BRIGHTWOOD ASSOCIATION.

New Officers Elected and Important Matters Considered.

Transfers From Brightwood Road to W. and G. Line.—Dr. Stone Favors the Bond Bill.

The regular monthly meeting of the Brightwood Avenue Citizens' Association was held last evening in the Brightwood Hotel, with President William A. Gately in the chair.

Members present: Dr. H. Darling, Dr. C. G. Stone, W. V. Cox, H. M. Gilman, Thos. O'Brien, E. T. Bates, F. A. Helms, J. H. Stone, Robert E. L. White, George W. White, W. A. Knowles, George G. McElwee, T. H. Felter, M. E. Robinson, John H. Norris, James L. Sands, William Thomas, A. M. Hanson, L. William Burkett, J. A. Thomas, Theodore Thomas and Dr. J. A. Laverde.

Mr. W. V. Cox, from the committee on postal facilities, reported that Brightwood has been selected for the route of mail arriving at 7 a.m., 1 p.m. and 5 p.m. There are also three outgoing mails, the hours of departure being 8:30 a.m., 1:30 p.m. and 5:30 p.m.

Mr. Cox explained that by this schedule the residents of Brightwood now receive their mail one hour earlier than heretofore, and the evening papers as early as the delivery in some portions of Washington.

In regard to changing the Brightwood post office from the fourth-class to a substitution of the Washington office, nothing definite has been done, so said Mr. Cox, that the Washington post-office building, in his opinion, is a substitution of the Washington office with one, and paid the two buildings.

Mr. King announced that the well opposite the hotel is dry, and he moved that the Commissioners be requested to dig the well for the hotel, and that the well be at least twelve families depend upon the well for their water supply, and hot water is being furnished.

After considerable discussion regarding transfers at Florida avenue from the Brightwood railroad to the Metropolitan railroad, the Washington and Georgetown road and request them to accept the transfer coupon, sold at the rate of four for 25 cents, issued by the Brightwood company and now accepted by the Metropolitan road.

The annual election of officers was then proceeded with, after President Gately had briefly thanked the association for courteous and efficient service during the year. Mr. W. V. Cox, the chief clerk of the National Museum, who is a resident of Brightwood, and Mr. E. Robinson were nominated for president and secretary, respectively, in favor of Mr. Cox, who made a few remarks reviewing the history of the association.

Mr. E. Robinson, Mr. Charles F. King and Mr. A. G. Osborn were unanimously elected vice president, secretary and treasurer, respectively. Dr. C. G. Stone and Dr. H. Darling were chosen as members of the executive committee.

After a speech of acceptance, Dr. Stone eloquently urged the association to unanimously and harmoniously in support of the passage of the bond bill, declaring that Brightwood is entitled to the best water facilities until the bill mentioned becomes a law.

Dr. Stone, Darling and O'Brien were appointed a committee to bring to the attention of the Commissioners the amount of damage being caused to property bordering Brightwood creek, and to report thereon, by reason of absence of gutters and consequent lack of drainage, and after the meeting a meeting place and the compensation thereon had been referred to the executive committee the association adjourned.

Two Young Men Arrested for Chilling Out the Engines.
The District authorities are having a little trouble with the keyless fire alarm boxes, two alarms having been sounded from the box at 9th and F streets during the night of the 11th, when there was no fire.

This morning about 3 o'clock the keyless alarm was sounded, and the several fire companies responded. At the time the alarm was sounded workmen were engaged cleaning the cable road conduit, and many of the traps were open. It was with some difficulty that the workmen closed their traps and swung their ladders in time to prevent the serious and perhaps fatal injury to some of the fire horses.

Policeman Garraway was on duty on that beat at the time the false alarm was sounded, and he was on duty when it was sounded two days ago. He was unable to catch the offender then, but he has been on the alert ever since, and this morning he caught the young man who was in the shadow of the patrol box until he heard the ringing of the bell. Then he went across the street and arrested them. Their explanation was that the handle had been fiddled with the handle and had accidentally turned it.

