

WORKERS PLAN TO OWN STORES

Union Men May Join Non-partisan League in Co-operative Venture.

Chicago, April 6.—Union labor of Illinois, by establishment of co-operative stores, proposes to reduce the cost of living. It hopes to do so through alliance with the Nonpartisan League, the Society of Equity, and the Grange, members of which are to ship grain, meat and garden truck direct to co-operative stores to be established by the unions.

Morton L. Johnson, executive secretary of the Chicago Labor party, said the chief merit of the plan will be the elimination of middlemen.

According to Johnson, laboring men will invest their savings in bonds to be used for financing the stores. Prices will be the same as in any other store, said Johnson, but the profits will be divided among the consumers and interest on the bonds. A fund will be maintained for redeeming the bonds and for establishing new stores, and it is hoped, warehouses and packing plants.

Johnson will confer with A. C. Johnson, president of the Nonpartisan League, next week, to decide on a way of presenting the co-operative store plan to the Illinois labor federation in Springfield, Ill., April 10, 1919, and the federal government, which is admitted to the national federation of labor.

'COSTS NOTHING' FOR COPS IN D. C.

Timely Advice May Save Dentist's Bills and Improve Their Minds.

Washington cops will be modern Adonises soon. That is, they will be if they follow the advice given them in the Police Bulletin yesterday. The article which deals with the gastro-nomic, mental and physical qualities is entitled "It Costs Nothing."

The cops are admonished that "It costs nothing to eat some crusty food that gives better employment to the teeth and thus saves the dentist." Poor dentist! With 800 cops eating crusty food, how can he be expected to earn an honest living?

"It costs nothing to feed the mind with wholesome mental food instead of trash or morbid literature that easily decomposes and poisons your life." We can now expect to see the police reading a variety of beat reading "Clerico's Orations" and other classical works.

"Can you imagine asking a cop for the loan of two bits." "It costs him nothing to be serene."

CALLS BOLSHIEVISM REIGN OF ANARCHY

Dr. Huntington Says Red Doctrine Defies Law.

Bolshevism is merely the setting up of anarchy against law and order, and can be likened to the rule of the German Kultur against the world, Dr. William C. Huntington, American commercial attaché of the United States Embassy at Petrograd, declared in an address yesterday given under the auspices of the Jewish Welfare Board, at the Eighth Street Temple.

Dr. Huntington's topic was "Russia—The Greatest Problem of the Peace Conference."

"Russia is an earthquake of a social movement which is felt but faintly in other parts of the world," said Dr. Huntington. "Russia is a biological laboratory—one where vivisection is being practiced with a vengeance."

Dr. Huntington gave a very vivid comparison of the Czar in 1917, when he welcomed the representatives of the various foreign governments, and the same Czar abdicating but two months later.

The tragedy of Russia came about to life with the formation of the Duma and the Soviets. A constituent assembly was brought into life to govern until such time as the people could through universal suffrage organize another and more representative form of government. The effort failed. This failure was due to the economic crisis, famine, the paralysis of transportation, to the presence of the upper one-tenth with their Western ideals of living.

"Bolshevism is destroying the towns of Russia," he said. "In the towns there is centered almost all the intellect and worth-while ability of the Russian people. The peasants are being driven back. Everything is being centered in the name of this movement. There is no civil war, no bloodshed in the open; the killing is done in the gray dawn, in the prison cells at night. Quiet but effective. In such a modern way the terror reigns. Everything is carried out at the command of the Bolsheviks through threat of this terror."

WHISKERED PLANES CHEAT AIR POCKETS

Rough Hair on Wings Likely to Keep 'Em Steady.

London, April 6.—The aeroplane of the future may be a huge and hairy monster.

Dr. G. H. Rodman points out that flies experience no difficulty in regard to sidslips and air-pockets, and in his opinion it is because their bodies and wings are covered with rough hair, which "grips" the atmosphere.

He recommends that aircraft designers experiment in this direction in order to find a solution of some of their difficulties.

WOULD FORCE NATIONS LEAGUE

Senator Harrison Urges Blacklist for All Peoples Opposed to Covenant.

Hattiesburg, Miss., April 6.—Speaking last night in support of the league of nations before an audience composed largely of soldiers from Camp Shelby, United States Senator Harrison, of Mississippi, was loudly cheered when he advocated the blacklist for any nation opposing the league covenant and characterized much of the opposition to the present draft as insincere and prompted by desire to discredit President Wilson.

"If I had my way," declared the Senator, "knowing the sadness, the destruction, the horror, the loss of human lives and property visited on every people to whom war comes I would blacklist every nation and ostracize the people who did not accept the invitation extended to them by the terms of this covenant and those who accepted them and then failed to live up to and respect every provision."

MISS BETSEY MONKEY CHIEF STUNT PERFORMER AT ZOO

Rivals Hitem and Kichel, Baby Elephants, in Bid for Interest of Visitors—Bears Remain Indoors.

