THE WORLD OF SOCIETY

President and Mrs. McKinley Take Dinner at Alger Home.

Two Notable Home Weddings Last Night—Personal Notes of Interest.

President and Mrs. McKinley were entertained at dinner last night by the Secretary of War and Mrs. Alger. Mr. and Mrs. McWilliams of Chicago, who are visiting at the White House, Justice and Mrs. Harlan, General and Mrs. Henry, ex-Secretary and Mrs. John W. Foster, Representative and Mrs. Robert R. Hitt and Major Hopkins were the other guests. The house was elaborately adorned with flowers, and a mandolin orchestra played. Secretary and Mrs. Alger will leave today for a three weeks' visit to Canada.

The marriage of Miss Corlaine Clements and Mr. John Erich Watkins, Jr., took place at 8:30 o'clock last night at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Courtland C. Clements, 18th street, and was witnessed by their immediate relatives. The great popularity of the couple was attested by the scores of guests who attended the reception from 9 until 11 o'clock.

Rev. S. L. Bryant of St. Paul's performed the ceremony in the front alcove of the drawing room, which was converted for the occasion into a lower of flowers heavily with palms and arched with garlands of roses and smilax. The bride was gown in heavy tulle, and carried a bouquet of white and pink roses. The bridegroom wore a white tuxedo. The bride's sister, Miss Katherine Clements, who attended her as flower girl, wore yellow organdy and carried a basket of yellow flowers. The ceremony commenced with the familiar strain of the wedding march from Lohengrin four little heralds in white organdy. Misses Claudine Clements, Miss Margaret Clements, Miss Marie E. Watkins and Miss Margaret Manning, formed an altar, through which the bridal procession entered the drawing room. The bride was escorted by her father, John Alexander Clark of this city, who was best man.

During the reception which followed the ceremony the library to examine the wedding gifts, and were numerous and elegant. The bride's going-away gown was tailor made of mode cloth, worn with a velvet jacket. Mr. and Mrs. Watkins left on a late train for an extended trip in New England.

Among the guests the oldest resident set and select circle were largely represented, while many came from outside the city. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Erich Watkins, Miss Marie E. Watkins, Mrs. Charles A. Watkins, Mrs. Edmond S. Commissioner and Mrs. Edmund S. Commissioner, Mrs. Paul Gorham, Mr. and Mrs. Manning, Mr. and Mrs. S. T. IOWA REPUBLICANS.

Local Association Meets and Orders Adjournment Until Fall.

The Iowa Republican Association held its last meeting until the fall at Macabean Hall, on 9th street, last night. Owing to the small number of members present, the weather interfering materially with the attendance, no program was carried out for the entertainment of those present, and routine business occupied most of the time given up to the meeting. Among other questions considered was one relating to a reduction of the dues of members of the association, which was carried without opposition.

The presiding officer, Mr. Wm. M. Wilson, paid some attention to delinquent members in the matter of paying up dues, and also gave notice that the association had received an invitation from Mrs. Burson, the wife of one of the members of the organization who resides in Alexandria, to visit her in that city, a number of new members were elected, and Mr. Wilson administered his hearers to procure, if possible, some tickets of the weather bureau eligible for membership before the fall meeting, so that fair weather might be enjoyed for one meeting, if no more, next season.

It is claimed by the promoters of the organization that bad weather has occurred on every date set for a reunion of the association within the last twelve years. With the admission of the new members, the association will meet next fall at the call of the president.

ADMIRAL DEWEY'S RECEPTION. Business Men's Association to Operate With Official Committee.

Eleven members of the special committee of twenty-five recently appointed by the Business Men's Association to consider arrangements for a reception to Admiral Dewey upon his return to Washington met at the Riggs House yesterday afternoon. It was decided to increase the membership to thirty, and to operate with the official committee of 100 selected by the District Commissioners.

HIS FRIENDS ALARMED. Disappearance of a Popular Citizen of Athens, Ga.

Maj. Sylvester, superintendent of police, has received a communication from the authorities of Athens, Ga., asking that the officers who have been requested to look out for John A. Benedict, who disappeared from there several days ago. The missing man was cashier of the Exchange Bank at Athens, and was popular with all classes of people. It is believed he has met with foul play in the vicinity of Greenville, S. C., some of his friends are of the opinion that he may have come to this city.

LADIES AS ENTERTAINERS. The Ladies' Aid Society of Stansbury Lodge, No. 24, F. A. M., gave an entertainment at the hall in Brighton last evening. A committee, written by Mrs. Thos. Calver, entitled "A Successful Rehearsal," was first presented. The characters were Mrs. Mary Haywood, Miss Lillian Calver, Mrs. Geo. Hensley and Dr. Thos. Calver. The play was followed by recitations by Miss Jessie Good, songs by Miss Lucy Herriot and dramatic pictures by Mrs. H. W. Johnson. The entertainment was concluded with refreshments and dancing.
