

LOCAL MENTION.

FORGOTTEN THE BIRTH OF M. TUESDAY.

For the benefit of the Columbia and Maryland, generally fair, with possible thunder showers this afternoon; southerly wind.

FOR VIRGINIA, generally fair, but with light showers in the western portions this afternoon; southerly wind.

High Water. Low Water.

10:04 a.m. 1:29 p.m. 7:33 a.m. 8:25 p.m.

WASHINGTON BICYCLE SPECIAL FOR TOMORROW

At our store, 1219 N. York and 209 Indiana avenue, 8 cans of corn, 25c; 3 cans of tomatoes 25c; 3 cans of peas, 25c; 7 cans of table peaches, 1c; prime rib corn, 12c; good roast 10c; round steak, 10c; sirloin, 10c; 2 lbs.

porterhouse, 15c and 16c; shoulders, 8c and breakfast including, 10c; Burbank potatoes, 5c.

CHAS. SANDER, 909 7th st., only matured wines and liquors, analyzed pure.

STAINED GLASS SUBSTITUE. 507 G st. n.w.

SPENCER GLASS, 81, HENRY, 463 Pa. ave.

SHRETT'S 60c. Candy for sale.

This is only at 7th and I streets northwest.

J. F. SHRETT.

Mrs. E. J. FLOID, 313 Pa. ave. east. Spring evening, Wednesday and Thursday, April 4 & 5.

A lot of clear Havana cigars, damaged water, 50c. for 50, 1011 Pa. ave.

FOR SPRING STYLES of wall paper, fresco and painting, window shades, etc., go to W.

HENRY, 1113 F st.

FINE 60c. candy, 5c. each. See at 10th and F, and Weicker's, 15th st. n.w., 414 page.

DELE of CHARLES WINKER, bottled at the distillery. NEALSON KRAMER, Agent.

CARPET CLEANING by the Empire Carpet

Works, 631-635 Mass. ave. n.w., are made most proof free of charge. Telephone 425-2.

CITY AND DISTRICT

AMUSEMENTS TONIGHT

LEADERS—Margaret Mather in "The Egyptian."

NATIONAL—Hertmann, the Magician.

ACADEMY of MUSIC—Audran's "Miss Hellyet."

HARRY HODGE—Go-Go-Go Mohawk in "The Wagon."

KERNAN'S LYCEUM THEATRE—Turdie's English Gaiety Girls.

WASHINGTON LIGHT OPERA AMBURY—

"A Night in Venice."

AMERICAN GRAND OPERA—Fifteenth

Street and Ohio avenue.

E STREET BAPTIST CHURCH—An evening of music and recitation.

CONDENSED LOCALS

MR. W. F. FENIMORE COOPER, a young man of well-known name in this city, having been employed as a clerk in the office of the city engineer, has been nominated as democratic candidate for alderman in the second ward.

REV. MR. SONTAG preaches at the Epiphany

Mission Sunday mornings and evenings, and also on Thursday evenings.

THE BAPTIST CHURCH of the late war, who served in company I, eighty-third Pennsylvania volunteers, died at the Homeopathic Hospital early Saturday morning.

REV. MR. SONTAG preaches at the Epiphany

Mission Sunday mornings and evenings, and

also on Thursday evenings.

THE BAPTIST CHURCH of the late war, who

served in company I, eighty-third Pennsylvania

volunteers, died at the Homeopathic Hospital

early Saturday morning.

REV. MR. SONTAG preaches at the Epiphany

Mission Sunday mornings and evenings, and

also on Thursday evenings.

THE BAPTIST CHURCH of the late war, who

served in company I, eighty-third Pennsylvania

volunteers, died at the Homeopathic Hospital

early Saturday morning.

REV. MR. SONTAG preaches at the Epiphany

Mission Sunday mornings and evenings, and

also on Thursday evenings.

THE BAPTIST CHURCH of the late war, who

served in company I, eighty-third Pennsylvania

volunteers, died at the Homeopathic Hospital

early Saturday morning.

REV. MR. SONTAG preaches at the Epiphany

Mission Sunday mornings and evenings, and

also on Thursday evenings.

SALOONS AND POOL ROOMS.

A Striking Temperance Meeting at Hamilton

Hotel last evening.

