

MILLIONAIRES' MONEY.

STRONG NERVES REQUIRED IN THE TERRIBLE STRUGGLE.

Thousands Break Down Completely—Cels. Hain and Potter Tell of the Effects of Excitement—How They Are Able to Withstand the Strains of Wall Street.

"I have just come up from Wall street and I feel nearly dead." The speaker looked ill. He was a broker who had just passed through an exciting day with an excited market, says the New York "World," and the lines on his face and the drawn corners of his mouth showed the strain that he had been through. What did he do? Resort, as many others do, to stimulants.

I was determined in my capacity as a reporter for the press to investigate Wall street, not with reference to its monetary wealth, but its physical health. I noted a very general tendency on the street to go away with stimulants, which only have a temporary effect, and employ instead something which builds up and acts as a real food for the nerves. Here is what some prominent men said to me:

Col. G. P. Potter, vice president of the National Mutual Insurance Company, on hearing the object of my visit, spoke of the terrible strain he had undergone in the management of a highly important business. "My trouble," he said, "has been chronic constipation and insomnia. One is bad enough; both together, hearing of Paines' celery compound I thought that it might fit my case, so I went to a drug store and bought two bottles. I am on the second bottle now, and deriving much good from it. The 'compound' is giving me sleep. I'll persist in its use and even hope for better results than I have already attained."

I next called on Mr. William P. Green, who is secretary of the American Bankers' Association, who favored me with the following remarkable statement: "Having done a great deal of railway traveling I feel completely run down and knocked out. My curiosity was aroused by what I heard of Paines' celery compound and I resolved to test it. It acted far beyond my expectations and gave me rest at night, a good appetite during the day, and a cheerful good feeling all the time. The idea occurred to me to mention its good effects to some friends. I did so, but almost all of them knew about it. This is true particularly of President Van Allen of the National Bank of Albany and others."

Col. F. Hain is manager of the Manhattan Elevated Railway. The colonel is a cautious man, very cautious, but he was very outspoken when he said, in the course of an interview: "I have used Paines' celery compound and after a trial I say emphatically, it's good. You may infer my opinion of it from this circumstance: I earnestly advised my brother in Reading, Pa., to use it. He and I suffered alike from insomnia, headaches and nervousness. He did use it and I know it helped him."

Mr. E. W. Peters holds the responsible position of chairman or executive officer in charge of the members of the Consolidated Petroleum, Mining and Stock Exchange. He said: "Paines' celery compound is the most charming remedy that I ever used. It relieves my flesh as it did for Mayor Gilroy. It relieves my flesh as it did for Mayor Gilroy. It relieves my flesh as it did for Mayor Gilroy."

Mr. J. T. Anyou, who is well known in the vicinity of Wall street, said: "The hard mental strain to which I am subjected tells upon me. I am much brighter today from the use of Paines' celery compound. This remedy bears a fine character, I assure you, in many quarters."

It can be seen from the above that notwithstanding the great strain that necessarily falls upon the shoulders of those men who conduct large affairs, they may be, indeed are, able to withstand the strains, preserve the health and prolong the life. The great discovery of which these men speak is not a cheap narcotic, sarsaparilla, or commonplace medicine, but a discovery made by the late Prof. Phelps of Dartmouth College, and stands immeasurably superior to any other medicine, and never builder known to the present day.

AT BED TIME I TAKE A PLEASANT HERB DRINK

The next morning I feel bright and new and my digestion is better. My doctor says it acts gently on the stomach. Liver and kidneys are benefited and it is prepared for use as easily as tea. PRIZE DOGS COMING.

Preparations for the Washington Bench Show.

NOTED CANINES TO BE HERE.

Arrangements for the Coming Big Fight.

OTHER SPORTING NEWS.

WILL BE ONE OF THE FINEST.

