BILLY KELLY VS. ETERNAL AT LAUREL COURSE TODAY

Thousand-Dollar Cross Benefit Expected to Draw Largest Crowd in History.

Hourless broke the world's record on a circular track, it was said at that time that interest would never be as keen again in a match race.

Both horses are in the best of condition, and are awaiting the call of the bugle that sends them to the post.

When the great Colin, Sycamby, Domino and Uncle are considered, the statement of Chris Fitzgerald, the famous old starter and expert judge of racing flesh, if there ever was one, that Billy Kelly is the best horse ever developed on the American turf, is all the more remarkable.

LAUREL ENTRIES.

FIRST RACE—Maidens: 2-year-olds; starting 5/4 furlongs, Downhill, 1:15; Susan M., 107; Royal Parvite, 107; Kermosa, 105; ...

LAUREL PARK BILLY KELLY VS. ETERNAL

Greatest Two-Year-Old Race of Year

WILL BE RUN

TODAY

Let's Go to RED CROSS

GAFFNEY IN DARK.

Hast Heard that Former Mayor Curley Will Buy Braves.

New York, Oct. 27.—James E. Gaffney, former owner of the Braves, when asked this morning whether he knew anything about the report from Boston that former Mayor Curley, of that city, was at the head of a syndicate of bankers to buy the club, said:

I know nothing about Mayor Curley in regard to such a base proposition. I have heard nothing from the Boston club in connection with a proposed sale, and I don't believe there is anything in the story. I wish you would say that I have no idea of making an offer for the Brooklyn club. It is unfair to Mr. Ebbets to circulate stories of this kind. I am sure that Mr. Ebbets has no desire to dispose of his ball club at this time, and for that matter he never has shown a desire to get out of the game.

Another Athletic Miller.

Philadelphia, Oct. 27.—Another member of the illustrious Miller football family has come into the limelight. Eddie Miller, of Williamsport, Pa., a brother of Alie and Heinie Miller, former gridiron captains of the University of Pennsylvania, and a brother of Ray Miller, now trying for the Red and Blue team, is a candidate for the 1918 S. A. T. C. team at the Pennsylvania Military College, Chester.

Rowland Now Referee.

Clarence Rowland, manager of the Chicago White Sox, is now winning much fame as a referee of boxing bouts in the West. His first engagement was at Camp Grant, and his work was so satisfactory there that the commander of the Great Lakes Station had him officiate in the bouts there since contested at the station. In all the bouts he refereed his decisions gave general satisfaction.

Next Race at 1:45 P.M.

LAUREL SELECTIONS. English Turf Winners

First Race—Marie Connell, Miss Voski, Dalmia.

Second Race—Sandman II, C. A. Comiskey, Blazewald.

Third Race—Nigel, Kentucky Boy, Pleasant Dreams.

Fourth Race—Cudgel, Leochares, Icarus.

Fifth Race—Billy Kelly, Eternal.

Sixth Race—Wiseman, Bayberry, Candle, Valerius.

Seventh Race—Lazy Lou, Soldier, Bravado.

has recently been installed with an up-to-date drainage system and the outside of the track it finds a level outside of the falls.

Earle Sande, Ross' contract rider, will pilot Kelly, while Andy Schuler, manager will have a leg up on Eternal in six of his seven starts, and knows the whims of his mount. Andy has the ace, and if experience counts for anything in a pinch, may put it to use.

Both are great horses, and while Eternal is much the freshest horse of the two, he is noted for his bull dog tenacity and has a heart of iron.

Two special trains arrived today from New York, where racing has closed for the season, and General Manager Winn is confident that several thousand more lovers of the thoroughbred will come from New York, Philadelphia, Virginia, and other contiguous points for this great race. This being the case, a new record for attendance will be established.

Resides this brilliant match there are six other well-filled and well-matched races, and a great day of sport should result therefrom.

General Manager Winn stated this morning that the race would be run, rain or shine, so there will be no disappointment if rain should fall during the night. Both horses are expected to make a heavy rain to make the Laurel course heavy as the track

When the great Colin, Sycamby, Domino and Uncle are considered, the statement of Chris Fitzgerald, the famous old starter and expert judge of racing flesh, if there ever was one, that Billy Kelly is the best horse ever developed on the American turf, is all the more remarkable, but Fitzgerald's word is not to be taken lightly.

BIG WRESTLER IS NOW BROKE

George Hackenschmidt Is Said to Be Very Poor in Germany.

It's pretty tough, this bread line that is forming among the former marvels of the boxing and wrestling games, but, then, "easy comes, easy goes" has always held true, and more so in the sport game than in any other.

With the boxer or fighter it is never difficult to find a coterie of "friends" when he has the money, whether it be the big or little end of a purse. Few fighters who have attained prominence have looked forward to the rainy day period of life by putting away a few thousand, instead, being "good fellows" has left them, in a few weeks or months just where they were before the "big mill," and it has been necessary to fight or starve.

