TWO TENANTS ORDERED OUT

Rent Board Favors Ouster Proceedings Pending Since August, 1918.

What the Salsbury Resolution and the Municipal Court, the District Supreme Court and the Court of Appeals failed to do in 1918 toward the tenant, finally, the Rent Commission proceedings started by Mrs. Maud B. Crawford to regain possession of her home at 1920 Sixteenth street northwest, over the protest of the tenant, Mrs. Patsy Wittemore, was accomplished yesterday by the Rent Commission.

In declaring the notice to quit, served on Mrs. Wittemore by Mrs. Crawford on August 27, 1918, to be legally sufficient and made in good faith, the Rent Commission extended its authority before the date of its birth by the Rent Commission. Another ouster proceeding, dated December 20, 1919, when neither the Ball rent law nor the Salsbury resolution was in effect, was also decided by the commission yesterday in recognizing Mrs. Wittemore as the tenant and Mrs. Crawford as the landlord.

In two cases the Rent Commission refused to recognize as legally sufficient the owners' demands that tenants quit their premises. Minnie Hays, tenant of 215 Third street southeast, need not quit the premises in favor of Henry E. Palmer, the owner. The other case involved the house on door, at 217 Third street southeast, occupied by Miriam Benjamin, who contested the efforts of John J. Monaghan, the owner, to oust her.

"Candy Lady" Soon To Become Bride

The engagement of Miss Mary Elizabeth Evans, proprietress of the famous "Mary Elizabeth" tea and candy rooms on Fifth avenue, New York, to Henry D. Sharpe, of Providence, R. I., adds a new chapter to a most interesting American business romance. Miss Evans' grandfather, Judge Henry Riegel, of Syracuse, died when she was a little girl and she added to the family income by making candy in her own home and selling it. When she reached 15 years her business had grown into a candy kitchen which she sold to her father. Then she came to New York and prospered amazingly. During the war she offered her "Mary Elizabeth" shops as an experiment station for trying out government recipes.

HOUSE GRANTS HOSPITAL FUND

Passes Lanham Measure Providing $960,419 for Mt. Alto.

Without a record vote the House yesterday passed the Lanham bill authorizing expenditure from funds previously appropriated, of $960,419 for purchase and further improvement of the National School of Domestic Art and Science at 2650 Wisconsin avenue northwest.

The bill provides that the buildings and grounds be converted into a hospital and sanitarium for discharged sick and disabled soldiers, sailors and Marines. The Surgeon General of the Public Health Service recommended that the government purchase the Mt. Alto property.

Of the total appropriation $460,000 is allotted for purchase of the site and buildings, leaving $500,419 for the enlargement of hospital facilities. It is estimated by the Surgeon General that this appropriation would provide beds and hospital facilities for at least 300 soldiers and will meet existing needs.

SEEK STUDENTS FOR FARM WORK

Secretary of Agriculture Appeals to George Washington University Men.

Secretary of Agriculture Meredith has appealed to George Washington University students to offer their services as farm hands this summer to help forestall the threatened serious shortage of food supplies. In a letter to William Miller Collier, president of the university, he explains that unless students prefer their services, farmers will be forced to curtail plantings.

"Our country faces the possible curtailment of food production due to a shortage of farm labor—a shortage that promises to increase as the summer advances," says Secretary Meredith. "May I urge that you bring this situation to the attention of the students with the suggestion that, if possible, they spend their summer vacations helping on the farms. A considerable number of college men already make this a practice."

"This year there is a special need for such help on the farms because of the importance of maintaining a normal production. Reports received by the department show that the present supply of hired farm labor is 15 per cent less than last year and approximately 72 per cent of the normal supply—which was almost exactly the situation in 1918.

"In consequence, the food supply may be measurably reduced unless assistance is given. If within the next week students will declare their readiness to aid during the coming summer, farmers will be more likely to make normal plantings."

Successful Complexion Renewing Treatment

A treatment for sallow, muddied, freckled or blotchy complexions that is always successful is the nightly application of ordinary mercurized wax for from one to two weeks. This method is sure to succeed for the simple reason that it literally takes off and discards the old complexion. The wax possesses the peculiar property of absorbing the worn-out, faded or discolored surface skin, with all its imperfections. This is done daily, in fine, almost invisible particles, that so inconspicuously and discomfort is experienced—and the most careful observer cannot detect the use of this treatment.

Feeling Bad---

"What's the matter?" "Oh, I don't know. Just feel bad. Not what you would call sick, only stupid, sleepy and sluggish. Don't feel like doing anything. These conditions are truly nuisances, and it is a false notion to think that you are sick every time you feel bad. For health is a queer creature; it seldom remains in a perfect condition, nurse or abuse it as you choose, it always acts according to its own laws. These feeling-bad conditions are often due to changes of the season of the year, like Spring when the sap is going up and the feeling bad is going down. They are due largely to the deposits of invisible little crystals of Uric Acid in the blood and kidneys. These little crystals are at times very irritating and unless removed are going to make you sluggish and feel bad all over. Get rid of them at once by flushing them out with suitable remedies, not the kind that hurts you but hurts them, and the best remedy I know of for these special conditions is which will keep these little crystals in a soluble form and at the same time promote painless discharges. It combines the properties of these standard remedies with the alkaline effect of Potash, and this combination has a pleasant taste and is devoid of the slightest irritating influence upon the digestive tract. Under its influence the gouty or rheumatic pains subside, the urine becomes clear and is passed in large quantities and the gravel if present disappears. A very pleasant and palatable mixture, it mixes with water without turning turbid. It contains no sugar of any kind, so it is a bottle by mail or messenger to your home without delay by Street & Co., Druggists, 15th and H Streets N. E., Washington, D. C.

Buchu and Hops
