Bifocal Glasses. ONE PAIR OF GLASSES INSTEAD OF TWO. HERE are many cases nowadays where two sets of lenses are required—one for distance—one for reading. It used to mean two pairs of Glasses—that, aside from their expense, were inconvenient. Now we make Bifocal Glasses—the double lenses in the one frame.

Our facilities have won us unvarying success in the making of Bifocal Glasses. The real competition in this business lies in the effort to give better service than any one else, and you may be sure nothing is lacking from our equipment that would render our service less good than perfect. We'll examine your eyes free—and advise you of your needs. We make the Glasses only if you need them and want to buy them of us.

HERPICIDE NOT A FAKE. UNSOLICITED TESTIMONIALS TELL OF ITS SUPERIORITY.

A. H. Kelley, residing at 2195 Desidero St., San Francisco, Cal., writes the following: "When I first purchased Herpicide, I thought, like the majority of hair preparations, it would prove a fake. I am happy to state that, on the contrary, it is all, and even more, than you claim for it. Quite a number of barbers throughout the section in which I travel have called attention to the new hair sprouting out on my scalp, and inquired of me what I have been using. I tell them 'Herpicide,' also give them your name and address." Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. Early Morning Marriage at Trinity Church Today—Personal Notes. The weddings begin Monday with that of Miss Harriet Anne Thyson and Dr. Albert Joseph Carrico. Wednesday has a full list of marriages. Some of the more notable events will be that of Miss Rosa Carlotta Vincent to Mr. William Hubley Potter of Philadelphia, at 4 o'clock, at the family residence on Rhode Island avenue. Only a limited number of guests have been invited. The bride and groom are the bride's cousins, Miss Wiltsie of New York, as maid of honor, the Misses Lilia and Annie McCauley, with Miss Bessie Edes of this city and Miss Holtsie of New York. Miss Ada E. Roome and Mr. G. Hatcher Gibson will be married at the Roome home, and Miss Elizabeth Longstreet Chamberlain and Mr. Wallace Nelson Horton of Albany at the home of the brother of the bride, Mr. Eugene Tyler Chamberlain. Miss Adrienne Judith Pease and Lieut. James Marshall Peay will be married at All Souls' Church at 8:30. Miss Josephine Moore Jr. will be married to Mr. James Brainerd Orndorff, Miss Elizabeth Orndorff will be maid of honor and the following will be bridesmaids: Irene Higgins Orndorff, Townsend, Wley and Kremer.

Mr. Studer, a fish, who has accomplished enough both at Newport and in New York to entitle her to rank as an author, declared that Washington, D. C., will be the social center of the country, according to an interview held with her by a Star representative yesterday. Mr. and Mrs. Studer returned from a trip to the west as far as the Pacific coast. At the very outset of this journey this interesting woman related to a number of reporters, with reflections on society as it is pictured from the doings of a few of the holders of the longest purses. Mrs. Studer contributed to the press a paper in which she set forth since she took up her residence at Crossways, one of the most gorgeous of the "cottages," and inaugurated a new era for the city dwellers. There is no doubt, however, but that she is tired of it, and is longing for a new field for her undoubted ability. If she is thinking over the advantages of the west, she is not alone. Mrs. Studer would be welcomed. She has all the snap and go that in the comparatively limited territory in which the fashionable set here have and direct a pleasurable interest in new ways of managing the old idea. But if she comes with the notion that she will be able to push her professional position to the front rank in society which they deserve in her opinion, she will find that they have always been there, and the dollar mark has not been the passport to their complete enjoyment of what the best circles had to offer in hospitality or entertainment. Mrs. Studer studied the society question from our standpoint. Entertaining the millionaire class exclusively, as one is likely to do in Newport, she found the venue grows wearisome, too, after a while, and there is where the poor and genteel can extract comfort and likewise keep down feelings of envy.

The social gathering of the Junior section of the Council of Jewish Women, held last Tuesday afternoon, was considered a very entertaining affair, and a number of names were enrolled. Miss Sara West presided at the affair, and Mrs. Morris Taylor, Mrs. Miss Florine Rosenthal, who rendered piano solos; Miss Savina Goldsmith, who gave a pleasing reading; Mr. Julius Peysner, who gave a lecture on the history, growth and evolution of parliamentary law. A number of the senior members were present, among whom were Mrs. Joel Hillman, Mrs. Mrs. S. Oppenheimer, Miss Hetty Abraham and Mrs. J. Newman, who took part in the discussions, and several made addresses of encouragement.

