

Society

MRS. E. C. DRUM-HUNT.
Mrs. Woodrow Wilson has accepted an invitation to attend the list of patronesses for the brilliant ball to be given at the New Willard the night of Wednesday, April 7, by the Women's Army and Navy League.

The French Ambassador and Mme. Jusserand will entertain at dinner on March 23. Mme. Jusserand, who has been sick for several weeks, is now enjoying better health.

The Spanish Ambassador and Mme. Riano will be hosts at dinner on April 8.

The Italian Ambassador and Baroness Avezzana will be the honor guests at a dinner which Mrs. Henry F. Dimock will give on April 6.

The Secretary of War and Mrs. Baker were the honor guests at a dinner given Gen. and Mrs. Charles B. Drake last evening at the Chevy Chase Club. There were covers for forty. The Peruvian Ambassador and Mme. Peset were among the guests.

Mrs. Edwin T. Meredith will entertain at a luncheon on March 27 in compliment to Mrs. Franklin B. Lane, Mrs. Lane, who with Miss Nancy Lane, has been in New York for several weeks and had planned to come home the first of the week, has postponed her return until tomorrow the next day. Miss Lane will accompany her.

Gen. John J. Pershing is spending a few days in New York and was the guest of honor at dinner last night of Brig. Gen. and Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt.

Mrs. Louise Cromwell Brooks entertained at a dinner party of twenty-two last evening at her residence, 1770 Massachusetts avenue.

Mrs. Grace McMillan Gibson, who has been away for about a week, returned to Washington yesterday.

Mrs. Fruman H. Newberry, who went to Grand Rapids, Mich., last week to join Senator Newberry, will return the first of the week and will be accompanied by the Senator.

Mrs. Elbridge H. Moore, of New York, who has been spending the winter at Congress Hall Hotel, entertained informally at luncheon yesterday afternoon at the Cafe St. Marks. Mrs. Moore will remain here until about the first of May.

Mrs. S. M. B. Young was hostess at a luncheon yesterday afternoon at the Soldiers' Home. It was buffet luncheon, the guests numbering about thirty. Gen. and Mrs. Young will move into Washington about the first of May. Gen. Young has resigned as superintendent of the home. Early in the summer they plan to take a motor trip to the Rocky Mountains. Maj. Gen. and Mrs. George W. Read, the latter a daughter of Gen. Young, will spend Easter week here with him.

Mrs. James A. Reed entertained at a luncheon yesterday.

Mrs. Charles Bromwell entertained at dinner last evening for her daughter, Miss Mildred Bromwell, and a number of her young friends.

Mrs. Walter Wilcox entertained at a luncheon yesterday when Mrs. Alfred Halstead, wife of the American Commissioner at Vienna, was the guest of honor. Mrs. Halstead and Miss Allen Halstead expect to sail for Europe to join Mr. Halstead about April 17.

Mme. Christian Hauge will entertain a number of young people at dinner next Monday evening in honor of her niece, Miss Todd, of Louisville, who will be her guest.

Mrs. Matthew T. Scott, who is visiting her son-in-law and daughter, the former Assistant Secretary of Agriculture and Mrs. Carl Vrooman, at Southern Pines, near Pinehurst, N. C., where they have a cottage, will leave there this evening for a short trip to Illinois, returning here sometime next week.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Cleveland Perkins will entertain at dinner on April 6.

Mrs. Owen Thompson will be hostess at a bridge party next Tuesday afternoon in honor of Mrs. Tom Robinson, of Ventnor, N. J., who is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William E. Orme. Mrs. Robinson was formerly Miss Eloise Orme.

Representative Carl Mages, who was called to Olivet, Mich., by the death of his father, Selah W. Mages, last Saturday, will return the end of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Reeside entertained a large company at dinner last evening at the Chevy Chase Club in compliment to the New York delegation in Congress. Mr. and Mrs. Reeside will entertain a house

Fat That Shows Soon Disappears

Prominent fat that comes and stays where it is not needed in a bureau; a hindrance to activity, a cause of uneasiness. You can take it off the fat where it shows by taking each meal and at bedtime, one Marmola Prescription tablet as the famous prescribers from which they take their name. Buy and try a case today. Your druggist sells them at 75 cents or if you prefer you may write direct to Marmola Co., 86 Woodward Ave., Detroit, Mich. You can thus say good-bye to dieting, exercise and fat.

