Druggists Pay Liquor
Licenses of $75 Each

FROSTBURG, Md., Oct. 3.—Some of the druggists who dispense liquor on prescription have yielded to the contention of the city authorities that they pay a corporation license of $75 for the privilege.

The druggists at first contended the tax was unfair, as they did not sell liquor in the general sense of the term. Later it was found that a decision of the Court of Appeals upheld the contention that the corporation tax was collectible from druggists dispensing liquor under Federal permit.

SIXTEEN NEGROES
ARRESTED IN RAID

Part of Armed Band Who Had Warned Officers to Keep Away.

DANVILLE, Va., Oct. 3.—Sixteen negroes have been placed in Hall-fax jail following a raid made by a posse of Federal and State officers at News Ferry, where on Friday three raiding officers were held up by about a score of colored men who warned the white men to "leave that section alone."

According to Sheriff Luther Rice, a dozen or more shots were fired at the officers before they withdrew in the face of superior numbers. They had searched the house of a negro for liquor and on reaching the public road found a group of negroes, all armed, in a menacing mood. Another party of armed negroes next swarmed out of a nearby house and leveled shotguns called on the officers to leave.

The following day an augmented white posse went into the section and the negroes, some of whom were identified, were arrested without difficulty.

According to the officers, William Woody, a negro, is leader of the movement against the officers and he is in jail.

JAPS DEPLORE WAR
WITH U. S. IS CLAIM

Maurice Francis Egan Says
Japanese Resent Racial Question.

"The majority of the people of Japan do not want war with the United States," Maurice Francis Egan declares in Columbia, the monthly magazine published by the Knights of Columbus, for October.

"Since we have assumed to be a stepfather to the Philippines, Japan comes almost as near to us as Cuba," the former United States Minister to Denmark writes in a study of the relations between Japan and the United States. "Japan resents the distinction made against her in the matter of immigration by England and the United States and it requires all the tact of the present distinguished Ambassador from Japan to so arrange the relations of his country with us so that the haughty, racist spirit of the Japanese may not be the bar in the way of any amicable arrangements."

Dr. Egan recounts an incident at the peace conference when Francis Clemenceau of France, indignantly hearing a Japanese delegate, leaned across the table and asked: "What does the little one say?" as illustrating the reason Japan has for resenting the Caucasian peoples.
He adds that a small group of Philippines tries to bolster up an "artificial demand for independence" by pretending to turn to Japan for aid, and concludes by urging the United States government to purchase, for strategic reasons, the Gallipagos Islands in the Pacific, urging a reasonable tolerance for Japanese immigration ambitions and setting up of her own Monroe doctrine in Asia, and stating that the K. O. C. can be a powerful factor in allaying chancelism. He also asserts that Japan politicians have spoiled the efforts of Catholic missionaries in Japan.

One of the most optimistic signs of the present industrial situation is revealed by Supreme Secretary William J. McGinley in his analysis of registrations for the Knights of Columbus national evening school system for the 1921-22 term.

"There is an unprecedented demand for technical training," he finds. "We have had the briskest registration period in the three years, the number of students has been established, and 95 per cent of the students enrolling for K. of C. courses have elected to take what are known as livelihood courses—mechanical training designed to aid them in following trade vocations such as telegraphy, acetylene welding, auto mechanics, plumbing, painting, etc."

A substantial percentage of the 50,000 persons so far registered are at present unemployed, but their search for employment has improved them with the necessity of being so well equipped to find them for work at a specialized calling. More than 50 per cent of those registering in the 130 K. of C. schools are former service men and women who receive free tuition."

BUILDING PERMITS
TOTAL $1,841,944

Washington builders received 698 permits for operations costing $1, 841,944, during September, according to the report issued by John P. Healy, building inspector, yesterday.

Seventy-six per cent of the building was done in the suburbs, the report showed. One apartment house, one monastery, 168 houses and 228 garages were erected, and six elevators and twenty-eight motors were installed. Healy reported.

Cupid Starts October
With Rush, Bagging 74

The annual crop of October brides started off with a rush yesterday.
Thirty-seven couples exchanged their freedom for a marriage license and left the court house $1 poorer.

Col. William A. Kroll, emissary of Cupid, was too busy writing licenses to say much about the prospects of this October being a world-beater for marriage licenses, but from his expression as he tucked the last $1 bill in the drawer, one would think that he was prepared for an extra heavy season.
