BARRY IS THE LAST OF PLAYING MANAGERS

New Red Sox Pilot Only One in American League that Participates.

New York, Jan. 8.—If Jack Barry, the new manager of the Boston Red Sox, decides to play second base for the world's champions next season, and it is reasonably certain that he will, the one-time Mackian star will be the only playing manager in the major leagues.

Last season Bill Carrigan, Barry's predecessor, had that honor. Now that the famous chieftain of the Hub array has forsworn baseball to look after his business interests in Lewiston, Me., where he resides, his ex-time chief lieutenant will have the distinction.

Unless injury prevent Barry will play second for Boston next season. Harold Janvrin, who distinguished himself at second base in the world's series while substituting for Barry, who had been ill, will again be the Boston utility man, alternating at third, short and second base each of which he can play with equal skill.

One by one the playing managers of other days have taken their places on the side lines out of the hustle and bustle of hostilities. Carrigan was the last of the old guard. He played up to the time of his retirement. George Stallings, manager of the Boston Braves, hasn't donned a uniform in years. Pat Moran, leader of the Phillies, wears his uniform but confines his activities to the foul lines and players' bench. Others who adopt this policy are John McGraw, of the Giants; Wilbert Robinson, of the Dodgers; Miller Huggins, of the Cardinals; Jimmy Callahan, of the Pirates; Christy Mathewson, of the Reds, and Fred Luderus, of the Mitchell. He will ever catch in a game again. Mitch, however, is sure to wear his battle regalia and assist his club from the coaching lines.

In the American League all besides Roy Root are bench managers. Clarence Rowland again is in the White Sox from the foul lines and dugout, as will Connie Mack, of the Athletics; Bill Donovan, of the Yankees; Fielder Jones, of the Browns; Lee Fohl, of the Cleveland Indians; Clark Griffith, of the Naps; Ben Mitchell, of the Tigers.

In the past the team without a playing manager was the exception rather than the rule. Only a few years ago Miller Huggins played second base for the Cardinals at the same time directed their play. Charlie Herzog played shortstop for the Reds, and held the helm; too, Fred Clarke managed the Pirates and guarded left field; Charlie Dooin, guided the Cubs, and won behind the bat; Frank Chance played first base, and managed the Cubs. Joe Birmingham doubled as manager and outfielder of the Indians.

FULTON MAY OPPOSE CHAMPION WILLARD

Milwaukee, Wis., Jan. 8.—Jess Willard will make his 1917 start in Milwaukee, and at the Auditorium. The bout is slated for March, and Fred Fulton will probably be his opponent.

Georges Carpentier was wanted for Willard's foe, but there is little likelihood of Georges leaving the war front for quite a while. Les Darcy is not being considered as a possibility.

LES DARCY WILL NOT APPEAR IN THIS CITY

Australian Middle-weight to Give Exhibition in Baltimore Saturday.

By JOHN A. DUGAN.
Les Darcy, the famous Australian middle-weight boxing champion, is not to appear in Washington during his present theatrical booking.

The only chance for local fight followers to see Darcy in action will be to jump over to Baltimore on Saturday afternoon or Saturday night when the Australian battler is scheduled to appear as the headliner in an athletic carnival at the New Academy theater.

Darcy has signed for a fifteen-week tour of the big Eastern and Central Western cities, to give exhibitions in a series of one-night stands with a big athletic carnival under the management of Freeman Bernstein, the well-known New York booking agent.

Alf. J. Herrington, representing the Bernstein agency, was a visitor here yesterday and attempted in every manner to book Darcy in this fair city, but as the local theaters and other booking agents were scared on taking a chance at Darcy's big contract, local fight fans must be satisfied in taking a journey to the Monumental City if they seek to witness the Australian in action.

Darcy's contract calls for $2,500 a week, and since six other athletic acts, including wrestling and boxing, are with this carnival, local fight people did not desire to take a chance with this high-priced attraction.

Fred Gilmore, the middle-weight who has created a great sensation throughout the Middle West, is Darcy's sparring partner, and will appear with the Australian. Darcy has all his training stunts for the fight followers and reports from Hartford, Bridgeport and Trenton claim this middle-weight's act is one of the features of the kind that have been presented during the last two years.

Along with Darcy's act will be found the "Terrible Turk" and other famous wrestlers who will give exhibitions and are open to meet all comers. The Western sisters, the female champion Zappala, are also carded in this athletic carnival, while other expert and athletic stunts feature one of the best programs ever arranged for the fight-loving public.

Darcy is today the greatest attraction in the world in the sport line. There is no other man in the world who is as widely known as he is in Australia. His wonderful ring career in Australia made him the darling of the Australian public, men and women alike, and newspapers here devoted columns to him long before he was known on this shore. No foreign prince or potentate was received as Darcy was when he finally arrived in New York as stoker on an oil vessel, after his flight from Australia. New York newspapers fought to interview him, the greatest managers of the boxing world spent huge sums of money in private tugs and other means to get to him first and get his name on a contract. He has already been offered over a quarter of a million dollars in purses, some as high as $2,000 and the offers still pour in.

