

TREASURY BANKRUPT, REPUBLICANS CHARGE

Congressional Committee Accuses McAdoo of "Juggling Balances."

In a statement given out yesterday by the National Republican Congressional Committee it is declared that the Treasury is bankrupt, that Secretary McAdoo is "juggling" the balances, that his claims of large balances are "wonderland" claims, and that McAdoo is a financial necromancer trying to fool the American people as to the actual condition of the Treasury under the Wilson administration.

"McAdoo is trying to deceive the public regarding the actual condition of the Treasury," says the statement. "His boasted 'balance' of $153,000,000 is fictitious, the result of juggling. This sort of thing has been going on in the Treasury since the Secretary changed the method of bookkeeping a year ago. The public is getting wise to this official necromancy. No bank or business house would stand for it."

YOUR WEDDING DAY

And the Famous Men and Women Who Have Shared It.

November 4—William and Mary of England; Abraham Lincoln and Mary Todd.

By MARY MARSHALL.

Nine o'clock at night in a bed chamber seems a strange hour and place for a wedding, but that is all a matter of usage and 238 years ago today when Princess Mary of England and her cousin, Prince William of Orange were made man and wife this was not considered at all remarkable. Mary was 15 and her cousin, whom she did not care a fig for at that time, was 25 years old. In fact, November 4 was chosen as the wedding day because it was the day on which Prince William completed his 25th year.

$9,000,000 LEATHER CONTRACT FOR U. S.

Russian Government Places Big Order Here—Price of Shoes Advances.

According to dispatches from New York a contract for $9,000,000 worth of leather to be used for shoes has been closed by the Russian government. Of this large sum $8,500,000 will go to the Central Leather Company and $500,000 to independent concerns.

It is reported that there is such a scarcity of shoe leather in Russia that ordinary shoes are selling at $7 a pair. The central powers have no leather at all, it is said. They are unable to import it because of the blockade.

F. Blumenthal & Co., the largest independent tannery of upper leather, have closed a contract for $1,500,000 of their product, and have refused another for $1,000,000.

Evidence of the high cost of leather was impressed on Washingtonians recently when one of the biggest shoe merchants here bought shoes at an advance of 75 cents a pair. When the completion of his order came in from the factory he found that the shoes had taken another jump of 25 cents. He canceled his order by telegram. The next day this merchant learned that the shoes for which he refused to pay an advance of $1 had jumped to $2.

SAYS RAILROADS THRIVE UNDER EIGHT-HOUR PLAN

That the three largest railroads in the United States are already on the eight-hour basis and that they show an increase in net earnings and operating expenses for the fiscal year 1915 ranging from 15 to 100 per cent over the figures for 1914 was the statement of F. N. Stacy, of the Democratic National Committee, speaking at a Democratic rally at Brookville, Md., last night.

He said that the figures for the 22,000 miles of road operating on the eight-hour schedule are on record with the Interstate Commerce Commission, and completely disprove all of Mr. Hughes' assumptions on this subject.

"They prove that under the eight-hour system these roads are enjoying the most profitable era in their history," he asserted.
