

BARGAIN COUNTER PARLEY METHODS WILL NOT SUFFICE

Rites for Unknown Remind Delegates of Their Solemn Duties

By H. WICKHAM STEED, Editor of the London Times.

The stage is now being set for the opening sitting of the conference tomorrow. Today will be devoted to the "unknown warrior" ceremony at Arlington cemetery.

In any case, the shadow of the great war and the imperfections of the Versailles treaty would loom large across the Washington conference.

Lesson of Great War.

The outstanding lesson of the great war, when viewed in transatlantic perspective, is the disastrous failure of the attempt to secure through military preparation and a preponderance of armed strength the mastery over other peoples.

This truth, I believe, has already permeated the minds of the principal European delegations.

Of the attitude of the Japanese and Chinese delegations nothing is definitely known.

But as I have before insisted, suggestions of this kind possess little practical value until the political issues have been decided.

The test of the Japanese position will come when the future of China is under consideration.

See Value of Publicity. The strong interest of the American public in the conference was again indicated Wednesday by the adoption in the Senate of a resolution in favor of the largest practicable measure of publicity for the proceedings.

French Find Cigar Coupons Phoney

Proffer Green Certificates to Meet Purchase and Get Laugh.

Some members of the French delegation believe cigar store coupons are phoney; or did until they tried to spend them. Buying cigars and cigarettes, several delegates paid for them in large bills.

There's no use in us saving up 1,000,000 coupons to get an automobile; we won't be here long enough, said one of the delegates.

WEEK NEEDED TO ORGANIZE PARLEY WORK

There is very little enthusiasm concerning results. It is suggested that this conference may end in a clarified atmosphere and a submission of points to committees, and that a new conference will be called in about a year.

In the instructions given to the Japanese delegates, as reported from Tokyo yesterday, the Anglo-Japanese alliance is referred to as "an adamant rock assuring the maintenance of peace in the Orient for the past twenty years."

Secrecy in discussing disarmament and Pacific problems will be used to speed up the conference.

The United States government has agreed on discussion "in camera" by the committees which will handle the different questions on the agenda.

The State Department announced yesterday that following the opening session on Saturday there will be a secret meeting on Monday of the committees and probably a public meeting on Tuesday.

The committee on Pacific problems will be composed of delegates from the nine nations participating, the "Big Five," and delegates from the "Little Four."

Premier Briand Needed at Home

French Press Accuses Lloyd George of Starting Trouble.

PARIS, Nov. 10.—The culmination of the series of discords, which the French press declares can be attributed to a desire by Prime Minister Lloyd George to embarrass Premier Briand and to force his immediate return, was reached today when the journal alleged that Lord D'Abernon, with the approval of the prime minister, had offered the Germans a plan for a two-year moratorium on reparations payments.

This blow, following the British note of protest against the Bouillon pact with Mustapha Kemal Pasha, Mr. Lloyd George's attitude toward the Albanian-Serbian conflict, the Bradbury protest against the accords of Wiesbaden and finally the denunciation of the Franco-Spanish credits accord, which French circles say caused the Lord D'Abernon, with the approval of the prime minister, had offered the Germans a plan for a two-year moratorium on reparations payments.

The French foreign office hints that it is a maneuver to hamper the success of the Washington conference so as to prevent a showdown there on the Pacific questions and disarmament by pulling back the French premier before he has had time to study American policies with American statesmen.

'LONE SENTINEL' OF CIVIL WAR DAYS TO HAVE MEMORIAL

Strasburg Dixie Daughters Plan to Erect Fountain.

STRASBURG, Va., Nov. 1.—The "Lone Sentinel" is to have a memorial. The local chapter of the Daughters of the Confederacy at a recent meeting discussed arrangements for having a memorial fountain erected in the public square here, in honor of the civil war soldier, whose grave is on Signal Knob of the Massanutten Mountain, and a canvas for funds will be made shortly.

The story of this unknown soldier has a universal appeal and there are few dwellers in the valley, and even beyond, who do not know of the "Lone Sentinel."

It is said that the poem, "A Georgia Volunteer," by Mary Ashley Townsend, was written in commemoration of this particular grave.

As a member of the class, Miss Julia B. Hutton, daughter of Col. Paul C. Hutton, of Cleveland Park, tomorrow night will take part in the presentation of "Hycinth," a play written and produced by the Junior class at Mount Holyoke College, South Hadley, Mass.

MOVEMENT GROWS FOR MORATORIUM OF GERMAN DEBTS

Allies Becoming Convinced Teutons Can't Meet Payment.

(Special Cable to the Washington Herald.) BERLIN, Nov. 10.—While the representatives of the great powers are gathering at Washington to plan the prevention of wars in the future, Germany today is just realizing in full what it means to lose a war. The arrival of the Allied Reparations Guarantee Commission in the midst of Germany's financial crash was heralded by rumors of new sanctions, reprisals and military measures and focused the nation's attention on the seriousness of the situation.

For the solution of Germany's crisis, three ideas are being put forth either by diplomats or industrial leaders. They are: Three Proposals. First, a three-year moratorium. Second, international credit of many billions. Third, a revision of the reparations conditions.

Of these the third is finding little response among the members of the reparations commission.

Can't Pay Installment. The moratorium, however, is gaining important strength as Germany is impressing upon the entire nations the fact that it cannot meet the installment on the reparations which is due January 15. The effort to buy foreign money and securities already has collapsed in the money market and further purchasing is considered inadvisable by the en-

As well as by German experts. From informed non-German diplomatic sources it is learned that Sir John Bradbury, the British member of the reparations commission, favors a moratorium for Germany. The British ambassador to Germany, Lord D'Abernon, has favored a moratorium for a long time, having foreseen the present crisis, and it is now apparent that he has convinced the entire British delegation that a moratorium is advisable. PACKERS TO CUT WAGES OF 125,000

CHICAGO, Nov. 10.—One hundred and twenty-five thousand packing-house employees were notified today that their wages will be cut within a short time. The employees of Swift and Company, Armour and Company, Wilson and Company, and the Cudahy Packing Company were requested to consider in their plant councils the necessity of a wage reduction. The majority of the workers employed by the packers are not unionized, but such a company has its own council of workers. Morris and Company is the only big house which has not established a workers' council, but they are expected to make any reduction which the others agree upon.