Jack Johnson, former champion heavy-weight pugilist, seems to have started the sports bread line, for a despatch from Spain indicated that he had lost his cash, and some city of that bull-fighting country and was ready to come back to the United States and do something to keep his backbone from getting so sore that he would not be able to part of his abdomen. In other words, he was flat broke, the despatch said, and badly in need of kale. Then "Bat" Nelson and "Ad" Woigast, both noted in the light-weight class, joined the "lowly" crowd, and press notices placing them in the "starvation category."

Now, worst of all, comes George Hackenschmidt, known in wrestling circles as a Russian lion and considered premier wrestler of the world until Frank Gotch, the Iowa farmer, pulled his fangs at Chicago. In his prime Hack was considered to be the best-developed specimen of a male human obtainable. Now he is in Germany, and has wasted away until he is a mere shadow of his former self. The Russian lion was always a good feeder, but, according to word from his agent, he has only seven food cards, and still cannot get enough to eat.

When the Russian roarer met Gotch at Chicago the largest receipts ever gathered at a wrestling match were secured. The Iowa farmer was the lion's manager—like-wise he recently promoted the Dempsey-Fulton bout and the Leonard-Lewis affair, both in New Jersey, and both of which left him with a pocket full of money.

After Gotch threw Hack the latter dropped out of the public eye and was not heard from until now.

Charles Harvey, Secretary of the Boxing Commission under the Frazer law, has been chosen by official order as chairman of the local boxing committee. He will have as assistants Billy Gibson, manager of the local champion, Henry Leonard, and Charlie Doosierick, who so successfully conducted boxing shows at the Pioneer Sporting Club and the Army A. A. of Jersey City. They will have Dan Morrison, former champion, and other live wires, working night and day to help them secure talent for the big show or shows that will be put on in Madison Square Garden next month.

It is really inspiring to see the manner in which the boxing world is working together for the big fund. Men who have been enemies for years are burying the hatchet and the country will be aided in every manner possible in this great effort.

Johnny Dundee, the peppery light-weight; Battling Levinsky, Jack Britton and heavy-weight champion Joe Wilkes have already signified their intention to be seen as the national committee wishes for the war work.

Not only are the boxing principals as busy as bees arranging big shows, but the golf world, and football, billiards, amateur boxing, in fact, every line of sport which is able to raise a dollar will be on the job.

Frank Taborski, the pool champion, has arrived here from his home up-State and offered his services and title for the fund. He is ready to play Ralph Greenleaf, of the young local crack.

Morris D. Brown and Edward W. Gardner, former national class A billiard champions, will play for the fund. The National Association of Amateur Billiard Players, of which they are members, is planning many interesting features.

Willie Houpe has tendered his services, as have Walker Gooden, of the young Chicago phenom, Alfred De Oro and the Misses Flower.

Several American League Owners Frown on the Idea.

Chicago, Oct. 27.—Several American League club owners do not approve of the proposed semi-professional week-end baseball plan for next season, Ban Johnson, president of the league, is communicating this to John R. Kelly, who asserted they would not permit the use of their plants for such an organization.

"I read something about the need of umpires in France recently," O'Day said today, "and I'm going to try to get in touch with the proper authorities and see if I can't help out some way or other."

No West Virginia-Rutgers Game.

Morgantown, W. Va., Oct. 27.—West Virginia turned down Rutgers' proposition to play football in New Jersey because no practice has been held here since October 5, and the present outlook is that none will be held before November 1, West Virginia desired to play a game for the benefit of the United States war work campaign, but no games can be played till an hour for practice is allotted.

Patsy Flaherty Enlists.

Pittsburgh, Oct. 27.—Patsy Flaherty of Carnegie, veteran left-hand pitcher, has entered the service. The former member of the Pirates has passed the physical examination for tank duty and now is awaiting orders to go to Camp Polk at Raleigh, N. C.

Game for Wolverines.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Oct. 27.—Michigan and Michigan Agricultural College will play a football game at Ann Arbor on November 1, the date Michigan left open by the cancellation of the Minnesota game.

HANK O'DAY SEEKS ACTION.

Veteran Umpire Wants to Run Ball Games in France.

London, Oct. 27.—When the promoters of the Jimmy Wilde-Joe Johnson scrap agreed to give the winner a sum of £20,000, they were called to consider the British military authorities, and now Wilde, the winner of the bout, is in a complicated situation. The military officials have specified that any man in the service who takes part in boxing bouts should be rewarded with nothing more than a trophy.

But they failed to place a limit on the amount of the prize, and the giving Wilde the £20,000, the promoters presented him with a trophy, the cost of which was considerably less than £20,000. The promoters had in mind to give the remainder of the purse, so they purchased diamonds to make up the difference between the cost of the trophy and the purse and gave them to the conqueror of Conn.

Now Wilde, if he desired to realize the cash, would necessarily lose the difference between the buying price and the price he would have to sell the diamonds at.
