

BREAK IN THE SOUTH

Mr. Dewey's Prediction Regarding Certain Democratic Leaders.

MAY GO TO THE REPUBLICAN PARTY

Senator Hill on His Way Back to Albany.

WARNER MILLER ON SILVER

NEW YORK, April 12.—In an interview upon elections in the south in general and elections in South Carolina in particular, Chauncey M. Dewey says: "With Wade Hampton and M. C. Butler and the aristocratic element that they represent disposed; with the negro disfranchised and with Tillman securely seated in power, what method will be taken to secure justice? There is only one place, and that is in the national convention. Who is more natural than that the better element should appeal to the place that promises relief? What more likely than that Wade Hampton, M. C. Butler and other leaders of this class in South Carolina should come knocking at the door of the next republican national convention? I predict it. The only way to secure relief is through the republican party. The solid south is being broken up and Mr. Tillman will be disposed of upon this line of reconstruction."

Democracy in New York.

Senator Hill arrived from Washington last night on his way to Albany. He does not believe that the people of New York and Brooklyn are quite ready for consolidation, and he told his friends that beyond the appointment of a commission upon the greater New York bill, little progress toward the consolidation of the two cities will be made for some years to come.

Two republican newspapers, one in New York and one in Philadelphia, give an alleged program for the reorganization of the democratic party in New York state after this republican legislative adjourns. This program, according to the republican authorities, was to be perfected at a dinner of the democratic editors of the state.

What Warner Miller Observed.

Ex-Senator Warner Miller has recently been in Chicago. While there, he says, he discovered that there are many free silver advocates in that part of the country. Said he: "The phrase seems to be on fire with sentiment in favor of free coinage. I believe the feeling permeates many western states."

HANGED AT MIDNIGHT.

Execution of Charles Hart in the Ohio Penitentiary.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, April 12.—Charles Hart was hanged at the penitentiary for the murder of Ashley and Elsie Good, two children, in Paulding county, November 4, 1894. Hart was an ignorant lad of eighteen years. Although he made a confession after his arrest, he made the statement on the gallows: "I am not guilty of this crime."

He was baptized in the Methodist faith before his execution. He died without a struggle and death was pronounced in thirteen minutes.

Hart, after killing Ashley Good, assaulted Little Elsie, and then cut her throat. He then mutilated both bodies with a corn cutter and tried to burn them on a pile of brush.

DIED A RICH MAN.

Estimate of the Estate of Robert Louis Stevenson.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., April 12.—Robert Louis Stevenson's estate will probably prove to be worth between $100,000 and $150,000. Most of this will be from profits from his books, but a share of it will be from the estate of his father, the famous light house keeper. The Stevenson place at Samoa consists of 800 acres. Mr. Stevenson might have been worth considerably more, but he kept open house in Samoa. Every needy one was welcome, and in that country it costs a great deal to maintain an establishment where one does not live as the natives do, but in British or American ways.

TROOPS WERE CALLED OUT.

Disturbance Caused by Riotous Miners at Cincinnati, Iowa.

DES MOINES, Iowa, April 12.—The governor was notified this morning that the company of the Iowa National Guard at Centerville had been called to Cincinnati, Iowa, to quell a disturbance by the miners. All is quiet now and it is believed that one company will be able to control any riotous outbreaks.

COULDN'T CARRY HER OUT.

The Victim of the New York Fire Last Night.

NEW YORK, April 12.—The name of the servant who perished in the fire which destroyed the Colonial Bank building last night was Rosie McCoom. She had come from Ireland about three days ago. Prof. Kern, her employer, said that he had tried to rescue the girl, but that she fainted and he was unable to carry her. He left her lying on the floor in the room and called the alarm to the firemen to rescue her. The dead body of Rosie was found among the debris on the first floor of the building.

MASSEY'S ELECTION LIKELY.

Probability of Breaking the Dover Deadlock.

DOVER, Del., April 12.—There is a probability that the present deadlock for a U. S. Senator to succeed Anthony J. Higgins will be broken within the next few days. The ground for the prophecy is the statement made today by Senator Hanly, leader of the Adelle faction, in which he said that the next U. S. Senator from Delaware would be George V. Massey, and that he would be chosen within three weeks.

COL. DODDS RESCUED.

He Had Been Lost in the New Mexico Mountains.

SAN ANTONIO, N. M., April 12.—A rescue party has just arrived, bringing in Col. Dodds, aged eighty-five years, who has been lost in the mountains three days. Col. Dodds lost his way in going from the Asero mountains to Hansonburg, where he had mining property. He was unconscious when found, but will probably recover. Col. Dodds is well known throughout the southwest, having been for thirty years connected with the Santa Fe railroad as civil engineer.

Not Under Eight-Hour Law.

ALBANY, N. Y., April 12.—In response to a request for an opinion preferred by the Albany typographical union Attorney General Hanson has decided that persons employed on state department and legislative printing do not come under the eight-hour law.