Yesterday afternoon at the Hamilton Hotel there was a temperance meeting held for the purpose of discussing the question of pool rooms and saloons. Judge Kimball addressed the meeting, telling his experience with persons in court who had reached there through the use of strong liquor, and he also told how he had been in the pool room in the arrest of one of the most prominent saloon keepers of the city. He said that he had 1,000 licensed places where liquor is sold, and the police think there is one unlicensed place, or "speakeasy," for every place that is licensed. "And I am sorry to say," added the judge, "there are innumerable drug stores where liquor is sold openly, and every one who comes to some druggists have been prosecuted and fined."

He then related several instances in which liquor had done trouble and said that there was one in which a husband who went home found that his wife had been drinking so much that she had become violent, and he learned that she had sent her children to the street, and another, to a neighboring drug store and there they had obtained the liquor. The liquor was sold in a bottle, and the man who sold it was thought there were few people in the world who had not some relative or friend who indulged in strong drink.

Referring to the pool rooms, the judge said that unless the recent act of the Commissioners had changed affairs he thought that a large number of young men could be found in the pool rooms who were in a state of moral degradation, and he said that he had seen many of them in a state of moral degradation, and he said that he had seen many of them in a state of moral degradation, and he said that he had seen many of them in a state of moral degradation, and he said that he had seen many of them in a state of moral degradation, and he said that he had seen many of them in a state of moral

degradation, and he said that he had seen

many of them in a state of moral degradation, and he said that he had seen many of them in a state of moral degradation, and

he said that he had seen many of them in

a state of moral degradation, and he said

that he had seen many of them in a state

of moral degradation, and he said that he

had seen many of them in a state of moral

degradation, and he said that he had seen

many of them in a state of moral degrada-

tion, and he said that he had seen many of

them in a state of moral degradation, and

he said that he had seen many of them in

a state of moral degradation, and he said

that he had seen many of them in a state

of moral degradation, and he said that he

had seen many of them in a state of moral

degradation, and he said that he had seen

many of them in a state of moral degrada-

tion, and he said that he had seen many of

them in a state of moral degradation, and

he said that he had seen many of them in

a state of moral degradation, and he said

that he had seen many of them in a state

of moral degradation, and he said that he

had seen many of them in a state of moral

degradation, and he said that he had seen

many of them in a state of moral degrada-

tion, and he said that he had seen many of

them in a state of moral degradation, and

he said that he had seen many of them in

a state of moral degradation, and he said

that he had seen many of them in a state

of moral degradation, and he said that he

had seen many of them in a state of moral

degradation, and he said that he had seen

many of them in a state of moral degrada-

tion, and he said that he had seen many of

them in a state of moral degradation, and

he said that he had seen many of them in

a state of moral degradation, and he said

that he had seen many of them in a state

of moral degradation, and he said that he

had seen many of them in a state of moral

degradation, and he said that he had seen

many of them in a state of moral degrada-

tion, and he said that he had seen many of

them in a state of moral degradation, and

he said that he had seen many of them in

a state of moral degradation, and he said

ANTHONY COMSTOCK.

He Delivers an Address to Young Men at the Washington Club.

The gymnasium of the Young Men's Christian Association was crowded yesterday by between five hundred and a thousand men, old and young, who were addressed for about half an hour by Anthony Comstock, the secretary of the Society for the Suppression of Vice, New York city. Mr. Comstock, who was introduced by the Rev. Mr. Dwyer, of the protection of the youth of the country, is a stoutly built man of the average height. His beard is blonde, and the points of his beard and his hair is rather bold. His countenance is pleasing, his manner the less so, and he speaks in an earnest, convincing way.

Comstock said that the purpose of the meeting was one of business, business for eternity. His audience was urged to realize that it was the time to draw the line between right and wrong, and that the line should not be changed, but to the future lay before them.

The question therefore, was, how would they be held in the future, and he said that the only way to be held in the future was to enable them to successfully overcome those temptations. "If you are worth anything at all," he said, "you must be able to overcome temptation." Some remarks, Mr. Comstock, are like the hair trigger of a rifle and for that reason their struggle to overcome evil and its allurements is a struggle that never ends. It is the case with those natures more heavily balanced. He thought the world was too quicker than it is, and too slow to sympathize with the good. For twenty years he had stood between the youth of America and all that which defiles their nature and works their destruction, and he saw a real deal of the struggles of the young of the country to avoid and trap down such evils. No man, young or old, can afford to neglect the picture or book to enter his chamber of imagination without suffering defeat. He would not say that such things were sought, but he thought that they were sought, and he

</