Cafe St. Marks

913 15th St. Phone Franklin 413

HARRIS EWING.

Mrs. J. KUHIO KALANIANAOLE.

Wife of Prince Kalanianaoale, Delegate to the United States Congress from Hawaii. She has returned home with her husband after a short visit to Washington, the first in several years.

party over the week-end at their place in Annapolis.

Representative and Mrs. John Jacob Rogers entertained a distinguished company at dinner Tuesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Dunn will entertain at dinner this evening at the Cafe St. Marks.

Mrs. Hunter Harris entertained a party at her home last evening. Among the guests were Gen. and Mrs. T. Q. Donaldson and their guest, Mrs. Grant Carpenter, of New York.

Mrs. Thomas P. Gore, wife of Senator Gore, was hostess at a tea dance yesterday afternoon from 5 to 7 o'clock at the Congressional Club in compliment to Miss Vera Radcliffe and Miss Shenbalt, of Cardiff, Wales, who are touring the United States and are at the Shoreham for a few days. It is their first visit to this country. They will leave Washington shortly for a stay at Palm Beach, Fla. Miss Radcliffe's home in Wales, one of the most beautiful estates in that country, is known as "Tal-y-Werydd - Pen-y-Lan" (Above the Storm). Mrs. Gore was assisted by Mrs. James A. Reed, Mrs. John B. Kendrick, Mrs. Joseph I. France, Mrs. Thomas J. Kemp, Mrs. Clarence Connor, Mrs. James Patten, Miss Sara Latimer and Mrs. William A. Rodenberg. The drawing room was decorated with clusters of pink roses and ferns, while the tea table was adorned with red roses.

Senator Gore, who had expected to receive with his wife yesterday, was called out of town the first of the week on a short trip to New York and Boston.

Mrs. Gorgas, wife of the surgeon general, U. S. A., returned, entertained an interesting company of French-speaking women at luncheon at the Highlands yesterday. Though the luncheon was a St. Patrick's day affair nothing but French was spoken and each guest recited a piece or related a short story in French.

Mrs. Henry R. Rea, of Pittsburg, through whose philanthropy the Comfort House of Walter Reed Hospital was established and who so endeared herself to all connected with the Red Cross work and Walter Reed during the time she spent here during the war as field director of the department of military relief has come to Washington and will spend a week at the Red Cross mobilization meeting yesterday, and will remain for the bazaar and exhibition of the handicraft of the soldier patients Red Hospital on Friday all day and all evening. Mrs. Walter Reed, widow of the famous soldier for whom the hospital was named, will be the guest of honor on this occasion, with Mrs. M. W. Ireland, wife of the surgeon general of the United States Army. Among those who will assist are Mrs. John Jacob Rogers, Mrs. T. L. Tallaferra, Mrs. C. D. Warden, Mrs. A. Brainerd Warner, Mrs. Oswald

MRS. SAMUEL MILTON ENTERTAINS AT LUNCHEON.
Mrs. Samuel Burligh Milton entertained at a beautifully appointed luncheon Tuesday afternoon for Mrs. Arthur L. Murray, of Wilmington, Del., formerly Miss Frances Washington. Covers were laid for eight. Invited to meet Mrs. Kerr were Misses Marie J. McGuire, Helen Hill Hopkins, Maria Davidson, Louise Genger, Margaret Ripley and Nathalie Bousch Asher, of Alexandria, Mrs. Kerr is an active member of the D. A. R., and Children of the Revolution and is the head of that organization in Delaware.

Mrs. Samuel Burligh Milton will be at home informally next Sunday afternoon from 4 to 7 o'clock.

The regular fortnightly salon of the Arts Club of Washington was held Tuesday evening, when Claude de Bussey's prize one act opera "L'Enfant Frigidin" was presented in concert form for the first time in Washington. The following musicians took part: Lia, Azazel's soprano; Azael, A. Young Galleau, Paul Blyden, tenor; Simeon, Lia's spouse; Arthur L. Murray, barytone; Mrs. Paul Blyden at the piano.

Some introductory remarks on the opera were made by Rev. F. Ward Denys, and Dr. Mitchell Carroll presided.

The members of the Woman's Army and Navy League are delighted that Mrs. Wilson has graciously consented to head the list of patronesses for their Easter Ball, to be given this year at the New Willard Hotel on April 7.

