The Practice Of Dress Economy.

With the dawning of the new season the question of your wardrobe expense warrants careful consideration from a practical point of view.

Studying what to select, knowing where to buy, will unquestionably lessen your clothing expenses most perceptibly.

We suggest beginning by watching our store doings. We're good counsellors on the subject of made-to-order clothes, and will give you fashion, fit, superior tailoring—in fact, everything except high prices.

We've schooled thousands of tasteful and frugal-minded folks in the wisdom of “dress economy.” We have battled and successfully contended against the high prices so generally asked by other tailors.

It has been a pleasing and profitable duty to perform—pleasing because of the multitudes of friends we have made and profitable because our business has grown to vaster proportions than ever before.

Let us be your tailors this spring.
