Roosevelt and Fairbanks Nominated at Chicago.

WERE WITHOUT OPPOSITION

Unprecedented Demonstration Followed Presentation of President's Name.

ELOQUENT ADDRESSES BY EX-GOVERNOR BLACK, SENATOR BEVERIDGE, SENATOR DOLLIVER, EX-GOVERNOR BRADLEY AND OTHERS—AN ENTHUSIASTIC CONVENTION.

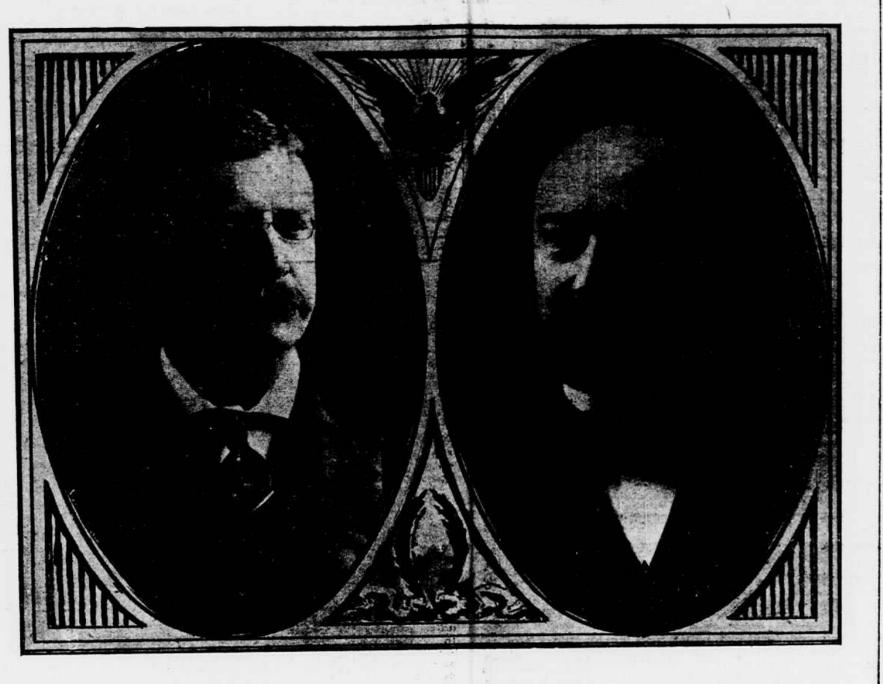

CHICAGO, June 23.—The republican national convention met at 10 o'clock this morning with the expectation of nominating Roosevelt and Fairbanks for president and vice president, respectively. The fair June morning was not spent in idling on the lake front, but in the packing of bags and eating short breakfasts. Then off to the Coliseum, and the oratorical flowers of men picked from each principal division of the country for the occasion. At 11 o'clock the convention opened with the reading of the declaration of independence. The first speaker was ex-Governor Black of Indiana, who delivered an eloquent address. He was followed by Senator Beveridge of Indiana, who also delivered an eloquent address. Then came Senator Dolliver of Iowa, and ex-Governor Bradley of Pennsylvania. The convention then turned to the nomination of the candidates. Roosevelt and Fairbanks were nominated without opposition. The convention then adjourned until tomorrow morning.

Roll Called for Nominations.
Chairman Cannon then announced that the next order of business would be a roll call of the states for the nomination of President of the United States. The clerk called "Alabama," and immediately Oscar H. Hundley of that state mounted a chair and announced that Alabama requested the honor and privilege of yielding the place on the roll to the state of New York.

Ante-Convention Agreements.
A few moments before the assembling there was hurried conference by the managers, which resulted in an agreement that Alabama, the first state on the roll, would yield to New York to nominate Roosevelt.

Outburst of Enthusiasm.
But the words "Theodore Roosevelt" had not left his lips when there was a shout. The convention was on its feet. Like the crash of thunder that follows the lightning, the enthusiasm began. Flags were in the air, hats were thrown up, men jumped onto their chairs, women stood on the seats and waved their hands. The front of the stage was next given over to a young man with a megaphone and a flag. As he swung the banner from side to side he shouted the name "Roosevelt." It was then carried by the Missouri delegation and was waved over the platform on that occasion as in this. It was quick to the flame of enthusiasm, and the volume of sound increased.