Mme. Telesanu, wife of the military attaché of the Rumanian legation and Mrs. T. Septimus Austin presided at the supper table at the musical drill at the Riding and Hunt Club Tuesday evening. Dancing and a delightful supper followed the ride. Mrs. Frank S. Hight was hostess. Among the guests who attended the ride and supper were: Col. and Mrs. C. P. George, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Upson, Mr. and Mrs. Frank S. Hight, Mrs. James A. Drain,

Mrs. Steed, Mrs. E. R. Walmesley, Mrs. J. B. Butler, Mrs. C. F. Mar, Mrs. Gladys Kalimo, Miss Marion Trumble, Miss Lovette, Miss Lockhart, Col. Rhoades, Col. B. O. Lewis, Col. Symon, Capt. Theodore Jewell, Capt. Lavouri, Lieut. W. T. Hill, Dr. Gratiama, Lieut. Tunstall, W. G. Alexander, H. R. Burton, Mr. Mack, the Misses Warsmley, Miss Ellis, Mr. and Mrs. Max Kaufmann, Col. Robert Paxton, N. H. Lahovary, Capt. Barnea, Miss Madeleine Austin and Jack Delbert.

The regular drill was followed by a stall race in which the winners were Miss Lefoyne Dunlop, Miss Ruth Orton, Col. McCord and Lieut. Journet. Among others who rode in the drill were Mrs. Charles Patterson, Miss W. Sinclair Bowen, Mrs. James Cockrell, Maj. Julia Mattis, Miss Helen Blodgett, Miss Ruth Orton, Miss Frances Carpenter, Miss Marion Drain, Miss Ruth Hitchcock, Miss Wahl, Miss Heron, the Misses Dunlop, Miss Eugenia Holcombe, Maj. Telesanu, Col. McCord, Col. William Horton, Dr. J. B. Hubrecht, Maj. George Oakley, Totten, Jr., Capt. Harker, Capt. Ca. Greeley, Capt. Peasley, Lieut. Journet, Mr. Lorenzo, Mr. Cavalleri, F. J. Chapin, Mr. Fisher and C. X. Brands.

The ride next Tuesday evening will be the last indoor ride of the season. Miss Phyllis Tiffin and Miss Barbara Hight will entertain at luncheon next Saturday following the regular weekly gymkhana.

Among the members of Washington society who are stopping at the Hotel Chatham, New York, this week are Mrs. Elizabeth Walmesley, Mrs. and Miss Evans, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Ewell and S. H. Day.

The League of American Penwomen has planned a program of unusual interest for Tuesday, Friday afternoon tea of this week. Mr. and Mrs. Frederic Wile will be the guests of honor. Mr. Wile, who is at present Washington correspondent for the Philadelphia Public Ledger, was in the city for two years correspondent of the London Mail in Berlin and for about five years in London. He will speak on "Uncle Sam, John Bull and the Rest of the World."

Mrs. Samuel Burligh Milton will give a musical program. Mrs. Mansfield, wife of Senator Mansfield, of Texas, will accompany Mrs. Milton. Miss Margaret Mansfield, her daughter, will give a violin solo, and will play an obligato to one of Mrs. Milton's own compositions, "Sweetheart."

Mrs. Mary A. E. McNeil will be the hostess for the afternoon, assisted by Mrs. H. M. Hoar, Miss Anna E. Hoyle, Miss Uranie Lege, and Miss Mabel Louise White.

Judge Jean Norris, of New York, who will arrive today, will be the guest of Miss Ida May Moyers. Judge Norris will speak at the Women's City Club today.

A number of entertainments have been arranged in her honor.

Women's Clubs

The Delta Delta Delta Sorority will hold a meeting this evening at the Y. W. C. A. Blue Triangle House, North Capitol and A streets.

The Women's Press Club will hold its weekly meeting today from 12:30 to 2 o'clock. Luncheon will be served at 12:45.

The Good Health Club of the Women's Evening Club will meet this evening at 720 13th street. Dr. Sylvia Wilson will talk.

BOOKS FOR KIDDIES IN PUBLIC LIBRARY

There are books and books and most of us have such decided preferences that we never think of consulting others about just what we'll read next. Our taste, however, was developed when we were children and the Public Library has just such interesting books for youngsters and for the younger members of the family. They all make good reading.

