"If they're Rich's shoes they're proper."
 Ten-two F.

What footwear best suited to wear while on the vacation is not so easy a question. One sort will not suffice for wear at seaside and country, too. We've made this question a study. We advise you knowingly—and you may be certain that what we advise is correct.

The stock just now is complete—with shoes and Oxfords for wear on every occasion, and particularly is this true of white canvas and linen footwear. There is no equal assortment in town—there cannot be gathered a more comprehensive showing.

Special attention is given to footwear for traveling abroad. You will need many sorts if you take comfort into consideration.

We have told you before that ordering shoes by mail—of us—results as satisfactory as though you were here in person.

Proper way is to leave your measurements before you go, so that if you need anything we shall be able to send it without the least risk of its not fitting.

THE SOCIAL WORLD
 Where Washingtonians Will Seek Cooling Breezes.
 MANY ARE GOING ABROAD TO TRAVEL
 After the Fourth the Great Scattering Will Begin.
 RECENT PLEASANT EVENTS

If there were a judicious sprinkling of such days of comparative comfort right along the next two months as this city has been blessed with the past week the summer could be spent here with great ease. As it is, those who dislike to leave until after the Fourth of July are hopeful that at least these pleasant conditions will continue until after that date, which is the date when the heat becomes unbearable here than elsewhere in the matter of noise. The weddings in which the fashionables are interested are about over for this month, although that of Miss Lindsay Poor and Colonel Maus will be a Washington event in all but the place of its occurrence. The departures for Europe far exceed those of the past year and will go far to make up for last summer's lack of representation in the great capitals, and augur well for the army of travelers who now expect to sail in Paris. This month, however, will not materially interfere with the entertaining set either at Newport, of which, however, Washington is doing more and more, or at Bar Harbor, where the capital colony is much stronger. At Newport much time is consumed during the early season in settling the accounts of Belmonts, Birmings, and the letters from that city by the sea. Mr. and Mrs. Perry Belmont, after some credit in the matter of making many alterations in their home there, sailed for Europe the past week. They are also announced as having leased a place at Bayswater, London, although, rumormongers, too, they are due at Newport August 1.

Mrs. Wright, wife of District Commissioner Wright, left Thursday for her summer home at Martha's Vineyard. Mrs. W. B. Bryan and family will summer, as usual, at Cottage City, Mass. Prince Leopold of Iseberg, who is rather pleasantly remembered here, is having a great deal of trouble just at present with the German government. He has about 350,000 marks with interest for six years, on account of funds advanced for his marriage expedition to America. This venture was a dire failure as neither of the wealthy heiresses sought was willing to exchange her money for the honors of being the bride of the prince. Prince Leopold's chase for a rich wife was about over when he reached this city, and when he returned to Europe he was subsequently seen at the best. When he returned to Europe he was subsequently seen at the best. When he returned to Europe he was subsequently seen at the best.

Assistant Secretary of State and Mrs. Hill will go to the Massachusetts coast for their summer. Mrs. H. Clay Evans and the Misses Evans are going to California next month. Mr. and Mrs. George B. Williams will go shortly to their summer place in Indiana, where the fishing for the former and complete rest and quiet for the latter are attractions anticipated with great pleasure. They will break the monotony, however, by several eastern trips during the next two months.

Mrs. S. H. Kauffman is visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Granger at their summer home at Bayport, L. I. Commander and Mrs. Dickens are at Mount Lake Park, Pa., for a visit. Judge and Mrs. Maury and daughters will be at the Greenbrier White Sulphur after July 1. Judge Embry and family have gone abroad.

Mrs. Miller has made alterations on her house on Highland terrace, which has now an English basement entrance. The alterations, however, are not striking and give to this comfortable home all the modern improvements.