The young man who turned the handle gave his name as Louis Kane. His companion gave his name as Melville Tucker. They appeared in Judge Kimball's court today, and were charged with violating police regulations in giving a false alarm of fire.

The court heard the evidence of Policeman Garraway and Kimmel, and the young men were also heard. Kane admitted that he turned the handle while fooling with it, and Tucker said he was some distance from the box at the time.

In answer to the court's inquiry the policemen said that the box is too high to be reached by a small boy, and said that the handle is not easily turned.

Judge Kimball instructed the young men to be good boys, and to be careful of the fire, and so far as he is concerned, he will fine everybody who turns the handle and sends in an alarm of fire when there is no reason for it. Kane was fined $25, and Tucker was released.

Not a Case of Nerve Suppression.
Referring to the claim of F. S. Carmody, builder and contractor, that he had not been notified of the condemnation proceedings for the removal of the building at square 684, Marshal Wilson today told a reporter of The Star that every property holder of record was served with notice ten days in advance of the condemnation proceedings on a certificate filed from the assessor, and also that the notices were furnished by an attorney who had examined the records down to date. In neither list was the name of F. S. Carmody as a property owner in said square. An account of the proceedings appeared in The Star the following day, and the announcement of the application of the Commissioners to the marshal for a jury of condemnation was published in The Star of February 12.

Wholesale Produce Market.
A Splendid Easter Market.—Little change in prices.
Purchasers today were attracted to one of the best-stocked markets ever seen at this season of the year, and the prices asked them were, with perhaps the sole exception of those in beef, about as low as ever before experienced. The market during the past week was a firm one throughout, and in steady advance, resulting in beef still continues high, with no indications of a decline, and other meats are sympathetically affected. Indeed, it is not unlikely that beef will advance still further instead of falling, and high prices are expected to continue for quite a while. The spot market for hams, shoulders and prices gradually recede as the season advances. Generally the stock is of good quality, and sufficient in quantity to meet the demand.

Strawberries show a good yield, and prices, gradually falling, will soon place them at the level of the market. Heretofore noted, pointing to an active, healthy market this season, still continue, and the general belief is that will prove one of the best for some years.

Butter is very firm, and, while weak in the east, is quite firm in the west, so any local decline in price is not likely. Buyers are rather particular as to quality, there being a poor demand for the lower grades. Eggs are moderate, but little new stock is seen, and it is generally fairly. For fresh creamery and other eggs, the market is active, and prices are asked. First, 20 to 21; seconds, 19 to 20; and imitations, 14 to 15. Fancy creamery prints, 25 to 27; ordinary prints, 22 to 24. Haskers' choice stock, 12 to 14. From New York, 16 to 20; western dairy, 12 to 14; Maryland and Virginia dairy, 12 to 14. Choice eggs, 12 to 14. From above quotations for extra fancy stock. Prices in cheese show no change. York State full cream, large, 22; flats and pony, 13 cents a pound. New stock arriving, but faulty in quality.

Yale Glee and Banjo Clubs.—The attraction on Monday evening at Metzerott Music Hall will be the Yale Glee and Banjo Clubs. Although the Yale base ball club was thrown down, it is not at all likely that the people of Washington will accord to these clubs the same reception for the Yale Glee Club, and the Yale Banjo Club hold a very warm place in the hearts of music lovers of this city.

Tickets are selling rapidly for their concert, and an excellent program will be rendered. The list of patronesses, which includes many ladies prominent in Washington society, has already been printed in The Star.

Willard Hall.—"Showball," one of Sydney Grandy's most popular songs, will be presented at Willard Hall April 17 by Mr. C. Garvin Gilmanne, Miss Ellen Vockey and a number of other artists of merit. The concert will be given at 8 o'clock, and will be given on the open, lighted stage. Believers as well as unbelievers always flock to see Miss Fay, and she is recognized as the greatest every medium of sensations of the public.

Wholesale Produce Market.
A Splendid Easter Market.—Little change in prices.
Purchasers today were attracted to one of the best-stocked markets ever seen at this season of the year, and the prices asked them were, with perhaps the sole exception of those in beef, about as low as ever before experienced. The market during the past week was a firm one throughout
