

JOLSON SINGS FOR MARINES

"Tell That to the Marines" Cries Comedian to Gen. Barnett.

Belligerent gestures put Al Jolson's song "Tell That to the Marines" over the top with a rush and captured a breathless audience at Marine Barracks last night, where he gave the song its premier in Washington.

Major General Barnett, to whom the song "Tell That to the Marines" was dedicated, was very appreciative and asked another verse.

Back Home Again. The famous blackface comedian is a native of Washington.

"Fritz, You're Wrong!" "We read that the Germans cry 'Kamerad' and then take advantage of leniency of our boys by dealing them a death blow.

Worse Becomes Better. "A rookie at Camp Upton, L. I. was given a horrible fitting uniform.

To the U. S. Marines. The words of the song "Tell That to the Marines" follow:

CHORUS "Tell that to the Marines, Those devils' hounds who know what fighting means.

BISHOP HAYES AS CARDINAL

Head Prelate of American Forces May Succeed Farley.

AMERICAN CARDINALS.

Cardinal James Gibbons, Baltimore. Cardinal William H. O'Connell, Boston. Cardinal John M. Farley, New York (deceased).

New York, Sept. 22.—Bishop P. J. Hayes, former chancellor of the archdiocese of New York, now bishop ordinariate of the American forces on land and sea, is the prelate first thought of as a likely successor to Cardinal John M. Farley at the head of the archdiocese of New York.

By the death of Cardinal Farley America is left with but two representatives in the College of Cardinals, Cardinal Gibbons, of Baltimore, BISHOP P. J. HAYES.

the oldest See in the United States and which has always had a cardinal, and Cardinal O'Connell, of Boston, who was made a cardinal along with Bishop Farley.

PARIS WILD WEST PARK NOW USED BY RED CROSS

Was Stamping Ground of Buffalo Bill Many Years Ago.

Paris, France.—Buffalo Park, just outside the gates of Paris toward Neuilly, has been taken over by the American Red Cross to house its lorries and ambulances.

One who listens to the tales of the twenty ambulance drivers who went out from the park a few days ago to face four days and nights of battle and brought back two of their own number to the hospital, will realize that the story of American adventure did not end when the last redskin left the old enclosure.

Y. W. C. A. Country Club Closed for Season

The Y. W. C. A. Country Club, 3501 Wisconsin avenue, which has been a center for outdoor recreation for many girl war workers and soldiers during the last three months, closed last night with a women's service at which Miss Florence Brown thanked Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Sidwell for the use of the club of the Friends' School.

Officials who opened first national convention of War Mothers (left to right)—Mrs. A. J. Schula, acting president; Mrs. Charles Gresham Dodd, honorary president; Mrs. Boaz Crawford, general secretary.

WAR MOTHERS OF AMERICA ADMIT WIDER MEMBERSHIP

Evansville, Ind., Sept. 22.—Beneath the world's greatest service flag, that of War Mothers of America, a national constitution has been prepared and reported out which broadens the organization to include wives, daughters and sisters.

Planned for All Times. Mrs. Robert Carleton Morris, star speaker of the convention, of Toledo, Ohio, said this body of women, which is bound to become national, will be a thing for time immemorial.

FIND HUN BASE IN OLD TOWER

Americans Use Stronghold Where Ludendorff Plotted Paris Attack.

Chateau Thierry, France, Sept. 5.—(By mail.)—American troops have blasted Gen. Ludendorff's elaborate plan to use Chateau Thierry as a base for a siege of Paris.

THE EBB AND THE FLOW

The ebb—American soldiers marching to the Western front to relieve an American division—the line that will never end until the war is won.

The flow—German prisoners taken at Bethencourt during the recent offensive marching to the rear.

French capital. Nearby, hidden in a wood, was one of the giant Bertas that shelled Paris.

Seven miles ahead along the banks of the Marne were the Hun horde. In the lower end Ludendorff, his chief assistants to the ground and literally to the wire, scheming the winning of the war in 1918.

Diversity of booty. This is what the Americans found in the partly wrecked chateau and the nearby Forest le Neale: Two million dollars' worth of ammunition.

Surrounded by West. A rickety wooden bridge led from the chateau courtyard with its own smaller towers, eight in number, to the big tower. Around it was a dry moat. Within was a high, circular room, twenty feet in diameter and thirty feet high, with a vaulted ceiling.

Little Towers for Staff. Staff officers apparently had been quartered in the low stone buildings and the smaller towers around the courtyard. Outside the great stone gate to the courtyard were a dozen buildings. Four of them formed a hospital. All had been well built, especially a larger building near the tower, where Ludendorff's personal physician lived.
