

U. S. HAS MONEY FOR ALL DEBTS

Treasury Finds Self "Even With Board" First Time Since War.

The government last night theoretically stood "even with the board," so far as short term financing was concerned.

For the first time in two years, cash in the Treasury, deferred payments on loans and taxes soon to be collected, balanced outstanding Treasury certificates of indebtedness.

Assistant Secretary Lettingwell, in a statement, declared the outlook was gratifying. Certificates of indebtedness, employed by the Treasury to tide the government over between loans or tax payments, now are outstanding to the amount of $1,400,000,000. But against this, $1,000,000,000 remains to be paid in on the Victory Loan, and the two remaining installments of income and profits taxes, it is estimated, will exceed $600,000,000.

The Treasury began in June to issue "limited amounts" of Treasury certificates of indebtedness to meet current expenditures. Prior to that time, regular biweekly issues of $500,000,000 to $600,000,000 were made in limiting the amounts of the last three issues, the Treasury has been able to save interest on sums above its actual needs, officials said.

Current expenditures have shown a "marked decrease," Lettingwell said. These were expected by officials to continue to drop, although the monthly disbursements likely will hover close to $900,000,000 for several months.

MAID TELLS HOW MRS. ELIOT DIED

London Beauty Pleaded With Husband to Return to Her, She Says.

London, July 12.—Details of a final effort by Mrs. "Nanie" Atherton Eliot to induce her husband to return to her before she ended her life in her London apartments with a shotgun, were revealed at the coroner's inquest yesterday by Edith Lane, servant and confidante of the famous beauty.

The witness, a woman plain of face and manifestly lacking in imagination, said she had been in Mrs. Eliot's confidence and knew of her secret sorrows since the marriage in April. She told of going to the Eliot cottage at Eversley, Hampshire, with Mrs. Eliot on Whitsunday and overhearing Capt. Eliot say to his wife:

"I'll give you five minutes to clear out. If you don't I'll summon a policeman or my man servant and chauffeur to throw you."

Later Mrs. Eliot told the witness, her husband had knelt before her begging: "If you love me as you say you do, leave for my sake."

Mrs. Eliot then returned to the London apartment, the witness continued, believing that her husband would keep his promise to visit her next day, but he did not do so.

On the night of the suicide, the maid, oppressed by a premonition, said to Mrs. Eliot, "Don't lock your door tonight."

Half an hour later the maid heard from behind the locked door the sound of the shot that ended Mrs. Eliot's life.

have a queer way of dodging technicalities to serve the ends of justice."

In the House, debate raged all day on both sides of the measure. Leadership yesterday, they do not expect a vote until late next week. Tuesday, it is expected, amendments will be considered and it is then that the real fight will begin for wets are expected to propose measures designed to rob the bill of its teeth or to make it so extreme that the courts will reject it.

Representative LaGuardia charged that the organization behind the bill, with the exception of the W. C. T. U., did not want a measure that could be enforced, because, he stated they did not wish to go out of existence. Representative Goldfogle said the measure was incapable of enforcement. Representative Hardy announced that he would vote against the measure because he did not believe a statutory prohibition bill in time of peace was constitutional.

Representative Randall submitted clippings from Los Angeles and St. Louis papers showing the decrease in crime and arrests since war-time prohibition became effective.

Congress Notes

PRESIDENT SIGNS INDIAN MONEY BILL

President Wilson yesterday signed a bill which gives the assent of the government to a compact between the States of New York and New Jersey for building a tunnel under the Hudson between Jersey and New York.

He also affixed his signature to the Indian appropriation measure and to an act which stipulates that Congressmen may appoint two secretaries whose names shall be placed on the roll as employees of the House.

NEW SUFFRAGE LAWS FOR SOUTH FORECAST

National political suffrage laws, which will have an important bearing on conditions in the South, will have to be enacted as soon as the States ratify the woman suffrage amendment, Representative Siegel told the House yesterday.

The enforcement legislation for suffrage must be drawn along the same lines as the prohibition enforcement legislation, he said.

Liberty Bonds Blamed For Present High Prices

The large amount of Liberty Bonds sold by the government is a big factor in keeping up high prices, Representative Osborne told the House yesterday.

Original Treaty Maps Sought by the Senate

An urgent cable message was sent to Paris yesterday by the Senate printing committee which has been ordered to print the peace treaty, including maps, for public distribution.

The maps President Wilson brought home won't reproduce legibly, the committee found, hence the original maps must be obtained from Paris, or arrangements made there for photo engravings of them.
