RAILWAY TRACKS TO BE LAID ON 12TH STREET.

Arguments Not Regarded as Sufficient to Warrant Transfer of Location.

The District Commissioners today decided that the arguments presented at a public hearing Friday morning by Postmaster Merritt on behalf of the Post Office Department's protest against laying the tracks of the Washington, Alexandria and Mount Vernon Railroad Company along 12th street northwest are not of sufficient weight to justify the Commissioners in changing the location of the route of the road, which was decided upon at a previous hearing.

The statement of Col. Biddle with reference to the protest of the Post Office Department, together with his recommendation, follows:
'After thorough consideration of the question of the relocation of the tracks of the Washington, Alexandria and Mount Vernon railway, made necessary by the construction of the new mint building, and after giving due consideration to the statements made by the Postmaster General and the postmaster of Washington, I move that no change be made in the route as approved by the Commissioners.'

While the Commissioners have disposed of the protest of the Post Office Department relative to the proposed route, yet it seems that they are not yet through with the difficulty incident to selecting a route which will save the city money. This morning the Commissioners received another protest against the proposed route from property owners on 12th, C and D streets northwest.

The objectors are thirteen in number, and they ask for a hearing before the Commissioners on the matter. The hearing will be held at 11 o'clock Wednesday morning. The protest of the property owners along the streets mentioned do not contain any of the objections. The signatures to the protest are as follows: John Schneider, Charles F. Schriener, William H. Dyer, Fred S. Glicker, James William C. W. Young, Charles A. Langley, B. T. Trueworthy, Frank L. Hanvey, Charles Jacobsen, Wilhelmina Finkman, Emmos S. Smith.

GEORGETOWN AFFAIRS

TWO RUNAWAYS HELP ENLIVEN THINGS IN WEST END.

A runaway occurred last Saturday evening, and as a result the two victims of the accident are lying in the Georgetown University Hospital in a precarious condition. A horse attached to a wagon owned by Atchison Pollock of 4th and Brandwine streets northwest, and driven by John G. Pollock, a young white man about thirty years old, became badly frightened on Murdock Hill road near Tenleytown. Robert Simms, a boy about eight years of age, was in the wagon with Mr. Pollock. The wagon contained a load of boards, and a portion of these fell to the road. The noise frightened the animal, which became unmanageable, and in a moment was rushing wildly down the hill toward the street. The Georgetown University Police Company's repair wagon was used as an ambulance. Simms appeared to be the more seriously injured. Pollock's right leg was broken between the ankle and knee, while young Simms sustained a fracture of the right arm between the elbow and shoulder. He was also badly injured about the head. It was stated at the hospital today that, while slightly improved, the condition of the patients is still dangerous.

Why Men Do Not Vote.

In his sermon yesterday morning at the Foundry M. E. Church Rev. Robert M. Moore, D.D., said that in the church and in the state men are prone not to vote and do other things that they can do for the good of their fellows, because they can have nothing of importance to do. A proper performance of one's duty, he declared, requires that each do his duty with what means he has, whether that be great or little. He said if a man does not use his opportunities an element of retribution will take them away.

THE DEATH OF ETELZ.

The Chinese Government Pays an Indemnity of $25,000. The Chinese government has settled the claims growing out of the killing of Louis Etzel in a manner regarded by the State Department as highly honorable and satisfactory. Minister Conger has cabled the department that the Chinese government, after making a thorough investigation of the incident, had ordered the punishment of the officer and soldiers comprising the detachment that fired upon and killed Etzel. In addition it has undertaken to pay an indemnity of $25,000, Mexican, which will be turned over by the State Department to the widowed mother of Etzel in Denver, and to other members of his family, according to the decision of the dead man's administrator.

George B. Sloan Dead.

A dispatch from Oswego, N. Y., last night says: Ex-Senator George B. Sloan, the well-known banker and republican leader, died here this evening from paralysis, in his seventy-fourth year. Mr. Sloan was born in Oswego on June 29, 1831. In early boyhood he attended such public schools as there were in those days, but he was compelled at the age of fourteen years to seek remunerative employment. Although a busy merchant and financier, Mr. Sloan gave considerable time to public life. He was four times elected to represent his district in the state assembly, and was during two terms chairman of the committee on ways and means, and for one term speaker of the assembly, and was also three times elected to the state senate. Mr. Sloan had been in the habit of attending republican conventions in New York state for many years. In 1888 he represented his district in the republican national convention which nominated Harrison and Morton. His name was placed on the republican ticket as a presidential elector in 1884 and again in 1892. In 1889 President Harrison offered Mr. Sloan the office of assistant treasurer of the United States in New York city, but Mr. Sloan declined, being unwilling to leave the senate. The Nettall-Moorwitt breach of promise suit was compromised at Newport News, Va., Thursday. In the first trial Miss Nettall, who resides in Chicago, was given $1,000. In the second trial, which ended a few days ago, she received a verdict of $2,500.