The Approaching Bench Show of the Washington City Kennel Club. The approaching bench show of the Washington City Kennel Club will be second to but one ever held in this country, and with that will compare very favorably. The dog show which is now in progress in the Madison Square Garden in New York is acknowledged to be the finest and largest exhibition of well-bred canines that any one has had the opportunity to see. The large number of dogs belonging to persons residing in this city has swelled the total to a material extent, but only in that respect will the New York show surpass that to be given in this city, beginning March 14 and continuing for four days. All the celebrated dogs of the world will be here to compete for the premiums to be offered.

Sam Stinemetz, the president of the local club, has just returned from the New York exhibition, where he obtained the promise of all the principal owners in this country to have their kennels here. He said to a STAR reporter last week that the number of dogs which he has every reason to believe would be in this city on exhibition would reach 700.

"Every one seems very interested in the success of our bench show and they are all working to make it as fine as one as ever held." The hall which the club has selected has aided with the material help obtained by the consent of the owners of the famous breeds to exhibit. It is the Northern Liberty Market Hall, and is situated on the square bounded by 4th, 5th, K and L streets. The hall is admirably adapted for the purpose for which it will be utilized. It is clean and dry, well-ventilated and heated by steam. It is lighted by 800 incandescent lights and its dimensions are 375 by 125 feet. All the lines of cars pass within a short distance of the hall, thus making it easily accessible from all parts of the city. The cloak and hat rooms will be in charge of competent attendants, and everything possible will be done to make the exhibition attractive and comfortable for all.

THE PREMIUMS. The premiums to be awarded will be all monetary ones, except the "special" which are offered by the various kennel clubs of the country, and will amount to $5,000. The classes for which premiums will be given are 17, a larger number than is offered by any kennel club except that in New York.

Among the special prizes to be competed for will be three offered by the Mastiff Club, four medals by the St. Bernard Club, six medals by the National Greyhound Club, four medals by each of the Pointer Club, a handsome medal, valued at $25, by the Bull Terrier Club, also two handsome specials for collies offered by Mr. Henry Jarrett, besides the Tomahawk and Fox trophies, which will be competed for.

A number of other specials have been offered, but it has not yet been decided for which prizes they will be given. Among the donors are Saks & Co., M. A. Tappan, J. Manry Dore, Dorsey Brown, Moore & Leiding, Harry Doves, W. B. Hibbs, Mills Dean and L. O. Seidl.

To mention the entire list of famous dogs which will be in attendance would be to name the members of all the well-known kennels of America. But a glance at the following list of dogs that have won prizes wherever entered will satisfy those who are interested in dogs that are able to be successful. The following will be among those exhibited:

SOME OF THE DOGS COMING. Mastiffs—J. O. Winchell's prize kennel of Fairbairn, Vt., including Beaufort's Black Prince, Victor and Judith; Mrs. Charles Wallace's kennel, including Merlin, the first prize winner at Newport, and Dr. Longue's kennel, just imported from England, including the great Maximilian. Bernards—Mr. Rick's New York St. Bernard kennel. This kennel won all the first prizes at New York besides thirteen specials. It includes the famous Sir Bedivere, Kingston, Bogen, Princess Florence and Marvel. Collies—Jacob Ruppert will exhibit his celebrated Altoner and the three Kingstons; also Empress of Coochecook. Great Danes—The largest dogs of the world, Emperor and Melac. Huskies and wolf hounds—Mr. Huntington, president of the National Greyhound Club, will send his entire string, including Argos, Princess Inna and Modjeska. Mr. C. Stedman Hancks of Manchester, his kennel, with Leekhot and Flycatcher. Greyhounds—The kennels of Mr. Huntington and Mr. Arthur W. Purbeck of Salem. Fox Terriers—A very large string, including the celebrated dogs Parson, Deacon, Fenar and Elzie. Chesapeake Bays—An excellent exhibit. BILLIARDISTS STIRRED UP.