"Pur Trail Adventurers," by Dillon Wallace.
A story of fur traders, half-breeds, Indians and life in the open.
"Jacqueline of the Carrier Pigeons," by A. H. Seaman.
How a plucky boy and girl helped save Leyden from the Spanish Inquisition.
"Jim Davis," by John Masefield.
An English boy discovers by accident a smuggler's cave, and has some exciting adventures as a consequence.

"Sarah Brewster's Relatives," by E. W. Peattie.
How a lonely, unhappy New York girl finds comradeship and good times with her cousins in the West.
"Prince and the Pauper," by Mark Twain.
How the little prince of England changed places with a street waif and the curious adventures of both.

INDIAN CHIEF HUNTS WIFE LOST 17 YEARS

Jack Teekahlanneesky, brave of the Cherokee tribe, is searching the Oklahoma hills for his squaw and his child.

Teekahlanneesky last saw the pair between the bars in the end window of "Ten Spot," the prison car that carried him from Vinita to Leavenworth prison seventeen years ago, to begin a life term for a killing that white men said was a murder.

The Night Hawks were Cherokee sworn to resist the white invasion with their lives.

Walt, a Cherokee, top, helped white men against his brothers. The Night Hawks drew lots. Teekahlanneesky took the short straw from the medicine man's hand.

President Wilson pardoned Teekahlanneesky. The brave came to Muskogee, stayed one night and disappeared. Close to his home in the eastern part of the state, to search for his squaw and child.

Y.W.C.A. HONORS MRS. CUSHMAN

Will Give Luncheon for Chairman of War Work Council Today.

Mrs. William Hamilton Bayly, active president of the Young Women's Christian Association, will preside at the luncheon which the association is giving at its headquarters, 1333 F street, today in honor of Mrs. James S. Cushman, of New York. Mrs. Bayly is acting in the place of Mrs. Thomas Riley Marshall, whose unavoidable absence is due to the fact that she and the Vice President are still in Arizona, where they went immediately following the death of their foster son.

Mrs. Cushman to speak. Mrs. Cushman will speak on "Reconstruction Work Among Women in This Country and Abroad," a subject on which she has much of interest to tell, for she was chairman of the Y. W. C. A.'s war work council throughout the war, and traveled all over Europe in its interest. She is a woman of charming personality, a social leader in New York, and has been vice president of the association's national board ever since its formation.

Abroad she was everywhere received with the warmest attention and accorded signal honor. Mme. Poincare entertained in her honor at the Elysee, selecting Mothers' Day as peculiarly appropriate for such hospitality. She was awarded a French decoration in recognition of Uncle Sam's D. S. M. and Queen Mary's Medal, and on January 31 she christened the Blue Triangle, a food carrier, and the first ship to be named the Emergency Ship Corporation after the prohibition amendment went into force—with water, of course.

Other speakers. Other speakers at today's luncheon will be Miss Mabel K. Stafford, of the national board of the Y. W. C. A., who will discuss briefly post-war conditions among women; and Miss Florence Brown, who will tell of present-day needs of girls right here in Washington. Miss Stafford is a member of a commission sent to the United States by the organization to study post-war conditions, especially among women and children. Miss Brown needs no introduction in Washington.

Mrs. Marshall, who is honorary president of the Y. W. C. A. of the District of Columbia—Mrs. Bayly being the active president—has been greatly interested in the arrangement of this luncheon, which she and Mrs. Charles W. Richardson planned together. The invitations to between 200 and 300 of the most influential women in Washington—in official and diplomatic as well as resident circles—were printed in Mrs. Marshall's name, and it seems a pity that she could not have seen it through. But Mrs. Richardson doubled her efforts when she found that she had to "work the war," and there is every indication that she has arranged one of the most successful functions of the sort ever given in Washington.

Yellow Men Sleep

By JEREMY LANE. (Copyright, 1919, by The Century Co.)

CHAPTER XXII.—Continued.

The ancient lined face was gray, the neck very thin, the shoulders pressing sharply through the faded robe. Save for the expanse of brow, and the deep torture in his eyes, Chee Ming might have been a beggar from the gates of Peking. There was a feverish tension about his mouth. He seemed impatient to drink Con's answer, yet half knowing it would be bitter.

"Speak!" he whispered. Con heard steps in the hall beyond, and realized that this interview was at an end. Glancing back at Chee Ming's face, he was startled to find a look of intense supplication, the aged throat caught into silence. The eyes were piteous. Ignoring the facts, Levington nodded, slowly. At once the Chinese closed his eyes, winked his more tightly, then slipped forward in the chair. A line of blood dripped from one corner of his mouth. Chee Ming had lived only to receive the promise of his conqueror.