Attacked Their Father's Critic.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., April 12.—Indictments were presented in court here today against Harry and Robert Ross, sons of ex-Congressman Miles Ross, for assault and battery upon George Berdine, a republican lawyer. The boys yesterday, Mr. Berdine on the night of March 31, when he was on his way home, and pummeled him severely because of an attack he made upon their father, Miles Ross, at a political meeting.

THE IMPATIENT BIRD MAN.

Functional Fight in the Six Nations Over Naming a Chief.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., April 12.—Delegates from the Onondaga, Cayuga, Mohawk, St. Regis, Oneida and Tuscarora Indians have met in council at the "Long house," at the Onondaga Indian reservation. There were fully one hundred chiefs present, besides numbers of warriors, braves, squaws and papooses. It is the first general council of the six nations held in seven years. After the selection of chiefs to fill vacancies caused by the functional fight came between the followers of two Tuscarora sachems. One faction desired the selection of Daniel Prentup, the other asking for the appointment of David Chew. Sachem I. Forts sided with the chief of the oldest woman in the tribe to name the chief. He also claimed that the election was made on the basis of a functional fight. He also claimed that the election was arranged and said that the Tuscaroras would leave the Six Nations in a body and become citizens.

ONE OF MANY.

Mr. Carmody's Experience With the News-Suppressing Bureau.

One of the very best arguments against the secretive methods of the Commissioners in withholding from the press current news matter was made today by Mr. F. S. Carmody, a prominent builder. Mr. Carmody is the owner of considerable property in square 684. Without ever getting notice that it was contemplated to run a subway through the building, he received information today that condemnation proceedings had been completed and his property injured considerably. Immediately upon learning of this he applied to the District Commissioners for information. The Mystic three were in luck, and he tried the heads of several departments. They all looked wise and placed their fingers to their respective mouths, and said they were about one square distant from the rules of the office to say anything about District business. Mr. Carmody is a busy man, and was considerably nettled at the unnecessary delay. He said to a Star reporter: "This case of mine shows better than anything I could say the ill effects of passing a rule forbidding the newspapers from publishing the news. Before this order was issued the newspapers always had the news of the day, and I was able to put to the expense and trouble of going into court and getting an injunction. Turn on the light and give the newspapers the news which rightly belongs to the public. That's what I say."

THE DOWELL STAKES.

They Are Run at St. Asaph's This Afternoon.

The weather took quite a cold turn at St. Asaph today, and it was expected this would have some effect on the attendance, but, contrary to expectations, a large number were on hand. While the card for today was a small one, it was made up of good hands, and included the Dowell stakes of $1,000 for three-year-olds and upward. The track was in first-class condition. Twenty-one books were on. The St. Asaph stakes of $1,000 for two-year-olds will be run on Monday, April 15. Proposals Accepted.

The Commissioners today accepted the proposal of Andrew Gleason to improve Kenesaw avenue from 15th street to the Zoological Park at 15 cents per square yard for gravel roadway and 17 cents per cubic yard for grading. They also accepted the proposal of J. Lyons to improve the road from Broad Branch to Chesapeake Circle, at 53 cents per square yard for broken quartz macadam.

Bids Opened.

Bids were opened by the Commissioners this morning for the construction of a culvert in Albemarle street. The bidders were Skinner & Burns, Michael H. Cavanaugh, Green & Foley, Lyons Bros., Frank Morgan, Thomas McCormick, William Lanahan and Martin McNamara. The lowest bidder was Michael H. Cavanaugh, who offered to construct a rubble stone masonry culvert at $4.90 per yard or brick masonry at $5.40 per yard.

New Piers Necessary.

The inspector of buildings, who recently discovered a serious defect in the building of one of the piers of the new St. Andrew's Church, recommends that all of the piers be reconstructed, in view of the weight to be supported.

Adjusted Inmate.

William L. Rickman, the bookbinder at the bureau of engraving and printing whose peculiar conduct on the street two days ago caused his arrest, was adjudged insane yesterday. Today he was sent to the asylum.

Weapons Sold.

Nearly three hundred pistols and razors, abandoned and unclaimed property in possession of the police department, were put up at public auction this afternoon at the auction rooms of Hatfield, Darr & Co., on Pennsylvania avenue. There were some fine weapons sold, and good prices were paid for them. The inferior stock brought low prices.

Wants a Receiver.

A bill in equity has been filed by C. S. Richards & Co. against Geo. W. Kain and others to enforce a judgment creditor's bill of $115 on the goods and chattels of Kain at 12th street and for the appointment of a receiver.

The Will of the late Eliza Hopkins, formerly of Marietta, Pa., dated December 19, 1892, has been admitted to probate by the executor, and for her kindness, care and attention makes her sole beneficiary.

Eleventh Childs, a colored infant, and a colored boy named John Bodwin, who has no parents, were turned over to the board of children's guardians by Judge Miller today.