A Shot at a Pool Tournament Sets Experts Gossiping. During the pool tournament held at the Mercantile Club, corner of Pa. and Fayette streets, last week, says the Baltimore "American," a shot was made by Mr. L. Stern, one of the contestants in the first series, the final decision upon which has not only caused several hundred dollars to be wagered, but has caused quite a controversy between expert pool and billiard players here and in New York. The manner of the shot was this: After the balls were broken Mr. Stern called a "safety" shot. In the roll he missed the object ball. The cue ball continued to the cushion, however, rebounded, struck two more object balls and again hit a cushion. The cue ball "scratched" hits as follows: "After the opening stroke, each player must either pocket a ball or make at least one object ball or the cue ball after contact with an object ball, strike a cushion, under penalty of forfeiture of one ball."

Mr. Gustav Goodman, the referee, decided that Mr. Stern had made a "scratch" shot. To that a protest was offered, and Mr. M. Waterman, who was in New York at the time, was decided upon as a final referee, who should make his decision on Saturday night. In the meantime several hundred dollars were wagered by the members on the result of the decision and some few made it known that they had communicated with the Brunswick-Balk-Coller Company of New York for an expression of opinion. On Saturday night Mr. Waterman returned to the city from New York and decided that Mr. Stern had made a "fair" shot. Then a paper was produced bearing the official head and stamp of the Brunswick-Balk-Coller Company, stating that the shot in question was a "scratch."

Another controversy here arose and more money was wagered. Mr. Waterman went to New York on the following day and visited the Brunswick-Balk-Coller Company, and the members of the firm denied ever receiving any communication from Baltimore or sending one there, and insisted that the referee, Mr. Goodman, decided that Mr. Stern had made a "fair" shot. Not satisfied with that, Mr. Waterman visited Marcus Daly's famous billiard parlors and received the same opinion from Daly. Leonard (the champion pool player of the world), Sexton (the billiard expert), and Hamzey, who wrote the recognized book on rules on pool. The experts in the city were divided in opinions as to the shot being fair or a scratch.

Pickett Sues for Salary.

John T. Pickett, Baltimore's former second baseman, has sued the Baltimore club for balance due him in salary for last season. He reported for duty March 27, last, and was with the club all the time in 1892. His contract was all $12,124.28, and sued for the difference between that amount and $3,000, claiming he was entitled to his whole year's salary. Rich & Bryan, counsel for the club, called Manager Edward Hanlon, who testified that Pickett was discharged because he did not possess the reasonable amount of skill which might be expected by base ball players; that he, Pickett, was slow, and couldn't throw fast enough and couldn't cover enough ground to make him an effective player.

Y. M. C. A. Athletic Team for Chicago.

Not content with winning local honors the Y. M. C. A. hope to go as well away from home and it hopes this time to take a long stride and land in Chicago with an athletic team, provided, of course, they "become fit" by that time, and there is no reason to believe that they will not be in prime shape. Quackenbush will captain the team for Chicago, which will include for exhibition only Great Christopher, kennel of Mr. Carwell of Wilmington, Del. Bulldogs—Very large show, including the champion Harper and Graven Mace. Frank Bole will exhibit his best time in this country the great English winner, "His Highness." Mr. W. R. Last of the Cherry Diamonds.

The Manhattan A. C. of New York seems doomed to drop entirely out of existence without the least possible hope of tiding over the financial troubles. Last night the ways and means committee came to the conclusion that their work was in vain and they quietly resigned by so doing they leave what remains of the club in the hands on any one or every one who chooses to take on the reins.

Light Weights Fight for $10,000.

Billy Welch of Buffalo and Al O'Brien of Philadelphia, light weights, met in the arena of the Buffalo Athletic Club last night for a purse of $10,000 and side stakes of a like amount. Both men had trained hard for the event and entered the ring in perfect condition. O'Brien was the favorite in the betting and was liberally backed by the delegation of Philadelphia by a knock-out blow. The fighting was hot and interesting throughout. Welch surprised the crowd by his work, but was clearly outclassed.

