

DASH TO BORDER EX-KAISER PLAN Visits to Amerongen Are Viewed With Alarm by Holland Opponents.

Amerongen, Dec. 3.—Should the Allies decide to attempt forcible removal of the former Kaiser from Holland he will try a dash to Germany, it was believed in Dutch circles today. It is known Wilhelm will make every effort to prevent his proposed trial.

The entire situation has proved embarrassing to the Dutch government. The Hollanders aren't receiving so much about what the former Kaiser has done as what he might do. They see in him a potential fire box, apt to spring to flame at any time.

Sentiment among the Dutch people is divided. One section believes Holland must uphold her dignity and reputation as an asylum or political refugees.

The other section looks upon him as an unwitting agent and favors giving the first opportunity to eject him. They look upon visits of numerous guests to Wilhelm's home as particularly significant.

GOVERNMENT PRINTING OFFICE NEWS.

Bookbinders' Union, No. 4, at 5 o'clock tonight in Musicians' Hall, will take action on the New York route.

The Linotype Relief Association on Tuesday night elected Charles A. French, president; Albert McCurdy, secretary; and Josephus Dreier, treasurer. The president appointed Messrs. Early, Kaufman, Paul and McPadden as the governing board. Messrs. O'Connell and Tuller as auditors. The dividend returned to members of the association for 1918 is $11.

Charles W. Eridwell will conduct his musical exercises in the corridor today. All members of the National Community Chorus, and all who wish to become members, are urged to be on hand today, as important announcements will be made.

William R. Love, of the pressroom, at the request of Assistant Postmaster General Blakeslee, has undertaken the management of the parcel post distribution of food. He has established an office at 613 Sixth street, where orders for produce can be left for delivery direct from the arm. He is selling white potatoes at $1.50 a bushel and sweet potatoes at $1.25 a bushel. Many orders were faced with the chairman of the section yesterday.

The Stars took three games from the Linos in the duckpin contest on the Grand Central alleys Tuesday night. Each team has lost seven games this season.

Henry W. Weber, Albert E. King, Claude McDonald, and Arthur F. Murray are on the sick list in the roofroom.

Eddie Dore, of the monotype casting room, who was injured in a collision on the W. B. & A. on Thanksgiving Day, is recovering.

Pressman Arthur S. Thomas, of the main pressroom, is on the sick list.

Miss Martha Feehan has returned to the proofroom after two weeks' vacation in New York City.

C. P. Kreh has returned to the accounting section after a visit with relatives in Frederick, Md.

James W. Hughes, of the machine shop, has been absent several days in account of illness.

Mrs. Maggie A. Miller, of the pamphlet bindery, is enjoying several weeks' leave.

James O. Macallister has returned on a trip to Brooklyn, leaving Mrs. Macallister to visit relatives another week.

Mr. and Mrs. James Conroy are visiting at their old home in Boston. The following promotions have been announced: George R. Maxwell, helper, 40 cents to caster helper, 55 cents per hour.

Henry G. Schaefer, Charles C. Smith, skilled laborers, 35 cents to helper, 40 cents per hour; Albert Wilkinson, helper, 40 cents to storekeeper, 45 cents per hour; Miss Mary Tondreau, skilled laborer 35 cents to pressfeeder, 40 per hour; Miss Lillian A. Miller, helper, $2.20 to clerk, 3.60; Roscoe E. Baber, James P. Cromwell, Carroll V. Donnelly, linotype operators, 75 cents to proofreaders, 75 cents per hour; Orville H. Taylor, Vernon O. Dinger, linotype operators, 75 cents to compositors, 85 cents per hour; Miss Lucy L. Irmerod, emergency compositor, 75 cents to probationary compositor, 75 cents per hour; Robert S. Weir, emergency compositor, 75 cents to probationary compositor, 75 cents per hour.

POLICE TAKE SHIMMY LESSONS, NOW CENSOR

Worcester, Mass., Dec. 3.—The letters "D. S. S." following the name of a Worcester policeman indicates he was graduated with the degree of "decent shimmy shaker."

Chief of Police George H. Hill decided no "copper" unacquainted with the subtle convulsions of the dance was qualified to judge whether the shimmy was decent or vulgar.