PENNSY USES CARS TO HOUSE WORKERS

People of the capital city of Pennsylvania believe foreign capitals have nothing on Harrisburg when it comes to a matter of house storage and novel means to overcome the condition. Harrisburg more tightly, then slipped forward in the chair. A line of blood dripped from one corner of his mouth. Chee Ming had lived only to receive the promise of his conqueror.

Recent changes in the Pennsylvania lines have made Harrisburg a railroad center. As a result, a large number of men were sent to an overcrowded city. The families will remain in Altoona until other accommodations can be found. Meanwhile the men are eating their meals at the station restaurant.

Impossible to Identify Soldier Dead, Says Expert

"It is impossible—it will be inexhaustibly harrowing if the next of kin insist upon holding the War Department to its promise of bringing home the remains of their loved ones." So says Paul Kaufman, head of the Graves Registration Bureau of the Red Cross. Kaufman is in a position to know more than anybody outside of the Graves Registration Service of the army, the difficulties the latter experienced in identifying the identity of the dead, and he knows, too, the difficulties to be faced in disinterring these bodies and transporting them to their homes.

"I call those men heroes," he says, "the men in the Graves Registration Service of the army. There are 15,000 of them. Their task was to disinter the bodies of Americans scattered all over France and concentrate them in one large cemetery, that of Romagne, just outside Paris, and mark those that were left in other areas.

Letters we get in this department of the Red Cross asking us to aid in returning bodies are pathetic in their ignorance of the actual conditions."

London Society Women Become Cloak Models

Titled mannequins—society women hit by the war—are becoming common in the fashionable district of London.

Lady Edgerton, widow of a former British ambassador to Rome, started the craze. At her dress store in Orchard street the latest creations are displayed by women well-known in the social world, including the Hon. Mrs. Arthur Brodrick.

The titled mannequins are paid a percentage of the money spent by customers, who are attracted by the chance of buying styles tastefully worn by the new commercial aristocracy of England.

Woodward & Lothrop

New York—WASHINGTON—Paris

A Quantity of Women's Georgette Blouses

Reduced Today to $7.50

These are all desirable waists—this season's models—taken from our regular stock and greatly reduced for today.

They are tailored and dress models of good quality Georgette crepe, in navy, taupe, flesh, white, black, bisque, and gray.

Some of the tailored blouses are finished with hand-drawn hemstitching.

The more dressy styles are beaded, embroidered, and lace trimmed. These have long or short sleeves; square, round, and V-necks, and are with or without collars.

Some are in combination effects, such as bisque and blue and bisque and gray.

A Sale of British Aeroplane Linen

95c Yard

We have just secured another limited quantity of British Aeroplane Linen to sell at the low price of 95c a yard. It is a durable, good-looking pure flax fabric.

Excellent for making boys' wash suits, women's house dresses, motor coats, misses' sports dresses, furniture slip covers, men's suit linings and pockets and women's waists.

36 inches wide. Special price, 95c yard.

THE BIBLE FEW FOLKS HAVE GRAY HAIR NOW

CHAPTER XVII.—Continued.

14 For it is the life of all flesh; the blood of it is for the life (thereof); therefore I said unto the children of Israel, Ye shall eat the blood of no man; for the life of all flesh is the blood thereof; whosoever eateth it shall be cut off.

15 And every soul that eateth that which died of itself, or that which was torn with beasts, whether it be one of your own country, or a stranger, he shall both wash his clothes, and bathe himself in water, and be unclean until the even; then shall he be clean.

16 But if he wash them not, nor bathe his flesh; then he shall bear his iniquity.

CHAPTER 18.

1 Unlawful marriages. 19 Unlawful lusts. And the Lord spake unto Moses, saying, 2 Speak unto the children of Israel and say unto them, I am the Lord your God. 3 After the doings of the land of Egypt, wherein ye dwelt, shall ye not do; and after the doings of the land of Canaan, whither I bring you, shall ye not do; neither shall ye walk in their ordinances. 4 Ye shall do my judgments, and keep mine ordinances, to walk therein; I am the Lord your God. (To Be Continued.)

ELK GROVE BUTTER

At All Leading Grocers. Golden & Company Distributors