DEATH ACCIDENTAL

Coroner's Jury on the Killing of a Brakeman.

MANGLED BY FREIGHT CARS

Eyes Witnesses Describe the Affair and How It Happened.

CAMPBELL'S LAST WORDS

An inquest was held this afternoon by Coroner Hammett in Lee's undertaking establishment over the remains of Charles H. Campbell, the brakeman employed by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, who was crushed under a coal car Wednesday afternoon at 13th street and Maryland avenue southwest, and sustained injuries that resulted in death a few hours later, at the Emergency Hospital, where he had been removed.

The first witness was Policeman Forrest H. Perks, who saw Campbell when he was lying across the railroad tracks at 13th street and Maryland avenue southwest. He did not see the accident.

Charles A. Lansdale stated that about 3:30 p.m. Wednesday, while in his office, near 13th street and Maryland avenue, he heard groans, and looking out of a window, saw Campbell lying on the tracks. Witness telephoned for the ambulance. The coal cars were moving slowly at the time.

Some Eye Witnesses.

Daisy Clark, a little girl, who was on her way home from school, on the afternoon Campbell was hurt, said that she saw him attempt to mount to the top of a car, when it suddenly jerked, and he fell between the car and the one next to it and was crushed.

Edna Cumberland, also a school girl, testified that at the time of the occurrence she was about one square distant from the spot where it happened. She saw Campbell ascend to the top of the car and apply the brake, when his foot slipped, the cars came together with a crash, and he fell, and was crushed beneath the wheels. He cried, "My God!" and a moment later he was crushed by several persons and finally taken away in the ambulance.

Railroad Men.

Jefferson G. Anderson, the engineer in charge of the engine moving the cars, described how he was backing into the 13th street freight yard Wednesday afternoon, when he received a signal from the fireman to stop and hold the engine. He was running slowly at the time. After stopping, he withdrew the engine, and saw that Campbell had been crushed.

The fireman on the engine, L. B. Boyer, told of the signals he received from a brakeman named Dewey. He repeated them to the engineer.

Asked to Be Shot.

The testimony of the next witness, Geo. J. Dement, differed diametrically from that of Edna Cumberland and Daisy Clark. Mr. Dement, who was but a short distance from Campbell when the accident happened, said that the latter did not board the car, but was walking beside it. As the car approached a stationary car Campbell stepped in front of the moving car to open the coupling. Witness saw him fall and run to the side of the track. He said that he had been tripped by a brake beam, and added: "Shoot me, or kill me, to get me out of my misery."

The Chain Broken.

W. O. Lynch, a flagman, and E. H. Phillips, a conductor, gave unimportant testimony, and then the father of the deceased stated to the jury that shortly before his demise his son said to him: "Papa, the railroad company is responsible for this. If the chain on that lever had not been broken I would not have been hurt."

Mr. Campbell explained that on coupling there is a chain between the cars, which with the coupling, and on the car under which his son was crushed the chain described was broken.

Several of the witnesses stated that the deceased displayed carelessness in attempting to open the coupling of the moving train, and that on that point the jury should be guided. This ended the testimony, and the jury, consisting of Wm. A. Hickey, George W. Downs, Jeremiah T. O'Connell, Thos. F. Haller, Alfred T. Hickey, and John J. Ryan, after considerable deliberation returned a verdict stating the death of Campbell to have been the result of accident and negligence of the railroad officials and employees from all blame.

Poisoning Dogs.

Complaint has been made to the police of the wholesale poisoning of dogs in the vicinity of Market square recently. Some dogs have been found with their throats cut, one it is thought, has been put in a poisoned meat in the park, where scores of dogs play on the grass every day. Several dogs have died during the past few days, among them being one belonging to Dr. Shaeffer, the druggist, and another belonging to Maj. McDowell Carrington. The dog that belonged to the latter was a setter. This animal died last morning, and another of the same kind recovered from the effects of the poison.

In addition to the killing of the dogs the police has caused considerable alarm, because the dogs when taken sick have spasms, which give the impression that they are mad.

The stomachs of several of the dead dogs have been examined by physicians and found to contain strychnine.

THE NATIONAL ACADEMY.

Arrangements for the Spring Meeting of the Academy.

The National Academy of Sciences will convene for its regular spring meeting in this city next Tuesday morning. The sessions will be held in the lecture hall of the National Museum and are expected to continue for three days.

The National Academy, which comprises in its membership many of the most eminent scientific men of the country, holds two meetings a year, one in the spring and one in the fall. The former is especially the business meeting of the year, when officers are elected and new members. The ranks of the organization are not full by any means, and as only five new members may be elected in a year, and as no elections have been held for a number of years past, the number of vacancies has grown steadily. It is probable that some of these vacancies will be filled next week.

GOING TO THE SUPREME COURT.

A Test to Be Made of a Piece of Pension Legislation.
