THE HERALD BUREAU, A. S. Doniphan, 727 King Street, ALEXANDRIA, Va., August 10.—The new gas holder at the city gas plant today was put in operation for the first time. It has a capacity of 200,000 cubic feet. In addition to the holder, a new water gas set recently was installed with a capacity of 250,000 cubic feet.

The plant is undergoing a general overhauling. A new governor system is being installed to increase the flow of gas. Superintendent H. L. Middleton stated today that the city soon will have one of the most up-to-date gas plants in this section. Bids for $300,000 6 per cent bonds will be opened at noon tomorrow in the chamber of common council. The bonds will be awarded the highest bidder. The bonds are dated October 1, 1921, and interest is payable semi-annually. Money will be used for streets and schools. Beginning October 1, 1924, they are to be paid off at the rate of $5,000 a year.

The Club recently put on benefit performances for St. Rita's and St. Anthony's parishes, and in recognition of the work the performers are to be the guests of Father Smet. Members of this club also plan an outing to Benedict, Md., Sunday, August 27.

Plans have been made by the Old Dominion Boat Club for a regatta to be held at Lakeside, Va., tomorrow. A large number of events have been arranged for the members of the club. Mayor Duncan has directed the members of the police department to warn all persons, who fall to have grass and weeds removed from their sidewalks and gutters, that they are liable to arrest.

PUSH FARM BILL BEFORE VACATION

The bill providing $1,000,000,000 additional credits to promote exportation of farm products was added yesterday to the list of measures which must receive final action before Congress recesses.

This measure and the revision bills are passed by the House before the end of next week, both Houses will adjourn August 20 for thirty days. Decision to this effect was reached at a White House conference attended by President Harding, Senator Lodge and Senator Curtis. Leaders are confident no difficulty will be encountered in cleaning up the program in time to adjourn then.

1921 WITHDRAWALS OF WHISKY LOWER

Withdrawals of whisky from bonded warehouses during the first six months of this year amounted to 1,487,305 gallons, as compared with 1,170,598 gallons during the corresponding period last year. The Bureau of Internal Revenue announced yesterday.

The decrease was partly accounted for by the fact that during February, March and April of this year a ban was placed on all withdrawals. A similar falling off is noted in sales of spirits for non-beverage spirits. In the first six months of 1920 these sales amounted to $42,228,993 and in 1921 to only $27,916,480.

Soldiers to Buy Own Clothes on U.S. Allowance

Gen. Pershing has restored the "clothing money allowance" to enlisted men. It was announced yesterday. Beginning October 1, instead of having uniforms issued to them, the soldiers will receive a cash allowance to cover their purchase. The order, according to Gen. Pershing, "will promote thrift on the part of the enlisted men, in that he becomes personally interested in caring for his own outfit. A careful man will be rewarded by saving on his clothing money on discharge. The amount of the allowance has not yet been determined."

MAY DELAY TARIFF TO NEXT WINTER

That the Fordney permanent tariff bill will be delayed possibly until the winter session of Congress was indicated yesterday when Representative Young of North Dakota, author of the emergency tariff measure, introduced a bill in the House to extend the life of the emergency law for two months from November 27.

The delay to which the Fordney bill is being subjected while the Senate Finance Committee is completely rewriting it, was discussed at Tuesday's White House conference, attended by Republican House leaders and Republican members of the Ways and Means Committee.

It was decided at the conference, it became known yesterday, that the life of the emergency law should be extended to bridge the law over until the permanent law is passed by Congress.

U.S. RUSSIAN RELIEF DIRECTOR MAY GO TO GENEVA PARLEY

Text of Hoover's Cable to Switzerland on Proposed Conference.

In acknowledging an invitation sent to all associations interested in Russian relief to attend a conference in Geneva on August 15, Herbert Hoover, head of the American Relief Administration, yesterday made public the text of a cablegram to former President Ador of Switzerland, who extended the invitations designed to obtain full coordination of relief work. Mr. Hoover's cable states: "I have the honor to acknowledge your invitation to the American Relief Administration to send a representative to a conference of private charitable bodies to be held at Geneva on August 15 for consideration of measures for relief of Russian famine. The great concern felt by the American people for the suffering in Russia is evidenced by their general approval of the initiative already taken by this association and I am sure that they would wish the American Relief Administration to support and co-operate in every substantial effort which can be made by other nations to further relieve the situation. This association will therefore endeavor to send their representative to Geneva, although the notice is short and our European directors are en route to Riga."

Must Face Real Issues.

"If this discussion is to become of fruitful result it must be one that we must frankly face the real issues involved. "First—That the famine in Russia is of an extent entirely beyond the resources of all available private charities of the world especially in these times of economic hardship. "Second—Even were funds available for food, the relief of Russia involves the rehabilitation of transportation of agriculture and of industry necessitating measures again beyond the reach of charity. "Third—That the causes of the famine are such that they will be recurrent every year until there is much further change in the economic system of Russia. "Private Charity Needed. "On the other hand, I am convinced that private charity should not be remiss in saving all the lives it possibly can. The present situation is so far from hopeless that the available charitable funds in America for this purpose have been subscribed almost exclusively for children and for medical supplies. We have the assurance of satisfactory arrangement with the Soviet authorities, already initiated large shipments to save as many children as our resources will permit. We can also secure some support to adults. "It appears to me that in discussing co-ordination of charitable bodies of different nationalities, it must be borne in mind that provision of private charity carries with it an obligation for distribution and administration, the responsibility of which cannot be delegated, nor can the responsibility involved in the administration in famine areas be shared with any degree of efficiency and discipline in the hands of mixed boards. Moreover, it is my belief that the experience of the past seven years has fully equipped each nationality with experience and skill and that each country possesses men of ample knowledge of special Russian conditions. "Wants More Definite Facts. "There can be no question as to the desirability of co-ordination of the work of the different national associations. It appears to me that the basis of such co-ordination should be: (1) The determination of a specific number of children or adults or the special branch of relief, the financial burden of which would be positively undertaken by each association. (2) The assignment of particular work or help to each association within its resources. In this light it seems to me the most constructive service that could come out of such a conference as you have suggested would be the requirement of a definite statement as to exactly how many persons each national association would undertake to guarantee in subsistence until the next harvest, at what date they could undertake actual relief, the amount of money resources of such associations definitely available for this purpose. Without this data it appears to me that the conference can be of no practical result, while with this knowledge the actual work of co-ordination of the efforts of all societies could subsequently be determined by the heads of the organizations upon the ground in Russia itself. "Generally, it appears to me that co-ordination of distribution can only be practical after actual contact with the situation in Russia and that this step cannot be taken to any purpose without a prior and immediate knowledge of what resources can be relied upon."