Darcy is not a "slacker" or a quitter, as some people think. He is really an Irishman, but is willing to give his life and his health to England. In Australia, however, he has his mother and relatives, whom he wishes to leave free from want when he passes out. For this reason he is in America, to earn what he can with his fist before he crosses to Canada, to enlist and travel to England. As soon as he thinks he has provided sufficiently well for his loved ones, he'll take the big step which he doesn't fear in the least.

GREENLEAF WILL PLAY SHERMAN HERE

The pocket billiard players will have an opportunity of seeing Ralph Greenleaf, the 17-year-old boy, in action Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday next week, at Sherman's billiard room. Greenleaf first sprung into prominence in the tournament in Chicago last year. It looked at one time as though he would carry off the championship, but fell down in his last games, being beaten out by Blankenship, Layton and Taberski.

Since then he has played Taberski and was defeated by a very close score. During the last two months he has met and defeated all of the Eastern crack players, including Krossner and Ralph. He has played the former on two different occasions and both times has been on the winning side. In a game with Ralph of 100 points he ran out in two innings, getting 32 and 48, defeating Ralph, 100 to 8. While in this city he will play Frank Sherman, who has held the championship twice, and Greenleaf will have to go at top speed to keep up his winning streak.

CONGRESSMAN HULBERT WORKING FOR STADIUM

New York Representative Pushing Bill for Athletic Field in Potomac Park.

That stadium in East Potomac Park, which is designed as the eventual grounds for the holding of all national championships in all sports, moved a little bit nearer yesterday.

It will take $1,545,000 to build the great athletic field and recreation ground on the shores of the Potomac, which the A. A. U. would like to see and which Representative Murray Hulbert, of New York, has sought in a bill now before Congress.

Congress has already granted $55,000 of the amount deemed necessary. This provides a shelter house and a part of the boat harbor. Representative Hulbert wants Congress to go further.

He saw Representative Fitzgerald, of the House Appropriations Committee, yesterday, and secured his tentative agreement to a plan for another hearing on the proposed improvement. An additional appropriation to finish the shelter house which is not yet completed is desired, and as much more as the committee feels it can furnish. "I want to get all the amateur athletes in the United States interested in this proposition," said Congressman Hulbert, "and then watch how it will advance."

"This is a great proposition for the District, and I am sure that the people of all the boys and girls of the United States who are interested in clean sport. When we have our next hearing I hope to have representatives from all parts of the United States present to boost this plan."

New York, Jan. 8.—Following charges that Tom Rooney, of the Ravenwood R. C., amateur single sculling champion, and the foremost oarsman in America, had jeopardized his amateur standing by being a games instructor in the Bureau of Recreation of the Department of the Navy, prominent official of the National Association of Amateur Oarsmen said that Rooney was not the only oarsman who is in danger of having himself declared a professional at the next meeting of the association, to be held at the New York A. Lexington, Ky., Jan. 8.—There is talk of reviving the Blue Grass League, with Lexington, Paris, Frankfort, Maysville and Louisville as members. The league is cheerfully announced that transportation between these closely located towns will be by truck instead of rail, and expenses will be cut to a minimum and high salaries will be unknown.

PLAYERS WILL TRAVEL IN AUTOMOBILE TRUCKS

The idea is to make the league a school for players who are willing to take an education at a salary, no matter what the figure, rather than work for nothing for the fun of it.

NO ACTION TAKEN ON DISTRICT FIGHT BILL

Slumbering peacefully in some pigeon-hole of a desk at the Capitol is the bill which would legalize exhibitions of the many art within the confines of the District.

Devotees of boxing have been waiting anxiously for some word that Congress was preparing to consider the bill introduced by Representative Cary. Wisconsin, in the early days of the present session, which would permit boxing under official regulation in Washington.

The bill was introduced, but has apparently died for lack of sustenance. No body has appeared to give it nourishment and support, and it appears doomed to suffer a lingering death.

Despite the fact that the District committee has failed to schedule a hearing on the bill, the followers of the fight game have not thrown up the sponge. On the contrary, they are convinced that the bill will find favor in both branches of Congress and are prepared to introduce it in the Senate, should the House committee pass upon it unfavorably.

FATIMA

Every time the clock ticks, fifty-eight Fatimas are lighted somewhere in the United States. No other high-grade cigarette has so many unchanging, unswerving friends.

This shows that men do appreciate cigarette-comfort.

For, Fatimas are comfortable. Not only comfortable while you smoke, but more than that, comfortable after you smoke—even though you may smoke the whole day through.

The Fatima Turkish blend is so carefully balanced that it has none of the after-effects of heavier, less skilfully blended tobaccos. That's why Fatimas are comfortable (hence, sensible)—as your first package will prove.