The marriage of Miss Rebecca Louise Coker and Dr. Protot Coker took place at the home of the bride's mother, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Carr, 2200 1st street northwest, Wednesday, October 21, at 7:30 p.m. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mr. Gill, and witnessed only by the near relatives and a few close friends of the bride and groom, and was followed by a large reception at the home of the bride. The parlors were beautifully decorated with palms, cut flowers and red lights. The popularity of the young couple was shown by the display of handsome presents, consisting of furniture, silver, china, cut glass, etc. The bride was handily gowned in a gown of champagne crepe silk, and carried a shower bouquet of bride roses and lilies of the valley. The maid of honor, Miss Lillian Carr, was dressed in green and carried red roses. The best man was Mr. Wilfred W. Cobey of Maryland. Promptly at the hour appointed the groom and best man entered the room to the strains of Lehenger's march. Next came the maid of honor, followed by the bride, with her mother, who, on account of the absence of her sister, now in the hospital, was absent. During the reception the commodious and beautiful home was filled with joyous relatives and friends until the departure of the bride and groom, who were in a gray cloth with hat to match. After an extended trip to New York and other places of interest, Mr. and Mrs. Coker will be at home to their friends after November 11 at 2200 1st street northwest.

This morning Miss Mabel L. Sommerville, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. N. Sommerville of Georgetown, and Mr. William A. Marceon were married at Trinity Church by Rev. Father Mulvaney. Owing to a recent death in the bride's family the wedding was a very quiet one, only the immediate families and a few intimate friends witnessing the ceremony. The bride, who is a handsome brunette of Spanish type, and who has been a popular belle in the younger Georgetown set, wore a very becoming gown of tan tulle over tan tulle and a large tan picture hat, and carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley. She also wore a handsome cross studied with pearls, a gift of the groom. The only attendants were Mr. Walter A. Lipscomb and Miss Rhoda Pyles, who wore green broadcloth, a black picture hat and carried white roses.

Breakfast was served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sommerville after the nuptial mass which followed the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Marceon left on the noon train for a tour of the north, which includes Philadelphia, New York, Buffalo and Toronto. The bride's going-away gown was a tailor-made black high collar cloth suit, worn with a black Gainsborough hat and a huge bunch of Parma violets.

Mr. and Mrs. Marceon, upon their return about the middle of November, will be in the city for his doctor's office, awaiting the completion of their handsome new home on Columbia Heights.

Mr. and Mrs. DeWitt C. Croissant of this city, who have been traveling in motor cars for the past two months, are now settled in Munich, Bavaria, for the next year. Mr. Croissant has entered the army for his doctor's office, and expects to spend the next three years abroad in travel and study.

The adjutant general's office is preparing the annual social list of officers and their families residing in Washington. The list will include also the names and addresses of widows of deceased officers and those of the officers' wives whose husbands are serving in the regular possessions. The adjutant general's office will be glad to receive the names and addresses of those who desire to be included in the list.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas F. Walsh are at Monticello, the guest of Mr. Levy for over Sunday.

Col. and Mrs. Robert I. Fleming and To Cure a Cold in One Day. Take Laxative Broom Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund the money if it fails to cure. Dr. W. C. Groves' signature is on each box. oct-18-24-03 family have returned to their Massachusetts avenue home for the winter. Mrs. J. W. Shea of Dryden, N. Y., came to this city the first part of the week to attend the marriage of her sister, Miss Mabel Sommerville. Mr. Shea, who was detained on business, expects to be in Washington next week to spend the winter. They have taken a furnished house on Washington Heights.

The Misses Euphemia and Octavia Graham have returned from the north, where they spent the summer, to their home on H street.

Sunday last, in their home, 614 D street southwest, and in presence of children, relatives and friends, Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Trede celebrated their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary. The former was born in Beltsville, Holstein, Germany, and since 1878 has lived here. Mrs. Trede was Miss Sophie Marie Gottsmann. Three children of the couple are living, John, Annie and Edna. The guests present were Mr. Berge of New York, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gottsmann, Miss Lillian Tip, Misses Hamer, Hall, Myers of Philadelphia, Mr. and Mrs. H. Lehmann, Miss Kate Lehmann, Mr. and Mrs. Mahle and son, Mrs. Shaefer of Baltimore, Mrs. Meyer of New York, Mrs. E. C. C. and Mrs. John Gottsmann and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. O'Brien, Mrs. Petzold, Mrs. Trege, Mrs. H. Trede and children, Mr. and Mrs. Carl F. Meyers, Mrs. M. Meyer, Mrs. Wolz, Mrs. Meade, Mr. and Mrs. Tregeel and children, Miss B. Tregeel, Mr. and Mrs. Dietz and son, Messrs. Feilinger and Charles Dyer.

