Mme. Yale's HAIR TONIC.

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:

It affords me great pleasure to call the attention of the public to my Hair Tonic, which is the first and only remedy known to chemistry which positively turns gray hair back to its original color without dye. It has gone on record that Mme. Yale—wonderful woman chemist—has made this most valuable of all chemical discoveries. Mme. Yale personally indorses its action, and gives the public her solemn guaranty that it has been tested in every conceivable way and has proved itself to be the ONLY Hair Restorer that STOPS HAIR FALLING IMMEDIATELY and creates a luxuriant growth. Contains no injurious ingredients. Physicians and chemists in fact analyze it. It is not sticky or greasy, on the contrary, it makes the hair soft, youthful, fluffy and keeps it in curl. For gentlemen and ladies with hair a little gray, streaked gray, thinning gray and with bald heads, it is especially recommended.

COLOR RESTORED.

March 5, 1900.

Dear Madame Yale:—I can conscientiously recommend your Hair Tonic to any one, as I have found it just what you claim it to be. My hair was falling out and beginning to turn gray. I have used six bottles of your Hair Restorer and my hair has regained its natural color, the gray hairs having almost disappeared and have stopped falling out entirely. I have a great deal of confidence in all of your goods, as all that I have used have given entire satisfaction.

CURRENT SPORTING NEWS

Where They Play Today.

Milwaukee at Washington.
Detroit at Baltimore.
Chicago at Philadelphia.
Cleveland at Boston.

Yesterday's game at American Park, between the Washington and Milwaukee clubs, was won by the latter, 9 to 8. After looking over the contest an alleged humorist in the grand stand remarked that it belonged to one of the "37 varieties," and it could be served up with warm water. Be that as it may, the game was certainly a variable one and furnished enough excitement for the average "fan" to satisfy him for several days. There were so many good plays, bad plays and indifferent plays that a detailed description is difficult.

Hustings was on the rubber for Milwaukee, and but for his bases on balls the Senators would not have been in the running, as the hit generally came after batters had been given a free pass to first or an error would bob up. During the six innings he was on the rubber, but five hits had been made off his delivery, but when he started the seventh with passes and allowed the next man to make a single, filling the bases, Manager Duffy signalled from the center garden, and Hustings went to the bench.

Milwaukee's manager evidently went through the form of "Fony, meeny, miny, mo," when looking over his twirlers for "Pink" Hawley walked to the center of the diamond as the relieving force. The best he could do was to slam the ball into Bill Clarke's ribs, forcing home a run, and then allow Sammy Dungan to strike out the one and clear the bases with a triple to the club house. Manager Duffy then decided on another "choiced" Virgil Garvin. This time he hit it right over the elongated twirlers from Texas being a mystery for the two and a half innings he was on the rubber, resting on the plate on the third and no one out in the seventh, Garvin struck out Foster, Quinn was retired on an easy inside hit, and Coughlin also "fanned." This proved to be the last of that the spectators had to cheer Virgil, although he was serving in the enemy's camp.

Wyatt Lee was on the rubber for Washington and with anything like good support he would have won his game, "hands down." Notwithstanding this, Coughlin and Lee stuck everlastingly at it and the visitors won out by the narrowest of margins. At the bat, Lee also did his best to land the game, being one of the three Senators to get more than one hit.

The Brewers started off well, Waldron's triple to the right field corner and an out from short to first sent him over the plate with the first run. In the second, Washington did some business, and the game seemed cinched. After two more Senators had been retired, and their two singles, a double and an error sent four Washington lads over the plate.

Washington's pitcher, M. H. Miller, was on the rubber, and the game didn't look so good from a Washington standpoint. An error by Everitt and another by Coughlin left two runners on base in the seventh, then Friel "swatted" a ball to the right field fence and both scored.

But the seventh inning furnished the Waterloo and the gamut of physical feeling was run. First came surprise, then consternation, then woe, and finally, indignation. When the Senators went to the bat, the feelings of the spectators took another turn, and this time surprise came first; then joy, then exultation, and, finally, disappointment. The onlookers certainly got their money's worth.

Burke and Maloney started the trouble with singles to center, and then Cingman's error let in three runs. Waldron's triple to center, and on Farrell's error two more runs crossed the plate. Then a let-up occurred, two of a nice single. "A" Anderson got in a nice single. "A" was caught off first and should have been easily retired, but Cingman was too slow with the ball and he regained the bag in safety. In recognition of this generousity Conroy slammed the ball over the left field fence, and two more runs were scored.

In Washington's eighth inning, the Senators scored four times, and Dungan rested on third with the tying run, but he couldn't be brought in. Cingman walked and Lee singled and streaked out by way of filling the bases. Clarke was then hit by a pitched ball and Dungan tripled to right, clearing the bases. The next three men went out, as detailed above.

Neither side scored in the eighth and ninth innings and the Brewers were a happy lot as they took the coach for the home "Score."

RACES BETWEEN AMERICANS.

Cycle Contests Tonight on the Bowl Track.