Delay in Assembling.
The delay in calling the convention to order was due to the completion of some resolutions that were to be presented. But the music of the band and the evident good humor of the crowd made the time pass rapidly, and there was no manifestation of impatience. Senator Fairbanks did not attend the session of the convention.

Itself, five, six, seven minutes it continued. There was not the slightest diminution in the volume of sound.

Demonstration of Nearly 30 Minutes.
When the applause had continued almost seven minutes, it was given a new impetus by Chairman Cannon, who walked once more to the front carrying his large banner. A little girl clad entirely in white was lifted high on the shoulders of some of the California delegates, and the first sound of her childish treble was the signal for another outburst. A delegate requested Chairman Cannon to loan him the large flag he carried, and with a smile the chairman handed it down. Around the hall it went, followed by a long line of shouting delegates. California, with its great banner of purple, white and gold, came marching down the center aisle, and followed by senators, representatives in Congress, and others prominent in the life of the nation.

Mr. Morton Will Confer With the President This Afternoon as to the Navy Portfolio.
Paul Morton, the vice president of the Santa Fe railroad, who has been offered the position of Secretary of the Navy, is expected to confer with President Roosevelt this afternoon. He will then tell the President what he will do as to the offer to enter the cabinet. It is the general belief that Mr. Morton will decline, although his coming to the city is regarded as more or less favorable to his acceptance.

President Hears News of His Nomination at Chicago.
The notification will be extended at Oyster Bay a few days after the President reaches there. He will leave here Saturday, July 2, for his home at Oyster Bay and will remain there about three weeks before he comes back to Washington for a brief stay in mid-summer. The official notification of national conventions are usually made by committees about ten days after the convention. It is thought that the notification will be made at Oyster Bay in a short time.

Senator Beveridge Seeks Nomination.
Cheers followed, and were increased when Mr. Cannon recognized Senator Beveridge of Indiana, whom he introduced in these words: "Gentlemen of the Convention: I have the honor of introducing to you a gentleman whom you all know, a son of Indiana, who, though he has a message, insists upon a hearing, and when he speaks the people are enlightened and enthused."

Keeps Up With Everything.
Admiral Taylor talked with the President some about the movements of naval vessels and their locations. He finds the President a good listener and possessing a most retentive memory.

At the White House.

President Hears News of His Nomination at Chicago.

OFFICIAL ADVICE LATER

NOTIFICATION COMMITTEE WILL GO TO OYSTER BAY.

Mr. Morton Will Confer With the President This Afternoon as to the Navy Portfolio.

President Roosevelt will remain in official ignorance that he has been nominated at Chicago for at least ten days, and it may be fifteen or twenty days before he formally knows that the convention has placed him before the people as the standard bearer of the republicans. While the President is waiting to ascertain the facts he will be preparing a speech of acceptance in reply to the notification that will be given him by the committee that waits upon him.

President Hears the News.
There was nothing at the executive offices this morning to indicate that Theodore Roosevelt was about to be unanimously nominated for President by his party, with the prospects exceedingly favorable that he will receive a majority of the electoral vote of the country in November.

CONFIDENCE PREVAILS

No Apprehension Felt at Chicago.

VICTORY COUNTED ON

SCENES ATTENDING THE NOMINATION OF ROOSEVELT.

Delegates Pleased With the Candidates, Satisfied With the Platform and Looking Forward to Success.

Special Dispatch From a Staff Correspondent.
CHICAGO, June 23.—When the sun goes down this evening the republican presidential campaign of 1904 will have been organized. With Roosevelt and Fairbanks as candidates, a platform that is conservative, yet venturesome, with a national committee selected, and a chairman and manager of the campaign chosen, the great fight for control of the government of the nation will have begun.

Confidence in a substantial republican victory next fall is the dominating spirit which prevails among the distinguished republicans gathered here. No note of apprehension or anxiety is heard. No sign of faltering or hanging back. A deadly purpose to go forward to bring about a new era of the democracy, and an abiding belief that the object will be accomplished.

