Aroused would have compelled the President to call the army to 120,000 by July 1. The concession, however, is wholly inadequate in the opinion of the Senate and the War Department. When the army size question was brought up in the House, Representative Kahn, of California, chairman of the Military Affairs Committee, moved to agree to the Senate amendment which would allow gradual reduction of the army to 120,000 on May 1, 1922. His motion was beaten. Representative Anthony, of Kansas, in charge of the army bill, then moved to allow $77,000,000 for pay of enlisted men in the army, the effect of which would be to force a reduction to 150,000 by October 1. This was carried. Deaby Takes Hand. The Democrats and a few Republicans vigorously opposed both the Kahn and the Anthony motions. Representative Deaby, of Massachusetts, Democratic floor leader, declared that unless army and navy expenditures were radically reduced the country will be compelled to bear an annual tax burden of $5,000,000,000. While the controversy was raging over the size of the army, Secretary Denby went to the aid of the Senate in its fight for a larger navy. Mr. Denby's report to the House, Dexter, acting chairman of the Naval Affairs Committee, as follows: "It is my firm and unalterable opinion that for the proper administration of the United States navy there should be an enlisted personnel of 120,000 men. To my mind this is one of the most vital features of the naval program." Further pressure was exerted upon Representative Kelley, of Michigan, chairman of the House conferees, conferred with Secretary Weeks. But House leaders remained adamant and declared they would support no circumstances reduction of their position. The naval bill will be allowed to rest until next week, it was stated, when renewed attempts at a compromise might be made. Discuss Peace Also. Republican conferees also met again yesterday on terminating the technical state of war. Senator Lodge said that progress had been made in reconciling the differences between the two houses over the Knox and Porter resolutions. Holy Cross Alumni Elect. Miss Marie L. Tricou was elected president of the Alumni Association of Holy Cross Academy at the annual meeting of the association held at Wardman Park Inn. Other officers elected were Miss Alice Hoover, first vice president; Mrs. Frederick Seibold, second vice president; Miss Eugenie Lightaud, recording secretary; Mrs. George Thomas, corresponding secretary; Miss Mildred Hechmer, treasurer; Miss Rea von Cullin, historian; Miss M. Morris Wampler for a new trial on behalf of Jules (Nick) Arnstein and his alleged associates will be heard this morning by Justice Siddons in Criminal Court No. 1. Arnstein, together with David W. Sullivan, Indorse (Nick) Cohen, Wilen W. Eastersday and Norman S. Bowles, were convicted on a joint charge of bringing stolen securities into the District. Commencement Starts. IN BED EIGHT MONTHS. Cause—Change of Life. How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Got Me Up. Afton, Tenn.—"I want other suffering women to know what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. During the Change of Life I was in bed for eight months and had two good doctors treating me but they did me no good. A friend advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which I did and in a short time felt better. I had all kinds of bad spells, but they all left me. Now when I feel weak and nervous I take the Vegetable Compound and it always does me good. I wish all women would try it during the Change of Life for I know it will do them good." —Mrs. A. KELLER, Afton, Tennessee. Women from forty-five to fifty years of age should take warning from such symptoms as heat flashes, palpitation of the heart, smothering or fainting spells, or spots before the eyes, and prepare the system for this perfectly natural change by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It has helped many, many women through this trying period, just as it did Mrs. Keller.