Upon this theory the police force was sent to dancing school. They were graduated in a last wild wiggling competition and are now ready to put the ban on excessive wiggles.

$4,000 Loot Recovered In Danville Safe Theft

Danville, Va., Dec. 3.—Police today found practically all of the money which was stolen from the Dan Valley Motor Company. A broken cash box, bonds, certificates of deposits and other papers were found on the river bank.

No information was given by the police as to the clue which led to finding the money, which amounted to $4,500. A $50 Liberty Bond and $600 in certificates are missing yet.

Harry Petty is held on a robbery charge.

Hubby Jailed Her In Back Room, She Says

A bill for maintenance was filed in the District Supreme Court yesterday by Violet Levitt, against her husband, O. Dinger, linotype operator. She says that "on May 27 last, while walking in Judiciary Square, awaiting her mother, the defendant caught her by the arm, pulled her and compelled her to go to his store where he confined her the balance of the day in a back room."

Rear Admiral Tappan In Serious Condition

Rear Admiral Benjamin Tappan is said to be dying at the Naval Hospital here. Physicians at the hospital said yesterday his condition is serious and they did not expect him to live more than a few weeks. Admiral Tappan formerly was commandant of the Eighth Naval District and entered the Naval Academy in 1871 from Helena, Ark.

Harbors Congress Active.

The principal subject of discussion at the fifteenth convention of the National Rivers and Harbors Congress, which is to be held in Washington, D. C., on the 9th, 10th and 11th of December, will be the legislation which the friends of waterways desire to have embodied in the railroad bill including provisions for the co-ordination of rail and water transportation. Neither the Esch bill, as passed by the House, nor the Cummins bill, which is pending in the Senate, satisfies the waterway people, and they will decide at the convention what more they will ask for.

Theodore Roosevelt's Letters to His Children

Edited by Joseph Bucklin Bishop

Kermit Roosevelt, his wife and children. Quentin succeeded him as the baby of the Roosevelt family.

The nation, and especially the South, was at about this time shocked by the fact that the President had casually invited Booker T. Washington, negro educator, to lunch with him. No public comment ever was made by Roosevelt on this act, which his closest friends always looked upon as an error of judgment. But in this letter to a man who knew the old Southern negro as did none other, the President expresses the somewhat whimsical hope that sectionalism might lose its bitterness through an appreciation of the child-like qualities of the real negro.

The Art of Uncle Remus.

(To Joel Chandler Harris.)
White House, Oct. 12, 1901.

My Dear Harris: It is worth while being President when one's small daughter receives that kind of an autograph gift. When I was younger than she is, my Aunt Annie Bulloch, of Georgia, used to tell me some of the best rabbit stories, especially her rabbit and the fa baby. But (and though I am of the breed rabbit stories) I think I am above all things a more genuine, pathetic tale in all our literature than "Free Joe." Moreover I have felt that all that you write serves to bring our people closer together. I know, of course, the ordinary talk is that an artist should be judged purely by his art; but I am rather a Philistine and like to feel that the art serves a good purpose. Your art is not only an art addition to our sum of national achievement, but it has also always been an addition to the forces that toll for decency, and above all for the blotting out of sectional antagonism.

A Ride and a Pillow Fight.

White House, Oct. 19, 1903.

DEAR KERMIT: I was much pleased at your being made captain of your eleven. I would rather have you captain of the third eleven than playing on the second.

Yesterday afternoon Ethel on Wyoming, mother on Yagena and I on Renow had a long ride, the only incident being meeting a large red automobile, which much shook Renow's nerves, although he behaved as if better than he has hitherto been doing about automobiles. In fact, he behaved so well that I leaned over and gave him a lump of sugar when he had passed the object of terror. The old boy eagerly turning his head around to get it. It was lovely out in the country, with the trees at their very best of the fall coloring. There are no red maples here, but the Virginia creeper and some of the dogwoods give the red, and the hickories, tulip trees and beeches a brilliant yellow, sometimes almost orange.

