A LINE O' CHEER (Written especially for The Washington Herald.) By John Kendrick Bangs. THE WORD OF PRAISE. A word of praise spoke now and then To tolling, moaning, striving men, Is like a cup of water clear.

SEND YOUR CONTRIBUTION TO THE RED CROSS TODAY. These "old-man's-derling" affairs are certainly costly for the old man.

Young man, there is a place waiting for you in the District Cavalry. With $13,000 as its farewell offering, New York gave the Rev. Billy Sunday the "Ven, vid, vic" treaty.

Congress appears to be having as much difficulty over the food bill as the average man on an average salary. New York has had two shining examples of the philosophy of T. T. Barram this year.

Reading of the great ovals tendered to Gen. Pershing in France, one can hardly blame the sage of Oyster Bay for directing an occasional shaft at the administration.

A Chicago forger fooled New York for two weeks into thinking he was the Swedish Minister, and had the Swedish flag hung out for him at the Ritz. New York never changes.

The Sharon (Mass.) baseball team has been organized since 1916 and has yet to win a game. Merely offered as encouragement to Clark Griffith and his athletes as likely candidates for the next open date.

If Goethals and Denman intend to make a continuous performance out of their quarrel, the President will soon invite them to "hire a hall" and have it out.

Working girls in Paris threw flowers in the path of Gen. Pershing. These flowers were purchased from the girls' meager savings.

Two hundred thousand dollars for a broken promise to wed and $25,000 for "smart" answers during the trial, is the assessment levied by the New York jury on the 85-year-old Romeo.

American skippers who fire at submarines, after being warned of the fate of Capt. Fryatt, find to their astonishment that a German U-boat captain actually congratulated one of their number for putting up a good fight.

Some of our soldiers will have difficulty in adapting their tongues to the French language, but that imagination a Frenchman trying to make good English out of the following in the Youth's Companion: "I sat on the outh of a tree and began to cough, having some dough in my mouth and my feet in a trough. I was thoroughly tired, though roughly used. Wasn't that tough?"

When Ma's away. It's awful lonesome when she's gone, It doesn't seem the same, At home, you'd know the place as well By any other name.

It's awful lonesome, why the cat It never comes around, And as for Tower, the old dog, He never can be found.

It's awful lonesome 'round the house, Nights oh, how the wind moans, It makes me and Ned feel so lonesome, But if I only had my Ma's home.

It's awful lonesome when she's gone, We always know the year, She's coming back again, And so we bear the lonesomeness, But if I only had my Ma's home.

The Goethals-Denman Row.

It is now apparent that two such positive personalities as George Goethals and Chairman Denman, of the Shipping Board cannot work together. One or the other will have to go. President Wilson cannot submit to this foolish quarrel much longer.

For the sake of the nation either Gen. Goethals or Mr. Denman should retire without further ado. The right and wrong of their debate only the acid test of time can bring out in sharp relief.

The United States as well as Great Britain should build wooden ships. If Gen. Goethals cannot grasp this fact, he should give way to some one who can.

HOLLAND LETTER

The Biggest Daily Financial News Feature of the Country's Best Newspapers.

To the citizens of Baltimore, who heard the Secretary of the Treasury, Mr. McAdoo, deliver the final speech of his entire life in a campaign of education for the liberty loan, he said that if the war lasts twelve months longer the United States would need $10,000,000,000 of which amount $3,000,000,000 should be obtained through taxation and $7,000,000,000 by the issue of Treasury bonds.

Secretary McAdoo's relation to the highly successful floating of this stupendous loan is now a part of an achievement which will be sure to be ranked with the historic achievements of the American Republic.

F and 11th Sts. The word "Bohn" is to refrigerators what "Sterling" is to silver. No housewife questions the real value and economy of sterling ware—no housewife who knows questions the superiority of Bohn Syphon Refrigerators. THAT you may never regret your refrigerator purchase we earnestly recommend a careful comparison of various "makes," including the Bohn Syphon. If you can, obtain the essential points of merit in each, together with its record of achievement. Such an investigation cannot help but convince you of the superiority of the BOHN over any and all refrigerators on the market.