AMUSEMENTS.

Mrs. LEASE'S LECTURE at Metzgerott Music Hall last night was identically enjoyed by the audience, for the applause was liberal. Her utterances were in the same strain as her general political speeches, and there were many bright things that caused much amusement. She paid particular attention to the silver question. Her subject was the "Signs of the Times," and she referred to the labor disturbances in Europe and to the unrest that is felt in this country. She spoke of the progress of woman, and said that there would soon come the day when the mothers would have equal representation with the fathers. Both political parties came in for a censure, and the belief was expressed that in the near future emancipation from the ills that both republicans and democrats had inflicted upon the people would be found in the triumph of the populist. The whole lecture was an invective against the money power, or as she termed it, "the divine right of capital" and "the Wall street legislators." She said that she would not be through that victory could be accomplished through the ballot box.

WILLARD HALL.—The testimonial to Miss Clara Rosedahl, held last night, was a thoroughly enjoyable affair. The participants in the program were Prof. Bischoff, Mrs. Wm. B. Keates, Miss Pauline Iseman, Miss Florence Biss, Messrs. Wm. L. Cooper, Madison Wright, C. H. Michaelson, Eliphonzo Youngs, Jr., W. S. Sheets and a number of dancers. The beneficiaries here sang two numbers, Mozart's air and variations, and "The Star of Bethlehem," for which she was liberally applauded.

UNITED STATES COURT.—The concert given at Metropolitan A. M. E. Church last night brought out some excellent work on the part of those who took part in the program, and the White Star orchestra was well demonstrated by the liberal applause that followed nearly every number. The entertainment was for the benefit of the Colored Y. M. C. A., and a handsome sum must have been realized.

TAX COLLECTOR PATTI.—Tonight Mme. M. Stierer, and her husband, Mr. J. M. Stierer, gave a concert at the Metropolitan A. M. E. Church. Mrs. Stierer's voice is said to be remarkable both for purity of tone and for its sweet and melodious quality. She will be assisted by some of the best talent of New York. Philadelphia and this city.

TO BREAK UP GAMBLING.

The Police Acting for the Short Card Plan.

War has been declared on the gambling clubs, and since the decision of Judge McComas in the case of Henry Wilson several of the clubs have closed their doors and quit business. In the Wilson case Judge McComas rebuked the expressions of Judge Miller stated so many times in gambling cases, and the authorities feel certain that club gambling will not run so openly for awhile as it has for several years past.

In the Wilson case the defendant conducted club rooms over a business house on Pennsylvania street between 9th and 10th streets. The room was raided by S. J. Blood who at that time was a member of the police force, and a number of witnesses were examined. Mr. Wilson made no protest of the manner in which the club was run. It was shown that the club was regularly incorporated under the laws of the District and its objects as set forth in its constitution were social intercourse and literary improvement.

The principal improvement as shown in the evidence was the fact that the only thing of a literary nature found in the room were papers and a few periodicals. There was no library there, and the furniture consisted chiefly of card tables and chairs.

THE "DRAW DOWN" FURTHER THE EXPENSES.

Mr. Wilson told the court of the toll or draw down and frankly admitted that the money therefrom went for expenses, for such things as rent, drinks and lunches, and it was from that fund that he got his pay.

Judge McComas held that if the club was a bona fide one the offense charged could not be maintained, but where the charter called for court fines and the court's decision was that playing for a money consideration there was certainly a violation of the law. In the case on trial the judge referred to card playing as the principal feature of the club and if it was done in a gambling way it was a violation of the law. If gambling was carried on under the cover of a charter, then the charter plays no part whatever in the case. Then again he said that where such places as the one where the rooms were fitted up for card playing and all the members were known as poker players, the game was gambling pure and simple.

NOTIFYING THE CLUB ROOMS.

As soon as the decision was rendered Lieut. Amis, in whose precinct the club rooms were located, instructed his men to report all such clubs to the precinct, and thus far twenty-one clubs have been reported.