The residence of Miss Maud C. Combs, 48 M street northwest, was the scene of a pleasant gathering last Wednesday evening. The parlors were tastefully decorated in the national colors, palms and roses. Piano solos were rendered by Miss Lillian M. Rose, Miss Dimple Trent and Mr. Hugh Smith, and mandolin and guitar selections by Mr. D. Collins, John, Annie and Edna. Games were indulged in and prizes awarded to Miss Lillian M. Rose and Mr. Grover C. Burk, boobies to Miss Sydney Cooper. The party was over at 10 o'clock, and all hour all repaired to the dining room, where a dainty repast was served. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Porter, Misses Reta Levy, Mrs. W. E. Rogers, N. H. Simpson, G. J. Davis and Ellis Porter, Jr.

The marriage of Miss E'ed Norment, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence F. Norment, to Mr. John Alden, took place at the Parsonage on Thursday last, in the presence of the immediate families only. After the ceremony the young couple left for an extended trip to the north. They will be at home to their friends after November 15, at the Plaza.

Dr. Wm. J. Craigie, formerly of Cumberland Md., but now of Baltimore, is visiting his niece, Miss Craigen, at 1758 S street northwest.

Mrs. E. D. Sierburne of Melrose Highlands, Boston, Mass., is visiting her sister, Mrs. W. Wallace Nairn, 301 Hartford street, Brookland, D. C. at home Tuesdays.

Rear Admiral and Mrs. Rixey have closed their summer home in Virginia, and are located at 909 16th street for the winter.

Mr. Thomas Jefferson Edelia has issued invitations for the marriage of his daughter, Maud Henkle, to Mr. Frederick Parks Wednesday evening, November 11, at 8 o'clock, at St. Thomas' Church.

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Foster, with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. William W. Foster, are expected in Pittsburgh, are fellow passengers on the Philadelphia sailing today from Southampton for New York.

It is too bad, considering that Washington was the scene of so many of the incidents leading up to the marriage of Miss Thaw and the Earl of Farnmouth last spring, that Mrs. Thaw is not likely to have a house here the coming winter. The earl and countess are expected in Pittsburgh to spend the holidays there with the latter's mother, but it is pretty certain they will return to England without a sight of the capital city, where both have so many acquaintances.

Mrs. Harriet Blaine Beale will not live in this city the coming winter. She is now in Maine with Mrs. Damrosch, and they intend to remain there a month or so longer.

After a sojourn of five months in Europe Mrs. J. H. Gore and daughter have returned to Washington for the winter. Prof. Gore spent only a part of his vacation abroad, having been called home to attend the international congress of actuaries, which was in session in New York early in September.

Mr. and Mrs. Simon Spitzer will be at home to their friends Sunday evening at 442 H street northwest.

The marriage of Miss Jeannette S. Gibbons, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter S. Myers, to Mr. Edgar S. Fridley, took place October 21, at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Church, the Rev. J. Luther Franz officiating. After the ceremony the young couple left for a trip north. They will be at home to their friends after November 11 at 124 7th street southeast.

Among the November brides will be Miss Edna Campbell of Cambridge, Mass. She is the daughter of the late Duncan G. Campbell and granddaughter of the late Judge J. A. Campbell and Mrs. Charles B. Caldwell of Cambridge, Mass. The bride's room-mate is J. Edgar Smyth, mayor of Charleston, S. C. They will spend the winter in southern California, where Edna belongs to the Colonial Dames of Baltimore.

Miss Hannah Berlin of 1117 F street northwest, will be the guest of Miss Mary Brylawski of Baltimore. They will be at home to their friends Tuesday evening, October 27.

Colonel and Mrs. Robert N. Harper have returned to the city, after spending the summer at their country place, Oak Grove, Leaning, Va., and have opened their house, 29 B street northwest, for the winter.

man of Washington, D. C., were married. Owing to the serious illness of the bride's mother, the wedding was extremely quiet, and no reception followed. The bride's dress was blue crepe, trimmed in white and white. The wedding was held at 1137 10th street northwest, on November 15, at 11:37 10th street northwest.

Miss Mary Gorman of 22d street will have as her guest for the coming week Miss Esther Lyons.

Thursday, the 22d, the Rt. Rev. Leighton Coleman, bishop of Delaware, and the Rt. Rev. George W. Peterkin, bishop of West Virginia, were entertained at dinner by Mrs. Francis Clarke of Brookland, N. Y., who, with her mother and sister, is at the Arlington.

On the same evening Mr. Fred J. Hartman and Miss Maud Owens were married at the McKendree parsonage by the same minister. Mr. Hartman being a brother of the first named bride. The bride wore blue broadcloth and white sashes, as at the Arlington. (Continued on Sixth Page.)
