

FIGHT BEAUTIES SHOWN ON SCREEN IN TWO THEATERS

Miss Washington Candidates Presented to Audience in Various Roles.

MAY GAIN POSITIONS

Atlantic City Officials Prepare Monster Pageant for King Neptune.

Eight popular candidates, filmed by Carter and Crawford, a local moving picture concern, grace the screens at the B. F. Keith's and the Columbia theaters this week, and when first seen yesterday, caused wide speculation as to the probability of one of them representing the Nation's Capital at the monster pageant of King Neptune which will be held in Atlantic City two weeks from tomorrow.

The young ladies who appear are Misses Melba Tobin, Maude Windsor, Marie Sullivan, Ruth Leonard, Edith Pinchon, Ruth Gavit, Pearl Henry and Helen Trusman.

Although it was the first time any one of them had ever "appeared on the screen," the audience was visibly impressed with the young ladies' bearing. Two of the candidates staged a boxing bout, while others were seen in the roles of dancers, athletes, trapeze artists, or attending home duties.

Observed by Screen Scouts.

In an effort to select the most promising actor material, scouts from leading motion picture companies are scrutinizing every picture entered in The Herald's beauty competition. Screen men yesterday expressed conviction that the features and bearing of a number of young ladies already filmed display qualities which may gain for them entrance to the screen world.

A number of young ladies, it is understood, already are on the list to be interviewed with an idea of affording them the opportunity of a tryout for the movies.

Meanwhile preparations for the culminating event of the Atlantic City season are going forward with the purpose of making this year's pageant the most elaborate show of the kind ever staged in the United States. Officials of the famous resort declare that neither funds nor pains will be spared. The young ladies, representing seventy of the principal cities of the country, will be feted on a scale never before attempted, officials promise.

Interest in "Miss Washington."

In view of the fact that "Miss Washington" last year captured the most coveted of all titles, "Miss America," particular interest in her is being shown by the young lady who represents the Capital this season. For this reason, The Herald's judges will exercise the utmost care to see that the young lady selected will have all the charms and graces that would qualify her for similar honors.

For the information of those who are uncertain about the conditions of the competition—their entrance requirement is a photograph with the name and address of the young lady plainly marked on the back. This entitles any young lady to equal consideration with every other entrant. There is no expense and of course no solicitation or voting.

For the young lady selected there will be no expense attached to her trip to Atlantic City. Determined that Washington's entry shall be the best dressed young woman on the boardwalk, local merchants have volunteered to equip her with the most up-to-date and tasteful assortment of clothes that it is possible to select.

Two bathing suits will be hers, one donated by Hecht and Company and the other by the Asbury Mills of New York City. Her afternoon frock will come from the Young Ladies Shop; shoes and hats from the Walkover Shop and the Dell Millinery Company, respectively. Rosedene's will supply a beautiful

Provisions Merchant Fined.

Harry Sherry, provisions merchant, of 320 Louisiana avenue northwest, pleaded guilty to violating the pure food and drugs act yesterday in Police Court and paid a fine of $100. The warrant, sworn out by Inspector Raymond L. Martin, charges that on July 13 Sherry sold decomposed meat.

Fined $60 on Liquor Charge.

Kaiser Thomas, colored, of Muirkirk, Md., who was found with five gallons of corn whiskey on June 24 when his automobile was wrecked in the Capitol grounds, was fined $60 yesterday by Judge Mattingly in Police Court. He was arrested by Detectives Rone and Brodie of the Sixth precinct, and pleaded guilty.

Gains Liberty on Bail.

Walter W. Weaver, 46-year-old Maryland farmer, who faces a twenty-year sentence for the alleged mistreatment of a 13-year-old girl, was released under $12,500 bond yesterday in Criminal Court. No. 1 pending action of the Court of Appeals upon his application for a new trial.

These Are the Rules Of Beauty Competition

"Miss Washington" is the name of the representative of the District of Columbia at the great Atlantic City pageant September 6, 7 and 8.

"Miss Washington" will be selected for her beauty, charm, personality and attractiveness.

The only way to become "Miss Washington" is to bring a photograph, with the name and address plainly marked on the back, to the office of The Herald before August 25.

There is no solicitation or voting.

The photographs will be inspected by a board of nine expert judges who will select the ten most beautiful.

These ten young women will be asked to appear in person before the judges for an interview, which will determine the ultimate "Miss Washington."

"Miss Washington" will be given extensive additions to her wardrobe by the best Washington shops.

She will have the three days at Atlantic City, with every comfort and attention, as the guest of the city.

She will be entertained royally, and will be a competitor for the title of "Miss America," now held by Miss Margaret Gorman, of Washington.

evening gown, while Saks Fur Company will furnish the latest thing in fur.

Luggage for the trip will be supplied by H. W. Topham.

As this week marks the close of the competition, all photographs must be in The Herald office before midnight on Saturday. Pictures received before that time will be given full recognition with previous entrants.