Lieut. Amis is now visiting the club rooms and notifying the members and officers of the club of the decision, and those who had their doors shut down. Half a dozen clubs have closed their doors, and it is likely that others will soon follow suit. When due notice has been given and the decision is made, the police will begin a series of raids on those who refused to adopt the suggestion or heed the warning.

ALONG THE WHARVES.

Inaugural preparations are in progress. The Norfolk and Washington propellers already left the increased pressure of business. The passenger list of the Washington up this morning was extremely heavy. The steamer George Lewis will be the first to leave for Norfolk and the Virginia regiment from Norfolk and the 4th of the Lake will bring the regulars from Fort Monroe.

The steamer Louise of Baltimore will be around with a deck load of coal. The Louie was here during the G. A. R. encampment.

The Mount Vernon people will put on the morning was a promise of what is to be the most interesting and successful of the season. The steamer W. W. C. will begin her new route tomorrow. She will be commanded by Frederick Fosdy. Oscar Dolman will be her pilot and John White her steward. Her date of departure will be Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday. Her schedule embraces the following: Landings at Alexandria, Fort Washington, Marshall Hall, Wright's, Glymont, Indian Head, Gardfield's, Posey's, Potomac City, Liverpool, Clifton Beach, the Chesapeake and the Potomac river, Mathias Point, Dill's, Red Cedar Point, Brick House, Howland's, Wilkerson's, Colonial Beach, Wirt's, Massey's, Curriemont, Nomini, Leonardtown, Blackstone's Island, Rock Point, Rushwood and Chaptico.

Starting a Fund for McKinley.

As the result of an editorial suggestion in the Waterfront Times the Lincoln League, the leading republican organization of Waterfront, N.Y., and the county of Jefferson, held a meeting last night, at which a movement was started which it is intended will extend to all parts of the country. The idea is to start a subscription in which the amount to be collected is $100,000. The fund thus created to be given to Gov. McKinley of Ohio as a testimonial for services to the republican party as an expatriate and as a member of the cabinet, and as a provision against his threatened retirement from political life in order to retrieve his fortunes in business.

ALEXANDRIA.

An extraordinary swelling of the receipts of the corporation of Alexandria from fines and penalties is one of the public matters that has lately attracted attention, as showing that law breakers are contributing much more than formerly to the city treasury. The Star makes up a summary of the amounts received at various periods within the past four decades for fines and penalties the mayor's office has received.

1852—John Muir, mayor, $753 42
1853—George W. Massey, mayor, 1,876 82
1854—Wm. D. Massey, mayor, 606 34
1871—Hugh Latham, mayor, 1,906 30
1874—Wm. N. Berkeley, mayor, 1,756 37
1875—K. Kemper, mayor, 1,062 81
1881—J. Beckham, mayor, 1,255 80
1887—John D. Smoot, mayor, 1,462 67
1890—E. D. Downham, mayor, 1,901 30
1892—Henry Strauss, mayor, 2,470 65

It is estimated that this year the fines and penalties will at the close of the fiscal year reach $3,250. The lower board of the city council at its last meeting laid on the table an ordinance creating out of the fines and penalties over $2,000—a sinking fund for the payment of the mortgages on the school building and the extra fines will continue to augment the general fund.

COMING TO TOWN.

It is understood that the Deis Furniture Company is considering the propriety of leasing the Pioneer mill from the Haskins Wood Utilizing Company and of transferring a portion of their operations from New Alexandria to this city. The people of Alexandria will be glad to see the Deis works in town.

A Church Anniversary.

Union Mission M. E. Church, at the corner of 8th and I streets northeast, held its second anniversary last evening under the auspices of the Sunday school connected with the church. The exercises consisted of music by the school and addresses by the pastor and superintendent, after which the children were invited to an abundantly supplied table of fruit and confectionery. This mission work was
