SHOE SENSE

—comes high to those who attend the various shoe "sales." In the first place, you pay them too much, for you only get a cheap, worthless shoe simply made to look well. We had a patron who paid $4.00 for what he had been told was a $6 shoe, and we had it in stock for $4.50.

We Save You Money

There's no time for parleying now. This unexpected and unusual sale ends by limitation tomorrow night. 'Tis't hardly likely there'll be any of the great values left. But if there should be—back into their places—to their regular prices—they'll go.

Such considerable reductions as these ought to set the dollars to jingling in your pockets. You'll not be buying for the future—nor of the past—but of SEASONABLE GOODS FOR SEASONABLE NEEDS—

ABOUT GEORGETOWN

Arrangements for the Observance of Decoration Day.

Public Disaffection Over the Delay in the Prospect Street Extension—Other Matters of Interest.

Geo. V. Morris Post, No. 19, G. A. R., will attend divine service at the Lutheran Church, corner Q and 32d streets, on Sunday evening, May 27, at 7:30 o'clock. A memorial sermon will be preached by Rev. Geo. A. Nixdorf, the pastor. The ceremony of decorating the graves at Oak Hill and Holy Road cemeteries is in charge of this post. The local committee for Oak Hill is as follows: J. W. Kirkley, Chas. W. Robinson, Sam'l McMonie, Fred. W. Storch, E. H. Harner, Geo. W. Fletcher and Thomas Brown. For Holy Road, Rudolph Ulmer, Chas. McCarthy, William Dunnington, John W. Post and John Hayward.

Capt. D. W. Houghton, who has had long experience in locating the graves in Oak Hill, will assist the committee. The ceremony of strewing the flowers will be performed by the respective daughters of other members of Morris Post, assisted by other ladies. The post will form at its hall, at drum corps, Oak Hill, and then march to Holy Road. It will carry in line, for the first time, the handsome stand of colors presented by Mrs. Geo. W. Morris, widow of the gallant commander of the Cumberland, after whom the post is named.

The Prospect Street Delay.

Once again the Prospect street extension is before the public in an unfavorable light, the contractor having been ordered to discontinue work as soon as a certain point on the street was reached. Said point is considerably this side of the proposed terminus of the extension. The excuse this time given for the stoppage is that the money available for the improvement has almost run out. The Georgetown people have had their anger at the manner in which things have been moving turned to disgust at this last action of the authorities. In the meantime the street is now in an upturned condition. It is the entrance to a whole row of dwellings will be almost blocked. This is the fourth time the work of extending this street two squares has been interrupted.

For the Teachers' Fund.

The program to be presented at Masonic Hall, under the auspices of the teachers of the Filmore school, for the benefit of the annuity fund, has been completed and is full of pleasant variety. The first part of the evening will be given up to the presentation of numbers, in which the most talented of the Filmore pupils will participate and will include Delsarian drills, fancy dances, recitations, instrumental work, a cantata and drum corps maneuvers. The second part will be furnished by some of the cleverest of the Linthicum students' company of experienced amateur artists, Shreve, Guy Hoppe, the boy musician; Walter Bus and George East, the vocalists; F. Lowe and Miss Blanche Pullizzi of the students will present that charming bit of refined comedy, "A Matrimonial Advertisement," never given in Georgetown. R. C. Banger will introduce his "Gems of Dialectic," and Messrs. Guy Collins, Jas. Kellner and Nathan Weill will produce that spicy skit, "April Fools."

Notes of Interest.

The jury in the case of James Smith, colored, who sued ex-Constable Thompson of Williamsport, on the Chesapeake and Ohio canal, for $20,000 damages, alleging assault and battery, false imprisonment and loss of reputation at the hands of the constable, last Friday brought in a verdict for the defendant.

By order of Lieut. Schoenthal, the boys' brigade of Peck Memorial Chapel will drill each evening from 7 until 8:30 o'clock.

Oliver R. Seward has sold to J. E. Gadsby part of 3 in Dent & Douglass' tract of the Linthicum estate, on Road street, just over the corporation line.

DOING CHINATOWN.

Two Young Men Get Into Trouble and Are Arrested.

All Chinatown was excited this morning. Policemen Kimmell and Hartigan were trying in the 1 o'clock call, when the tooting of nearly a dozen police whistles in the Chinese settlement attracted them. The officers reached 4-1-2 street in a few minutes, and there the noise of the Chinamen was enough to cause the belief that a murder or some other foul crime had been committed. The excited Chinamen were trying to eject several of their white guests, who were out "doing the honors" of the place, talking of the trouble the "Meican" men had caused.

Four young men were found in a combination wash house and optom smoking room at 104 1-1-2 street, which is supposed to be conducted by Lee Yun.

Some of the Chinamen are always at work, and consequently it is necessary for them to eat meals at all hours, and this morning when the four men reached the place, deprived him of the food, had a chicken meal, but one of the intruders, in a spirit of fun, deprived him of the fowl.

But Sam failed to see or appreciate the joke, and made an outcry, but the intruders were not so easily frightened off, and they went up to the optom room, where their conduct indicated that one of them was desirous of "hitting the pipe."

In this room Sam Yuen was found, and when he wanted to eject the early morning intruders it is alleged that they assaulted him.

There were four men in the party, and two of them appeared to be engaged in an endeavor to get the other two away when the officers returned. One of the intruders, Albert Walmesley and Russell Scott, of having assaulted him, and they were arrested. This morning the case was investigated by the assistant district attorney, Mr. Muldowney, and the Chinaman said that Walmesley had struck him on the shoulder with one of the pipes. As this was all the damage done, an information for assault was filed against Walmesley, and he forfeited $5 collateral. No charge was filed against Scott.