There are four candidates for the senatorship in Indiana, Representative Henry C. Wood, Representative Charles B. Landis, Representative John W. Durrbin, and Representative William H. Durrbin. Mr. Landis' friends announce that he has decided to enter the race. There is no prospect, therefore, that the senatorship can be won by any other person upon the republican outlook. Disadvantageous to the republicans. The campaign for the senatorship will be conducted in accordance with the national and state platforms as the legislature to be elected this fall will choose the senator.

There is no apprehension of sulking and the man who has the right hand in command. Don't for an instant look away from the fact that those men have their eye on the gun all the time and are not to be diverted by any personal consideration from the main purpose, which is that they feel themselves frustrated by the tremendous business and industrial interests of this country with the responsibility of waging a successful campaign to protect them.

take place a week later at Indianapolis. Former Secretary Root will be chairman of the vice presidential notification committee.

PREPARING TO DEPART.

Decorations Stripped From the Walls of Headquarters.

CHICAGO, June 23.—During the earlier hours of the day preparations for departure as soon as the supreme point of interest should have been reached were abundant. Some of the state headquarters were dismantled, portraits boxed and decorations stripped from the walls. The rooms lately so animated, where many a good story had been told and jolly company gathered, looked quite dreary in their disorder and emptiness. The sudden fall in quotations for buttons, badges and souvenirs suggested to the visitor on the way to the Coliseum that the convention was near to closing.

CHIEF POST OFFICE INSPECTOR.

W. J. Vickery to Succeed Mr. Cochran—Other Promotions.

It was today announced at the Post Office Department that W. J. Vickery, post office inspector in charge of the Cincinnati office since July 1, 1898, would, on July 1 next, succeed Mr. E. E. Cochran as chief post office inspector in charge of the office of purchasing agent for the Post Office Department, a position created at the last session of Congress.

Other Promotions Necessitated by that of Mr. Vickery. Mr. E. E. Cochran, who has been in charge of the Cincinnati division, is being promoted to inspector in charge of the Kansas City division. Mr. J. H. Durrbin, who has been in charge of the Chattanooga division, is being promoted to inspector in charge of the Cheyenne division.

FOREIGN MINISTERS ATTACKED.

French and German Officials Stoned by Haitian Guard.

Confirmation of the reported attack on the French and German ministers in Haiti came to the State Department today in the shape of the following cablegram from United States Minister Powell at Port au Prince, dated June 22: "French and German ministers with their ladies yesterday were stoned by the palace guard. French minister slightly injured. German minister not injured. Both have called the government to account. The most serious feature of this unfortunate affair is the attack was made not by an ordinary irresponsible mob, but by the palace guard, which directly connects the Haitian government with the affair. It is understood to be the outgrowth of the incorporation by the Haitian government of certain foreign officers of the bank on a charge of misappropriation of funds and subsequent intervention by the French and German governments in behalf of their citizens. More than a month ago the State Department was forewarned of this approaching trouble by its agents in Haiti, and has been watching the little republic closely and keeping a naval force near at hand.

MAY BE RELEASED TODAY.

Pardicaris and Varley to Be in Tangier Tonight.

United States Consul General Gummere called the State Department from Tangier under last night's date that Sheikh Zalal has agreed to allow the exchange of prisoners and ransom to be effected in his territory on condition that the Moorish government enter into a written agreement that he and his people shall not suffer now or in the future in consequence of the transaction. The Moorish government has agreed, through its foreign minister, to this condition, and Mr. Gummere expresses the hope that the prisoners will be released today. It develops that the hitch in the negotiations arose from the failure to pay ransom in ten days and eight hours, which was a condition of the agreement.

BATTLE SHIPS ASSEMBLING.

The Missouri at Gibraltar, the Illinois and Mayflower En Route.

The Navy Department is informed of the arrival of the United States battle ship Missouri at Gibraltar last night. The run from Cape Henry to Cape St. Vincent, a distance of 3,140 nautical miles, was made in ten days and eight hours, which is a record for a battle ship.

Qualified for Promotion.

Lieut. Commander George M. Stoney, formerly in command of the Dolphin, and Lieut. A. S. Halstead of the Scorpion have been reported to the Navy Department qualified for promotion to the next higher grade.
