Mrs. Francis Declares She Has Enjoyed Perfect Health Ever Since.

"Tanlac helped me back to good health two years ago and I am still feeling fine," recently said Mrs. Mabel L. Francis, high-ly esteemed resident of 625 South Linwood Ave., Baltimore, Md. "Before taking the medicine I was suffering from a nervous breakdown and was in an awful condition. Why, even the ticking of a clock annoyed me and the children playing about the house almost set me wild. I had terrible, blinding headaches, and when they came on me I had to give up everything and take to my bed."

RUSH CALL MAY BE CLUE IN MURDER OF RECTOR AND SINGER

Detectives Dash Away, After Warning Others Not to Follow.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Sept. 18.—The assassin who killed Rev. Edward W. Hall, rector of the Church of St. John the Evangelist, and Mrs. Eleanor Mills, is still secure behind the mystery of the sensational crime after a third day's investigation.

The minister was buried today in Brooklyn. The widow, attended services here, and followed the body to New York. Sensational action was expected tonight when five detectives left the prosecutor's office here and sped away after warning other persons against trying to follow them. A discovery was made this evening which tended to fix the location where the actual shooting was done. It was learned from a bridge tend-stationed less than 1,000 feet from the spot where the bodies were found, that he heard a woman scream shortly before 12 o'clock on Thursday night. The screams, followed by moans, were so loud and prolonged as to awaken McCabe's wife. She aroused him and he went out to investigate. As he groped in the darkness of the fields, the screams and moans were heard again.

Heard Three Shots.

A man was identified also who told of hearing shots about 1 o'clock Friday morning, which would be within the lapse of time allowed for the commission of the crime. This man, standing near the field, said he heard first one shot and later three more in quick succession. If these were the shots which killed the two persons the first one would account for the commission of the crime. The head and the other three would explain the three wounds in Mrs. Mills' head, although the official medical examiner previously had reported finding only one bullet wound in Mrs. Mills.

Detective George Totten of Somerset County, said late today he had reason to believe the shooting took place elsewhere and that the bodies were carried to the field and laid out.

Phone Calls Important. Much importance is attached to two telephone calls summoning the murder victims from their respective homes last Thursday evening. These calls were neglected as they until attention was called to them today.

Another development was the disclosure by Charlotte Mills, the 15-year-old daughter of the murdered woman, of a letter which she said she had received this morning from Mrs. Frances Stevens Hall, the widow. The letter follows:

"Dear Charlotte: Do not worry. Everything will be all right. You will be looked out for. Sincerely, Mrs. Hall."

WILLIAM FAVERSHAM HEADS KEITH'S VAUDEVILLE BILL

Notable Variety Programs Also Offered at Cosmos and the Strand.

KEITH'S.

William Faversham in "A Marriage Has Been Arranged" is the particularly bright spot in this "typical Keith week" at Roland Robbins' temple of the popular two-day. Faversham, however, is closely pressed for first honors by "Stars of Yesterday," featuring Barney Fagan, a 37-year-old youth who still shakes a wicked hoof. Fagan is ably assisted by Lizzie Wilson, Joseph J. Sullivan and Corinne, all past masters of vaudeville art, whose palmy days were brought back to a goodly proportion of the delighted audience, as shown by the reception given them at the Broadway and the Washington debut in vaudeville, was ably assisted by Helen Daube, who forcibly portrayed the poor girl in quest of a rich husband.

Among the creditably brilliant satellites was Nate Leipzig, a sleight-of-hand performer, rivaling the great Thurston, who gave an impressive demonstration of speed of hand exceeding that of the eye. Charlotte Lansing, the new prima donna, scored a decided hit with numerous songs. Her work, even to those lacking technical knowledge of vocal ability, was highly artistic, with brilliancy of execution that compels admiration.

The comedy of the evening was supplied by Will Burns and Ed Lynn, and by Harry Burns, the Italian comedian. The former delighted with numerous songs, while the latter, in "I Think You Touch," drove dull care away.

Donald Kerr and Kille Weston in the "Ship and the Paper" offer a dancing and singing sketch which won applause, the former's woefully weak voice being offset by a remarkably agile pair of feet. The eight Blue Demons of the whirlwind, Arabians offer acrobatic and Herculean feats, a swarthy youth of medium build at one time supporting in midair the remaining seven members of the cast.

Managers Sparrow, of the Strand Theater, has arranged a popular-priced vaudeville program of a quality seldom seen here as his offering for the current week.