The first all amateur meet, which will be run off tonight at 8 o'clock at the Calverton, 14th and East Capitol streets, promises to eclipse anything of its kind ever held in the District, as the entries in the events include the fastest amateur riders of this city. Owing to the large number of entries, several of the races will be run off in two heats and possibly three.

The first race on the program tonight will be the one-mile novice, in which the following have entered: V. Denham, H. Talbot, J. Christian, L. J. Allen, J. L. Loeffler, W. Esauville, J. W. Allen, J. H. Mitchell and F. Hoover.

The half-mile open is looked upon as the feature of the evening and promises to be the most exciting race of the evening. The entries in this event include such men as Clarence Miller, Ray Cogswell, Johnny Hill, Howard King, Messinger, H. L. Willcox and J. O. Barford.

The largest field of riders, however, have had the honors on the mile handicap, and sixteen riders will stretch out around the big wooden bowl in this popular sport. It is probable that this event will be run off in two heats, and possibly three.

The riders who will take part are E. C. Gill, J. F. Loeffler, A. Messinger, J. L. Mitchell, F. Long, Ray Cogswell, Johnny Hill, J. O. Barford, H. L. Willcox, William Ward, H. W. Willcox, A. C. Moran, E. L. Wilson, Charles Elliott, George Myers and O. H. Miller.

The race which has attracted widespread attention is the police pursuit race, which is included in tonight's program of events. The race is open to members of the local police force and will be run off by four of the speedy riders of the local force who may be expected. The first event of this nature was captured by C. L. Clemmons of No. 1 precinct a few weeks ago, who will enter the contest again tonight and go after first prize again. The other members of the force entered are L. J. O'Brien and A. C. Lynn, both of the eighth precinct. The event is of an exciting kind and is expected to be one of the most closely contested races of the evening.

Base Ball Notes.

It was certainly "Blue Monday."

Yesterday's game was another one to forget.

Milwaukee for the last time today, closing the first western series.

William Carrick is about due for one of his good games today, and the Brewers shouldn't have a chance.

Only two Chicago fans will be here tomorrow with the great Lajoie. The players of the two teams will doubtless exclaim "What a day!"

"Pop" Foster, the popular left fielder, is not in the best condition, and his batting suffers in consequence. He manages to field his position, but his strong hitting of two weeks ago is missed.

The Boston boys, with Jimmy Collins at the head, will drop into Washington for the game on Friday and Saturday. This aggregation will never get over the four straight defeats administered by the Senators on the Boston grounds.

Detroit and Baltimore are lucky in one thing. Both have pitchers—Yeager and Dunn—who can play short as good as many of the regulars.

Both Boston teams had an unbroken record of victories last week. The Boston Nationals won seven games and the Americans four.

Tom Tucker made his first appearance with New London last Wednesday and his team played an errorless game and won from Fredland, 5 to 1.

Pitcher "Lefty" High, who was recently sold by Newport News to New Orleans, has been signed by the Detroit American League club.

The discipline enforced by President Johnson of the American League is having its effect on the butky players who have been looking for trouble, and the promises of Griffith and Donlin indicate that both of those worthies are satisfied that they can't get into the league.

Frank Kitson of the Brooklyn team enjoys the distinction of being the best hitting pitcher in the National League. It is seldom that a pitcher draws salary for his batting as well as for his work on the rubber, but there is no doubt that a part of the large salary the Brooklyn club pays Kitson is in consideration of his value as a batsman.

It is not certain that Billy Lauder, who has been traded for Hugh Jennings, will be positioned in New York and is reluctant to be traded to call on him, and he may be induced to give up the jewelry business for base ball. In case Lauder does sign, Gentry will be carried as utility man, and Lauder will not play Sunday ball.

After winning ten straight games and climbing from the second division into first place, the Boston Americans lost to the Cleveland yesterday and let Chicago take the lead again. The Detroit, who had won the western trip, did not play Sunday ball, and then in the second, dropped to fourth yesterday, and Washington, which occupied second place for awhile on the western trip, slid into the second division yesterday by letting the tallers wallop them.

Manager Hanlon of the Brooklyn team was in consultation with A. G. Spalding, as President Hart has decided to go to California after this season. When asked as to the truth of the rumor, Mr. Hanlon refused to say anything about the conference. The name McGinnity should be respected as long as base ball is played.

Not very many days ago he received a letter from Manager Hanlon urging him to first place the Boston Americans lost to the Cleveland yesterday and let Chicago take the lead again. # Fast Time of Pennny's Henley Crew.

Some fast trials were made at Henley, England, yesterday afternoon, the Pennsylvania University crew doing the best, covering the full course in seven minutes three and one-fifth seconds, and half the course in three minutes twenty-five seconds. Starting at forty to the minute, the Americans never fell below thirty-seven and sometimes spurted to forty-two.

A number of British oarsmen accompanied the Americans. The former considered the trial to be a remarkable one. The Pennsylvanians were by no means rowed out. They proceeded to their boat house, half a mile farther, before stopping. The conditions of wind and water were not favorable to the oarsmen. The leader crew did the course in seven minutes thirty-five seconds, so the Americans' chances are regarded as good.

