President Wilson and the members of his party were making a tour of Pittsburgh, a saw-toothed youth, later registered at a police station as Richard Cullen, dashed out of the crowd at Fifth avenue and Smithfield street and attempted to board Mr. Wilson's automobile.

The young man carried a concealed black handbag. He had just reached the running board of the Presidential automobile when he was tackled, football fashion, and borne to the pavement by Secret Service operators. At the police station the bag was found to contain a long-bladed knife and several chisels. The prisoner was held for later examination.

His talk was rambling and he said he disagreed with President Wilson's policies. Cullen declared he had endeavored to reach the President for the sole purpose of shaking hands with him.

At Harrisonburg a car attached to the President's train was derailed during the switching process by which a diner was being cut off. Nobody was injured, but the incident caused a delay of nearly an hour.

While in Pittsburgh Mr. Wilson was the guest of Democratic State Chairman Joseph F. Guffey. State Committee Chairman A. V. Dively boarded the train at Altoona and reported much enthusiasm in his district. A five-minute stop was made at Greensburg to permit the President to review the Tenth Pennsylvania militia.

President Wilson again expressed confidence in his chances of re-election when answering a voice from a crowd of 10,000 persons at Lancaster tonight.

"I hope you get four years more," shouted some.

"It looks like it now," answered Mr. Wilson.

$1,000,000 SLUSH FUND ALLEGED BY DEMOCRATS

Desperate Eastern Drive Planned by Republicans, Says Opponent.

(By the International News Service.) New York, Oct. 20.—A million dollar slush fund is to be thrown into New York, New Jersey and Connecticut by the Hughes managers during the last week in the campaign, according to the allegation of an influential Wilson canvasser.

"The proposed drive in the East," he continued, "is a desperate effort to neutralize the threatened loss of Ohio, Illinois, Michigan and Wisconsin in New York, New Jersey and Connecticut cast several six-vote votes in the electoral college. Ohio, Illinois, Wisconsin and Michigan aggregate seventy-one.

It is believed that the fund is being collected through the aid of a number of who are collecting it. The railroad companies are not contributing nearly so much as Chairman Wilcox and Treasurer Bliss expected after the Adamson eight-hour law became law. The Hughes' management has therefore decided to assess every interest corporation that will stand it. Up to date the Republicans have amassed less than a million and a half. This has been spent to a large extent.

"When Myron T. Herrick rushed here from Cleveland yesterday and demanded that $500,000 be sent to Ohio or the State would go for Wilson, he was told there was no money to be sent there and that he and his friends must put up their own cash."

Herrick, who realized that this might mean his defeat for the United States Senate, hurried home to "fry-out Buckeye fat."

RULES BY TERROR

Carranza's Abrogation of Trial Stirs Mexico Conferees.

(By the International News Service.) Atlantic City, N. J., Oct. 20.—Senator Cabreria, head of the Mexican delegation, explained today Carranza's dictatorial decree abrogating personal guarantees by which people may be arrested and shot in Mexico without trial. He said:

"This decree is for the purpose of protecting the government and the people of Mexico against bandits and like law-breakers. For example, those who wreck railroads, who hold up and rob travelers and commit other crimes under the pretext of war, are being dealt with in summary fashion. In the case of such crimes there is no trial. If guilty, the prisoner is immediately executed."

"It cannot be said that Mexico is entirely under martial law. Only those crimes which may be construed as crimes against the state are punishable without trial and without appeal."

The American delegates, however, have received information from United States consuls and former American residents in Mexico that Carranza's decree is being stretched to include every conceivable offense. They say the Carranza administration has become a veritable reign of terror, making it possible for the Carranzistas to terrorize all opposition into supporting the First Chief's candidates at the elections.

Because of insistence that Carranza guarantee his promised social, economic and political reforms, the Mexican delegates have wired for further instructions.

3,000 MEXICAN TROOPS IN TERRIFIC BATTLE

Carranzistas Sent to Trap Villa Fighting Bandit's Forces.

(By the International News Service.) El Paso, Tex., Oct. 20.—A terrific battle is in progress at San Andres, twenty miles west of Chihuahua City, between 2,000 Carranzista troops under General Carlos Cuatrecasas and a force of 3,000 Villa's command, estimated at 1,000, according to official reports received by Juarez officials this afternoon.

The battle started early today, when the Villistas made a surprise attack on the Carranzistas, who were sent out to trap Villa before his raid on San Andres yesterday.

The Carranzistas are much superior in numbers and have a score of machine guns.

It is believed that Villa himself, if not actually leading his men, is directing their operations. It has been positively established, according to Juarez officers, that the rebel leader was an San Andres yesterday.

Military authorities were keenly interested in reports of dissension among the Villistas as a result of Villa's burning his home town, San Andres.

The row between Villa and Salazar is serious, because it affects the reported coalition of all malcontents against First Chief Carranza.

23 AMERICAN SOLDIERS FIGHT MEXICAN BAND

Gen. Frederick Funston from Col. Joseph Gaston, commanding the Sixth Cavalry in the Big Bend.

The Mexicans, thirty in number, fired on a detachment of twenty-three men of the Sixth Cavalry and the Texas squadron commanded by Lt. J. C. Cudington. The big guns on both sides have been in action for more than twenty-four hours, wet weather having interfered with the infantry to such an extent that the only attack of the day was an unsuccessful effort by the Germans to win back ground around Schwaben redoubt, on the British front.

The attack was launched after a bombardment of more than twelve hours, but the shell fire of the British guns, posted on high ground behind the point of attack, broke up the German rush.

The Germans are bringing to bear a great weight of metal on several points on the front. They are also heavily bombarding the northern sectors of the front held by the British, the Staff and Schwaben redoubts, in the Thiepval area, being taken under a hot fire.

"2.—The existing ministry to be immediately replaced by a cabinet of affairs of no political complexion, affording all necessary guarantees for the loyal application of the benevolent neutrality of which Greece has undertaken to observe toward the allied powers, as well as for the sincerity of a new appeal to the country."

"3.—The immediate dissolution of the chamber of the deputies followed by a general election immediately after the expiration of the term laid down by the constitution, and after the general demobilization shall have restored the electorate to its normal condition.

"4.—The removal in accord with the powers of certain police officials whose attitude inspired by foreign influence, has facilitated assaults upon peaceful citizens as well as insults offered to the allied legations and their nationals.

"Ever animated by the most benevolent and most friendly feeling towards Greece, but at the same time resolved to attain without discussion or delay the application of these indispensable measures, the guaranteeing powers can only leave to the Greek government the entire responsibility for the events which may occur if the just demands are not immediately accepted."