He has booked five acts of vaudeville that are bound to please the most critical of vaudeville lovers, and as his feature act, he offers none other than Bud Heim and the Lockwood Sisters.

Heim and the sisters have labelled their act "Fou You," and it consists of fifteen minutes of solos and duets that please immensely.

Bud, with his comical facial expressions and topical songs, simply stops the show. Then, too, Arthur Jarrett and company in "Cupid's Closeups," offers one act comedy full of fun and laughs for Strand patrons.

Their act is unique in conception and all the characters are portrayed in such a manner that every comedy line is appreciated and enjoyed by those out front.

Ed Hill opens the vaudeville bill and creates a craze with his sponges and crayons in an offering he has termed "Hattie Creations." Hill is really a walking milinery shop—that is, he is able to provide several hats for his original draw and with his art he mixes comedy that is surely a delight.

Dorothy Dodd and Nellie Nelson offer a musical and singing act that is the first call for their efforts. They are really a first-class duo, and their act is one of the best of the many Strand patrons last night. Joe Fanton and company close the vaudeville portion of the bill with their "Seconds of Surprise."

"Shattered Idols" is the major film attraction in the major film picture is impetuous India. The picture is certainly spectacular and lavishly staged. Marguerite De La Motte stars in it. Short film subjects, the news reel and good comedies complete the bill.

COSMOS.

Two excellent headliners top the Cosmos Theater bill this week and with them is a new photoplay "Don't Shoot," a George Broadhurst melodramatic romance, with Herbert Lawlinson as its star. Mondays, Tuesdays and Wednesdays, two graceful and resourceful dancing comedians, have a handsomely-staged revue with its complement of pretty and graceful girls in "On With the Dance," a sort of tableau of the Broadway scene and some very attractive specialties. George Rosener, the character comedian, shares the honors in a series of splendidly-acted character sketches that would bring down the curtain calls at the performances yesterday and last night.

Black and White, two pretty girls whose songs and acrobatic dancing in a prettily-staged sketch win them much applause, open the show. Morgan and Brooks follow with an amusing cross-fire and some good singing, their duet being especially good. Howard and White present a little "The Gypsy" and "The Gypsy," whose moral is aimed at the drifting young married couple each half toward what seems to please, but which only serves to break the unit.

Jennings and Mazier, minstrel men, have a minstrel laughmaker in "The Camouflage Taxi" and an even funnier offering in their new songs "I'm offering them to be recalled until the curtain falls on the show at yesterday's performances.

Supplementing the first run photoplay feature is the Universal comedy, "Young Ideas," the Urban Movie cast of the new weekly, making an altogether highly entertaining entertainment.

Now Works Nine Hours a Day. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Her Strength

Union Village, Vt.—"I was weak and nervous and all run-down. I could not walk across the floor without resting, and I had been that way for weeks. I saw your advertisement in the paper and after taking one bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I felt the good it was doing me and I took seven more in all. Before I finished I was able to work nine hours a day in a steam laundry. I cannot say too much in favor of your medicine. I trust all sick and suffering women will take it. It has been two years since I took it and I am strong and well." Mrs. L. A. GUTMANN, Union Village, Vermont.

TELLS WHY MANY ARE UNDERWEIGHT THIN AND SICKLY

Food They Eat Is Not Digested Right—Get Little Nutrient. SIMPLE TONIC FIXES ALL THAT VERY QUICK. When your stomach doesn't digest food it matters little whether you eat sparingly or a big meal. Your body is no better off for eating less. It is no richer; your weight isn't increased, for the food without being assimilated passes on out of the system as that much waste. Like a stove that will not heat you, but in the case of it leaving half-burned coal and ashes cluttering up the grate. This causes belching, gas, bloated feelings, etc., and then constipation. Or course a blasting dose of calomel or medicine will shake down some of that unburned, clogged body fuel, but a person should systematically get about their food. The digestive and whole system in shape. Gain weight, strength, vigor you need. If these things are not yours, you have done so, and we suggest that thin, scrawny, half-sick people with no appetite, etc., come to the Peoples Drug Store nearest them and get a couple bottles of Hypo-Cod. Take it per directions. No concoctions, no unusual things. A test will convince you. Write for details. Send for genuine Hypo-Cod prepaid anywhere $1 bottle. Peoples Drug Stores, Washington, D. C.—Adv.
