THE SOCIAL WORLD

Miss Hichborn is Now Mrs. James G. Blaine.

At the ceremony, at which a comfortable company assisted, the couple had breakfast with a chosen few at the bride's home. Mr. Lehr sent out wine and cake to the throng of people gathered about the entrance. Tomorrow the much-talked-of couple will sail for a short European trip and will be back at Newport by the time the season is on.

SMALL COMPANY AT NOTABLE SCENE

Honeymoon Will Be Spent in European Travel.

PERSONAL NOTES

Miss Martha Hichborn, daughter of Rear Admiral and Mrs. Hichborn, and Mr. James G. Blaine were married at noon today at the residence of the bride's parents, 1707 N street, by Rev. Dr. Radcliffe, pastor of the New York Avenue Church. Only a small gathering witnessed the ceremony, which was followed by a breakfast. Mr. and Mrs. Blaine left late this afternoon for New York, and will sail Thursday for Europe. They will be abroad three months, and will reside in New York when they return.

There has hardly ever been in Washington a young couple married whose separate and distinct claims to public interest have been considered as great as this bride and groom of today. The former, upon her presentation to society five or six years ago, was at once hailed as the new beauty, and has since then enjoyed the plaudits and admiration which ever in history, as in our own day, have been accorded a reigning belle. Added to her beauty, she

THE STAR TROPHY AT STAKE.

Central High School Will Own It If Unusual Interest attaches to the field and track contest at the local High School Friday on the Georgetown College campus.

owing to the fact that if the Central High School scores the most points it will retain the silver trophy donated by The Evening Star for excellence in athletics. The trophy becomes the absolute property of the holder when within three years in succession it has won it. The trophy is two years old, and will make every effort to win this year. But the contest is by no means a walkover. The other schools have cleverly pushed Central in the past, and have no reason why they should not do so this year. Six years ago The Evening Star offered a silver trophy to the local High Schools to encourage interest in athletics. This cup Central took that year and the two following years and became the owners of the trophy. But on Wednesday last, Friday will endeavor to add this cup to its collection.

Bellamy Society Debate.

The Bellamy Society, which was organized a few weeks ago, is holding its meetings in the East Washington Y. M. C. A. rooms at 19 East Capitol street. The program for the next meeting, to be held Wednesday evening, will include a debate on the proposition that in organizing and financing the steel trust Mr. J. P. Morgan has accomplished a public benefaction.

J. Fairfield Carpenter Dead.

A message was received last evening announcing the sudden death at the Baths of Nainheim, near Frankfurt, Germany, of J. Fairfield Carpenter, late of this city and Cazenovia, N. Y. Mr. Carpenter left here last fall for Egypt, where he spent the past winter.