Cornell Row Boat Races.

There was a conference at Cornell rowing quarters at Poughkeepsie last night over the question of allowing John M. Francis to represent the university in the single scull race July 2. Charles B. Francis, the boy's father, who was Cornell's crew oarsman when a student, who is the minister to Greece, came on to plead his son's case, as did Henry W. Sackett, trustee of the university. The crews are not in training for the race, and the race will be run by Ten Eyck, and not by Courtney. Courtney, however, has been won over to the original decision, and says they will not row if Francis does.

American Shooter's Warnings.

D. F. Price of Cincinnati, Ohio, a member of the American trap shooter's team, which made such an enviable record for itself in Europe, said yesterday in London that during the visit they had won $50,000 in money and five cups worth $1,000. The team had not lost a single match, he said. Mr. Price was accompanied by a student, who decided to adopt the American method of a heavier charge, harder shot and single barrel.

In company with several other members of the team Mr. Price will sail for the United States on Saturday next.

Detroit and Baltimore are lucky in one thing. Both have pitchers—Yeager and Dunn—who can play short as good as many of the regulars.

Both Boston teams had an unbroken record of victories last week. The Boston Nationals won seven games and the Americans four.

Tom Tucker made his first appearance with New London last Wednesday and his team played an errorless game and won from Fredland, 5 to 1.

Pitcher "Lefty" High, who was recently sold by Newport News to New Orleans, has been signed by the Detroit American League club.

The discipline enforced by President Johnson of the American League is having its effect on the butky players who have been looking for trouble, and the promises of Griffith and Donlin indicate that both of those worthies are satisfied that they can't get into the league.

Frank Kitson of the Brooklyn team enjoys the distinction of being the best hitting pitcher in the National League. It is seldom that a pitcher draws salary for his batting as well as for his work on the rubber, but there is no doubt that a part of the large salary the Brooklyn club pays Kitson is in consideration of his value as a batsman.

It is not certain that Billy Lauder, who has been traded for Hugh Jennings, will be positioned in New York and is reluctant to be traded to call on him, and he may be induced to give up the jewelry business for base ball. In case Lauder does sign, Gentry will be carried as utility man, and Lauder will not play Sunday ball.

After winning ten straight games and climbing from the second division into first place, the Boston Americans lost to the Cleveland yesterday and let Chicago take the lead again. The Detroit, who had won the western trip, did not play Sunday ball, and then in the second, dropped to fourth yesterday, and Washington, which occupied second place for awhile on the western trip, slid into the second division yesterday by letting the tallers wallop them.

Manager Hanlon of the Brooklyn team was in consultation with A. G. Spalding, as President Hart has decided to go to California after this season. When asked as to the truth of the rumor, Mr. Hanlon refused to say anything about the conference. The name McGinnity should be respected as long as base ball is played.

Not very many days ago he received a letter from Manager Hanlon urging him to first place the Boston Americans lost to the Cleveland yesterday and let Chicago take the lead again. The Detroit, who had won the western trip, did not play Sunday ball, and then in the second, dropped to fourth yesterday, and Washington, which occupied second place for awhile on the western trip, slid into the second division yesterday by letting the tallers wallop them.

Fast Time of Pennny's Henley Crew.

Some fast trials were made at Henley, England, yesterday afternoon, the Pennsylvania University crew doing the best, covering the full course in seven minutes three and one-fifth seconds, and half the course in three minutes twenty-five seconds. Starting at forty to the minute, the Americans never fell below thirty-seven and sometimes spurted to forty-two.

A number of British oarsmen accompanied the Americans. The former considered the trial to be a remarkable one. The Pennsylvanians were by no means rowed out. They proceeded to their boat house, half a mile farther, before stopping. The conditions of wind and water were not favorable to the oarsmen. The leader crew did the course in seven minutes thirty-five seconds, so the Americans' chances are regarded as good.

Cornell Row Boat Races.

There was a conference at Cornell rowing quarters at Poughkeepsie last night over the question of allowing John M. Francis to represent the university in the single scull race July 2. Charles B. Francis, the boy's father, who was Cornell's crew oarsman when a student, who is the minister to Greece, came on to plead his son's case, as did Henry W. Sackett, trustee of the university. The crews are not in training for the race, and the race will be run by Ten Eyck, and not by Courtney. Courtney, however, has been won over to the original decision, and says they will not row if Francis does.

American Shooter's Warnings.

D. F. Price of Cincinnati, Ohio, a member of the American trap shooter's team, which made such an enviable record for itself in Europe, said yesterday in London that during the visit they had won $50,000 in money and five cups worth $1,000. The team had not lost a single match, he said. Mr. Price was accompanied by a student, who decided to adopt the American method of a heavier charge, harder shot and single barrel.

In company with several other members of the team Mr. Price will sail for the United States on Saturday next.

Mr. Price was accompanied by a student, who decided to adopt the American method of a heavier charge, harder shot and single barrel.
