ARE BACHELORS OF LAW ALLEGED ROGUE CAPTURED

Degree Conferred Upon Ninety-Nine Graduates of Howard University.

John Davis Charged With Larceny From the Person.

Pocketbook Containing $180 Taken From the Pocket of Christian Elders, a Contractor.

The degree of bachelor of law was conferred on ninety-nine graduates of Howard University last evening, and a master's diploma was awarded to each of a number of others by the same institution, President McKinley delivering the address to the students.

The commencement exercises were held in the First Congregational Church, in the presence of a very large gathering of friends of the graduates. The church was prettily decorated for the occasion.

Mr. F. Leitch, dean of the law department, presided during the evening. Music was rendered by Hoffman's orchestra. The invocation was pronounced by Rev. Dr. James E. Rankin, president of the university. The valedictory was delivered by Mr. John W. Bird, whose scholarly address was received with applause. The address to the graduates was by Mr. John P. Green, and it contained some very timely advice. A vocal solo was rendered by Miss Lola Johnson, after which President McKinley performed the duty assigned him.

The Graduates.

Those who received diplomas as bachelors of law were S. G. Alexander, Charles E. M. Brown, Henry A. Brown, J. W. Bird, Andrew R. Black, Albert C. Bradford, Frank Bacon, Paul H. Bray, James A. Cobb, Alfred B. Cooney, Miss Cynthia E. Cleveland, Emory R. Carter, Henry E. Earle, Roger B. Franklin, Lawrence G. Fletcher, Jr., John C. Harrison, Thomas G. H. H. Jones, Ebenezer H. Harper, Archie V. Jones, Robert S. King, William L. Lee, Robert L. Mayfield, J. Thomas Newsome, Thomas G. Nutter, Joseph S. Nobles, John C. Payne, Edmond A. Patten, Fred Randolph Ramer, Percy H. Sykes, Henry P. Slaughter, Harry J. Williams, Nelson E. Weatherless, Louis Sperling, S. G. Thompson, Harry S. Welsh, Moses E. Williams and Berkeley Craighill Walker.

Those who were granted degrees as masters of law: George W. Cook, William L. Dewart, Joseph P. Jones, Jacob W. Miller, Owen E. McNeill, James L. Neill, Harry J. Williams, Nelson E. Weatherless, George M. Wyatt, L. Melendez King and Tikhman J. Gordon.

Representative Green, governor of Ohio spoke briefly to the graduates, congratulating them on the great progress the colored race had made since the civil war. It would be well, he said, for the white race to see that they were making as great progress.

The exercises were concluded by the presentation of a portrait of Abraham Lincoln to the law department of the university by the graduating class. President Rankin received the gift on behalf of the university, the presentation speech being made by Mr. Geo. W. Cook.

The reception committee last evening was composed of J. Thomas Butler, chairman; L. W. Bryan, George F. Collins, J. C. Moore, C. E. Kimbrough, George H. Benjamin, J. W. Chapelle, L. H. Nutter, E. M. Stockton, Dean Swift and W. H. Lewis.

Particulars of Alleged Robbery.

It was 11:45 o'clock when the train pulled in under the railroad shed, and the conductor called, "Change cars for the west." Mr. Elders, who was on his way from the Queen city to Pittsburg, left his seat and was leaving the car to cross the platform to the west-bound train, when suddenly a man jumped him and put a coat in front of him. That instant he felt his pocketbook leaving his inside coat pocket.

Davis had a coat on his arm when he started to leave the train, and it was this coat, it is charged, that was thrust in the face of the Philadelphia contractor.

An outcry was made and the railroad men were prompt in making an arrest. The man who it is alleged committed the robbery darted under the west bound train and ran through the yard. He was evidently not well acquainted with the surroundings, for he soon found a ten-foot fence staring him in the face. He was soon over the fence, however, and the newsboy who had gone through D street to head him off called to him to stop.

"Go back, boy, or I'll shoot you," was the greeting given him.

His threat did not frighten the boy, however, and with some of the railroad men he followed him up New Jersey avenue to Detective Reynolds, who had also attempted to reach the fugitive, was only a few feet behind him with his pistol drawn.

Policeman Nusbaum, who was seated in front of the train, was alerted by the shouts, "Catch him," and without any trouble he stepped out and grabbed the man. In the station the prisoner was searched, but nothing of an incriminating nature was found on him. A few minutes afterward Frank Wise found the pocketbook on the street, where it had been thrown. It was charged with the surrounding. This morning the prisoner was taken to police headquarters, where he was measured. After being photographed he was taken before the Police Court and sentenced to a charge of larceny from the person.

Committed to Jail.

Mr. Carrington appearing for the defendant, entered a plea of not guilty. An examination was waived and the case was sent to the grand jury. Bond was fixed at $500. In default of bond Davis was committed to jail.

FOR THE ENCAMPMENT.

Arrangements Well Under Way for Next Week's Affair.

A meeting of the executive committee of the great encampment, under the auspices of R. E. Lee Chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, to be held June 7 and 8, at Glen Echo Park, was held this morning at the Metropolitan Hotel. A communication from Leesburg reported that about 200 confederates and visitors would attend the exercises. The committee on speakers reported the addition of several names of Illinois and Senator John M. Thurston had been added to the list. The committee on program reported the addition of several names of dramatic readers. A communication was received from ladies of the United Daughters of the Confederacy from the city of Baltimore, requesting representation on Maryland day. The communication will be acted upon next Thursday. It was decided to reserve the publication of the official committee on escort to the President until a later date in order to have a more complete representation from the states involved. The committee on music reported the addition of several soloists and several instrumental selections. A communication was received from Mrs. Helen J. Sparhawk offering her services on the musical committee. The general manager was directed to see Mrs. Sparhawk and make arrangements for the rendering of music dedicated by her to the occasion.

It was decided to invite the Rev. Dr. Newman of the First Congregational Church of Washington to make the invocation on Maryland day. The board adjourned till Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

HER MIND UNBALANCED.

Mrs. Handler of Harrisburg Wanted to See the President.

Mrs. Rosa Handler, a young woman from Harrisburg, Pa., arrived at the Baltimore and Potomac depot yesterday afternoon and inquired the way to the White House. She was accompanied by her son, who is about seven years old. When she stated reasons for desiring to see President McKinley, Sergeant Joseph Acker thought her mind was unbalanced, and he concluded to escort her to the police station in order that a proper inquiry might be made.

Mrs. Handler's demonstrations of affection embarrassed the officer, and he was relieved when he succeeded in placing her in charge of the matron. The woman said her husband, J. Handler, lives at No. 1212 North 3d street, Harrisburg. Last night Major Sylvester communicated with the Harrisburg authorities by telephone. From them it was learned that the woman's statements were true, and this afternoon she returned home with friends.