With the warm spring sunshine and everything little Miss Betsey Monkey at the Zoological Park yesterday afternoon was feeling fine and generously went through her whole repertoire of tricks for the benefit of hundreds of visitors.

"Ain't she cunning?" was the admiring comment of little boys and girls, and even "grown-ups," as Miss Betsey swung her tiny body from the tip of her patient mother's tail and turned somersaults from the bars of her cage.

As an attraction Miss Betsey rivaled even Hitem and Kichel, the baby elephants recently arrived at the elephant house, and the newest pets of the children of Washington. However, the infant pachyderms had even more than their usual audience when their keeper brought their afternoon meal of bran mash and hay.

"Call them babies," sniffed one scornful small boy. "I guess if little sister tried to eat a whole panful of dinner they wouldn't think she was a baby."

Hundreds of visitors gathered expectantly around the cage of the brown bears, the proud parents of two small cubs, in the hope that the warm weather would coax the babies out. Mr. and Mrs. Bear, however, evidently were afraid to trust their babies out and the sightseers went away disappointed.

Guards in charge declared that the cubs have yet to show their little brown noses outside their dark cage, but if the warm weather keeps up they expect them out this week.

VASSAR GIRL POLICE GUARD HEALTH RULE

Force Other Students to "Hold Selves Straight."

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., April 6.—"Just fancy the familiarity of it!" said a Vassar girl today, when one of the student police girls slapped her vigorously on the back, at the same time saying, "Hold yourself straight."

The incident was one of many which have occurred on the campus since the "hold-yourself-straight" order was issued and the student police girls were instructed to enforce it. Gentle reminders proving insufficient, the police girls have resorted to vigorous measures.

IRISH TO RAISE $10,000 IN D. C.

Friends of Freedom Hold Mass Meeting in Gonzaga Hall.

Plans for securing Washington's quota of $10,000 of the $1,000,000 fund to promote interest in self-determination for Ireland were discussed at a meeting of the Friends of Irish Freedom in Gonzaga Hall last night.

Rossa Downing, president, stated that already $2,000 had been raised, although the drive for funds in this city had not yet started.

He made a plea to prospective members not to delay joining the organization.

"Hop into the association now," invited Mr. Downing. "In six months it will be too late. We will either have won or fought and lost in the fight for freedom which Ireland has been waging through her centuries of English domination."

American big business and professional men are in sympathy with the movement for Irish self-determination, according to W. E. Ryan, of New York City.

"The crisis is at hand," he said. "We need the support of every American of Irish parentage, as well as the co-operation of every lover of freedom, liberty and humanity. I hope within a few weeks or two months at least to know that Ireland has at last been given the right to rule and make laws for herself."

"I am assured that every liberty-loving American will back the fight."

Another demonstration for Irish home government is being planned. A committee comprising the following were appointed by President Downing: Jeremiah J. O'Connor, Joseph Y. Reevok, John Trant, Miss Margaret Dally, Mrs. K. B. Mullins and Miss Catherine Fox. The committee will co-operate with the Aloysius Club in staging the demonstration.

SAYS NEW COUNTRIES WILL DEVELOP TRADE

V. A. Geringer, Chicago Editor, Finds Markets Among Slav Peoples.

Chicago, April 6.—"The war baby" has a brother. It's the "peace baby," according to V. A. Geringer, Chicago editor, recently appointed Federal Trade Commissioner to the new nation of Czechoslovakia.

According to Geringer, cotton, copper and steel alloys worth millions of dollars will be shipped annually to Czechoslovakia and other newly formed or lately released countries. Clothes and food, also, will be in demand, he said.

Prohibition will affect imports from Slovakia, he said. Formerly imports of beer and hops will be replaced by buttons and heavier shipments of "Venetian" glassware, "Belgian" and "Irish" lace and leather goods.

PEACE ENVOYS SELFISH, CHARGE

Hamilton Holt, Editor, Says Reaction Has Appeared At Paris Conference.

New York, April 6.—The league of nations covenant as published was framed as a compromise, and selfishness and reaction already are beginning to show their heads at the Peace Conference, were the assertions today by Hamilton Holt, well-known editor who has just returned from Paris, at a meeting of the League of Nations Association.

The American and Australian drafts were unacceptable to Premier Lloyd George of England, Mr. Holt declared. The American draft, he said, emphasized disarmament, while the British draft ran strongly to economic and trade questions. The American plan, according to the editor, held no provision for enforcing the covenant.

There was never any talk in England or France of giving up the struggle, even during the darkest days of the world has ever known, said the speaker. "And, today," said Mr. Holt, "the people are no longer heroes and heroines, but just people."

"There are reactionaries and idealists in all nations and always will be. Last year they did not show their heads. Today the rats have come out of their holes and are brazen about it."

Mutual distrust and suspicion are beginning to assert themselves, together with the old elements of likes and dislikes, he said.