When we got home mother went up-stairs first and was met by Archie and Quentin, each loaded with pillows and whispering not to let me know that they were in ambush. Then I marched up to the top they assailed me with shrieks and chuckles of delight and then the pillow fight raged up and down the hall. After my bath I read them from Uncle Remus. Usually mother reads them, but now and then, when I think she really must have a holiday from it, I read them myself.

Study and Play.

White House, Oct. 24, 1903.

DEAR TED: I am really greatly pleased at your standing so high in your form, and I am sure that this year it is better for you to be playing where you are in football. I suppose next year you will go back to your position at end, as you would hardly be heavy enough for playing back, or to play behind the center, against teams with big fellows. I repeat that your standing in the class gave me far better than he has hitherto been doing about automobiles. In fact, he behaved so well that I leaned over and gave him a lump of sugar when he had passed the object of terror. The old boy eagerly turning his head around to get it. It was lovely out in the country, with the trees at their very best of the fall coloring. There are no red maples here, but the Virginia creeper and some of the dogwoods give the red, and the hickories, tulip trees and beeches a brilliant yellow, sometimes almost orange.

When we got home mother went up-stairs first and was met by Archie and Quentin, each loaded with pillows and whispering not to let me know that they were in ambush. Then I marched up to the top they assailed me with shrieks and chuckles of delight and then the pillow fight raged up and down the hall. After my bath I read them from Uncle Remus. Usually mother reads them, but now and then, when I think she really must have a holiday from it, I read them myself.

Quentin's First Fall.

White House, Oct. 24, 1903.

DEAR KERMIT: Yesterday I felt rather seedy, having a touch of Cuban fever, my only unpleasant reminiscence of the Santiago campaign. Accordingly, I spent the afternoon in the house lying on the sofa, with a bright fire burning and Mother in the rocking-chair, with her knitting, beside me. I felt so glad that I was not out somewhere in the wilderness, campaigning or hunting, where I would have to walk or ride all day in the rain and then lie out under a brush at night!

When Allan will come from the trainer's I do not know. Rather to my surprise, Romald has won golden opinions and really is a very nice dog. Pickney loves him, and he sits up in the express wagon just as if it was what he had been born to.

Quentin is learning to ride the pony. He had one tumble, which, I think the difference is largely in the way I handle him. He is a very good-natured and gentle horse, but timid and not overwise, and when in a panic his great strength makes him well-nigh uncontrollable. Accordingly, he is a bad horse to try to force by anything. If possible, it is much better to give him a little time, and bring him up as gently as may be to the object of terror. When he behaves well I lean forward and give him a lump of sugar, and now the old boy eagerly puts around his head when I stretch I out my little hand, because I think one of his forelegs is shaky, and I want to spare him all I can. Mother and I have had the most lovely rides imaginable.

Quentin's First Fall.

White House, Oct. 24, 1903.

DEAR KERMIT: Yesterday I felt rather seedy, having a touch of Cuban fever, my only unpleasant reminiscence of the Santiago campaign. Accordingly, I spent the afternoon in the house lying on the sofa, with a bright fire burning and Mother in the rocking-chair, with her knitting, beside me. I felt so glad that I was not out somewhere in the wilderness, campaigning or hunting, where I would have to walk or ride all day in the rain and then lie out under a brush at night!

When Allan will come from the trainer's I do not know. Rather to my surprise, Romald has won golden opinions and really is a very nice dog. Pickney loves him, and he sits up in the express wagon just as if it was what he had been born to.

Quentin is learning to ride the pony. He had one tumble, which, I think the difference is largely in the way I handle him. He is a very good-natured and gentle horse, but timid and not overwise, and when in a panic his great strength makes him well-nigh uncontrollable. Accordingly, he is a bad horse to try to force by anything. If possible, it is much better to give him a little time, and bring him up as gently as may be to the object of terror. When he behaves well I lean forward and give him a lump of sugar, and now the old boy eagerly puts around his head when I stretch I out my little hand, because I think one of his forelegs is shaky, and I want to spare him all I can. Mother and I have had the most lovely rides imaginable.

Navy Yard News

H. Riley, of the torpedo shop, has returned from a week's stay with relatives in Richmond.

L. F. Criller, of the miscellaneous shop, is spending a few days hunting.

Tom Price, of the boiler shop, is entertaining friends from Chicago.

