

PAINTING OF SCENE OF GHENT TREATY PRESENTED TO U.S.

Alton B. Parker, of Sulgrave Institution, Acts As Speaker.

TAFT ACCEPTS GIFT Federal and British Officials Attend Function Cementing Anglo-American Relations.

Representatives of the American and British governments yesterday attended the presentation to the United States government of Sir A. Forrester's "Signing of the Treaty of Ghent" at the National Museum by the Sulgrave Institution of America.

The presentation was made by Judge Alton B. Parker, of New York, one-time Democratic nominee for President, who is chancellor of the Sulgrave Institution.

The picture, which was the painting of a scene which took place on Christmas Eve, 1814, when the last war between Great Britain and the United States was ended.

The picture, which was the painting of a scene which took place on Christmas Eve, 1814, when the last war between Great Britain and the United States was ended.

"But the treaty has resulted in a lasting peace between our countries," said the Chief Justice. "What was not agreed upon was postponed, and eventually forgotten. Three years later other details were agreed to, and as a result there are no patrol boats nor forts on the 4,000 miles of frontier between Canada and the United States."

The painting was donated by Barron Collier, of New York, a member of the Sulgrave Institution, and was unveiled recently by Mrs. Collier, who is a member of the women's committee.

In the absence of President and Mrs. Harding, the presentation of the picture was made by Stephen Reid, of Sulgrave Manor, the ancestral home of George Washington in England, was postponed until this afternoon, when the ceremony will take place at the White House.

THE WHITE HOUSE WASHINGTON

May 16, 1922.

The Women's Club, York, Pa.

Please allow me to congratulate you on the wonderful work you have brought to conclusion in the dedication on Memorial Day of the Road of Remembrance along the Lincoln Highway. In the planting of twenty-five miles of that famous highway you have erected a memorial that the entire country can enjoy in the years to come. May long life attend the trees you have placed in the care of the Lincoln Highway Memorial and Tribute Tree Association.

Sincerely yours,

Homeing Hardin

TYPHOID OUTBREAK IS BLAMED ON MILK

List of Stricken Church Supper Guests Increased to Twenty-Four.

That impure milk caused the typhoid fever outbreak among more than a score of persons who attended a supper at the Grace Lutheran Church on April 27 was a belief entertained by Health Officer William C. Foster yesterday.

One of the women typhoid victims, Dr. Fowler learned, partook of no other food at the supper table than milk.

The number of supper guests stricken with typhoid continued to grow yesterday. Four new cases were reported to the Health Officer, bringing the total to twenty-four. There were 200 persons at the supper.

Many of the victims are in a serious condition, according to Dr. Fowler, but no deaths have been reported.

Discussing his theory that the milk might have been contaminated, Dr. Fowler said:

"The dairy farm which supplied the milk is a small one, on which only three or four cows are maintained. None of the milk produced there is pasteurized, so the product is a danger to the health of the church supper was in its natural form."

AGAIN DEMANDS HAYNES' REMOVAL

Representative Hill, of Maryland, has renewed his demand on Secretary Mellon that prohibition Commissioner Haynes be removed.

The removal of Haynes, Hill charged, is such as to encourage "the spread of lynch law" and lawlessness. Recent disorders in Baltimore, Hill said, could be blamed on Haynes and his prohibition agents.

Ship Strikes Huge Shark; Prow Impales Maneater

NEW YORK, May 29.—This story is something that might be expected in the heat of July. Coming in May, it's rushing the season, but is nevertheless set forth as chronicled by passengers of the Musson liner, American Legion, from San Francisco.

Dark night south of the equator. Big ship plowing through tropic sea. Sudden shock daylight. Thirty-five foot man-eating shark revealed impaled on ship's prow.

62 Pay $10 for Drinking Not Wisely, But Too Well

Sixty-two Washingtonians faced the judge yesterday for drinking not wisely but too well during the period of Saturday nightfall and Monday dawn. Most of them spent periods ranging from thirty-six hours in the "hoose-gow" until court time.

Each was fined $10, forty of them "ponying up" while the remainder went to jail.

Foggy Bottom Gets New Start in Life

Abusive Taunts Forgotten by Lowland Section as it Views Stately Memorial Today.

"Foggy Bottom" will hold its head high today.

For today is the "Bottom's" emancipation day. Through its streets will flow thousands—the lowly and the mighty—all headed toward a magnificent structure of stone that has been set up in Municipal land, representing the name, things such as a right in the heart of the "bottom," and many acres of marshland along that part of the river near their homes.

Foggy Bottomists have long tolerated the derisive nicknames applied to their neighborhood. Many things kept them from openly resenting the name, things such as a right in the heart of the "bottom," and many acres of marshland along that part of the river near their homes.

But now—the marshland has been turned into a spacious park, and within the neighborhood has arisen the beautiful memorial. The gas tanks are still there, but FOGGY Bottom folk think that the memorial more than offsets their presence.

Should people continue to call their section of the town "Foggy Bottom" the folks down there are going to be mighty surprised, not to say offended in view of the change in the landscape.

GUDE MAY LEAVE RENT COMMISSION

All disputes of notices to quit, pending before the Rent Commission upon complaint on May 22, 1922, must not only be certified upon the docket of the Rent Commission but must also be certified to the Municipal Court according to orders issued by the Commission yesterday.

More than 100 cases were certified by C. E. Chapman, secretary of the Rent Commission, yesterday. Four notices, to all interested parties, are mailed out when the cases are certified.

William F. Gude, member of the Rent Board, announced his intention of retiring July 1, because of the demands of his personal affairs. Other members of the Commission, however, state they would prefer not to accept the resignation.

FIRE LEVELS MILL NEAR SANDY SPRING

ROCKVILLE, Md., May 29.—Explosion of a gasoline torch in the flour mill of Richard H. Landwehr, near Sandy Spring, early this morning, caused a fire which destroyed the building and its contents. Neighbors responded to the alarm but were unable to check the flames.

The loss is placed at about $7,500 and is well covered by insurance. New machinery costing $3,000 was recently ordered, but had not been installed.

Rites for I. C. Stockton Will Be Held Tomorrow

Funeral services for Israel C. Stockton, 219 Thirteenth street, who died Saturday night at the home of his brother A. D. Stockton, Fairfax, Va., will be held tomorrow afternoon. The Rev. Dr. Morgan, of the Mt. Pleasant Congregational Church, will officiate. Interment will be Rock Creek Cemetery.

He is survived by one son and two daughters, Miss Stockton, Mrs. Oden R. Sudler and Dr. A. W. Stockton, all of this city. He was a member of Washington Centennial Lodge, F. A. M., and also of the Royal Arch Masons.

Comes to Speed U.S. Plans For Brazilian Exposition

RIO DE JANEIRO, May 29.—Col. D. C. Collier, American Commissioner, is preparing to return to the United States to consult the State Department relative to speeding up plans for participation in the Brazilian exposition which opens here in September.

Col. Collier will be unable to attend the laying of the cornerstone of the American building on the exposition grounds June 6.