S. Lewis, of the torpedo tube shop, is spending the week in Philadelphia, his former home.

Harry Simpson, of the coppersmith shop, has returned from Eastern Maryland.

J. Marshall, of the miscellaneous shop, has returned from a hurried trip to the bedside of his sick father in Denver.

W. B. Crowley, of the broadside mount shop, is spending a few days in New York in company with his son.

Albert Schaeffer, of the supply department, has returned from an extended trip through the South.

F. S. Cole, of the west gun carriage shop, is entertaining his parents from Dayton, Ohio.

John Paul, of the boiler shop, is enjoying a few days' leave in Baltimore.

Ben F. Roberts, of the broadside mount shop, has returned from a ten days' visit to New York.

E. C. Scott, of the miscellaneous shop, has returned from a short vacation in Southern Virginia.

J. E. Collins, of the torpedo tube shop, is spending this week with relatives in Pennsylvania.

LOCKS MAN IN COFFIN; MAKES HIM PAY DEBT

Cleveland, O., Dec. 3.—Harry Waxman, 35, filed suit for $250 damages here today against Anton Toman, who he charged locked him in a coffin with a corpse to enforce the payment of a bill.

"You bet I promised to pay up when I found what was with me," said Waxman.

W. H. Mason in a suit for absolute divorce in the District Supreme Court yesterday charges that his wife, Ethel Mason, "indulges in flirtations with other men."

BETTER DEAD

Life is a burden when the body is racked with pain. Everything worries and the victim becomes despondent and downhearted. To bring back the sunshine take

GOLD MEDAL HARLEM OIL CAPSULES

The national remedy of Holland for over 100 years; it is an enemy of all pains resulting from kidney, liver and uric acid troubles. All druggists, three sizes. Look for the name Gold Medal on every box and accept no imitation.

THE GIFT OF GIFTS

THE MOST USEFUL XMAS GIFT THAT CAN BE GIVEN, MADE BY DR. WYETH AND STAFF OF EXPERT, CAREFUL, SKILLED DENTISTS

Our Long Life Plates and Everlasting Bridge Work will be a very appropriate gift.

DR. WYETH'S REPUTATION IS TO DENTISTRY what sterling is to silver, for

Dentistry That Lasts

That has been my record for the past 25 years.

Terms of Payment to Suit Examination Free.

My Perfect Suction Teeth Will Not Slip or Drop $5.00	Other Sets of Teeth, $2.00 up.	Fillings, 50c to $1 up.	In gold, silver, amalgam or porcelain.	Gold Crowns and Bridges Work, $3.00—$4.00	$5.00
---	---------------------------------	--------------------------	--	---	--------

Open Every Evening Until 8 o'clock—Sundays, 10 A. M. to 4 P. M. Mailed in attendance. All work fully guaranteed 20 years. Kindly keep name and location in your mind.

Dr. Wyeth, 421-29 7th St. N. W. Opposite Lanesburg & Bro. and over Grand Union Tea Co. Largest and Most Thoroughly Equipped Parlors in Washington. Phone Main 4324.

If You Value Health

Avoid Constipation

---TAKE---

E-Z TABLETS

(They're Easy to Take--Easy to Act)

100 CHOCOLATE-COATED PELLETS

25¢

FOR SALE BY

PEOPLES DRUG STORES

AND OTHER GOOD DRUGGISTS

Or By Mail

KEY CHEMICAL COMPANY

Washington, D. C.

SAGE TEA KEEPS YOUR HAIR DARK

When Mixed with Sulphur It Brings Back Its Beautiful Lustre at Once.

Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the charm of a youthful appearance. Your hair is its charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray and looks streaked, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur restores its natural color. Sage Tea enhances its appearance a hundred-fold.

Don't stay gray! Look young! Either prepare the recipe at home or get from any drug store a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which is merely the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients. Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation because it darkens the hair beautifully, besides, no one can possibly tell, as it darkens so naturally and evenly. You moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, its natural color is restored and it becomes thick, glossy and lustrous, and you appear years younger.

Adv.