Woodward & Lothrop Announcement

Our Autumn-Winter Opening
Occurs Monday, October Second, and Following Days of the Week.

ON this occasion will be shown the exclusive styles for the season, giving a comprehensive idea of the approved fashions as conceived by the foremost artists of Europe and America.

The advent of the new season brings with it greater and broader opportunities for us to extend to our public that ideal service which has ever been characteristic of our house and which has gained for us that enviable surety—the confidence and loyalty of our honored patrons.

In our quiet way we have had the good fortune in past years to be the medium through which the Washington shoppers have been kept in touch with the rarest and choicest products of American and European manufacturers. In a measure, we have increased our importations and exclusive purchases as our facilities grew greater and we could do ample justice to both patron and purchase. It is an inviolable law of progress that methods must constantly change, and, while the policy and ideal of the house have remained the same, we have profited by experience and indefatigable enterprise until today it is our pleasure to announce that we have achieved the consummation of our aim, to build a store of such goodly proportions and responsibility that our name would alone be a guarantee of reliability, pre-eminence and authority.

We, therefore, extend a cordial invitation to visit, inspect and enjoy with us the perfectly equipped and organized establishment which is the happy result of our knowledge of higher commercialism and its essentials, from which accrues unqualified success.

The rapid stride and development of the departments whose resources are drawn from European markets have enabled us to send abroad buyers in each particular line, and whose purchasing authority was unlimited. These have gathered together such vast treasures of merchandise that our store is literally representative of the shopping centers of Vienna, Berlin, Paris and London, embracing in part:

Parisian and American Millinery,
Elegant Wraps and Costumes for day and evening,
Exclusive Novelties in Dress Stuffs, Silks and Velvets,
Furs, Real Laces, Paris Lingerie, Bridal Trousseau
and Corsets, Silk Petticoats and Negligees, Gloves,
Neckwear, Hosiery, Men's Haberdashery, Curtains,
Draperies, Rugs, Table and Toilet Linens, Pictures,
Cut Glass, Silverware, Chinaware, Clocks, Bronzes, Marbles, Lamps, Art Objects and other novelties such as not often seen in a commercial establishment.

The arrangement of these superb goods, as enumerated in opposite columns, has been a masterly conception of thoughtful management, and on each floor has been conveniently placed the classes of articles and materials which pertain to each other, a plan which is the practical application of the theory of shopping, to save the time and energy of the shoppers and to minimize the exertions of the salespeople.

Patrons will welcome this introductory view of assortments so extensive and so discriminately selected, comprising as they do the best stock of merchandise we have ever assembled.

ALEXANDRIA AFFAIRS

REPUBLICANS NAME CANDIDATE FOR HOUSE OF DELEGATES.

Mr. John B. Henderson, Jr., Chosen by Unanimous Vote—Shooting Affray—General Matters.

Special Correspondence of The Star.
ALEXANDRIA, Va., September 30, 1905.
Mr. John B. Henderson, Jr., of Alexandria county, a son of former Senator John B. Henderson of Missouri, was nominated by unanimous vote for the state legislature to represent Alexandria city and county by the republican convention, consisting of delegates from both divisions of this legislative district, which met last evening at 8 o'clock in Schuler's Hall on King street.

Nearly all the delegates were in attendance and a number of spectators occupied seats in the rear portion of the hall. The convention was called to order by Mr. Frank M. Phillips, chairman of the city committee, who announced the purpose of the gathering. Col. William O. Schelley of Alexandria county was chosen permanent chairman and Mr. Herbert C. Graves of this city was elected secretary. Col. Schelley, in assuming the chair, made a brief speech in which he declared that the time had come when every Virginian might look without prejudice or partiality upon the issues which divide the republicans and democrats in the state. He said that for the first time in about two score years republicans in Virginia were in a position to entertain reasonable hope for the success of their state ticket.

After the report of the committee on credentials had been made Mr. Phillips nominated Mr. Henderson and the nomination was made unanimous by a rising vote. In his speech of acceptance Mr. Henderson said that while doubting the wisdom of the choice of his associates he would do all in his power to prevent any ground for regret. He indicated that he would begin an active campaign at once. Mr. Henderson touched upon some of the principal questions involved in the state campaign and was warmly applauded.

Mr. King Makes Address.

At the conclusion of his speech Chairman Schelley introduced Mr. William B. King of Loudoun, who delivered a stirring address. Chairman Phillips of the city committee read a letter from Mr. W. H. P. Kelly of this city, who had been prominently mentioned for the nomination, in which Mr. Kelly heartily endorsed Mr. Henderson, asking that his own name be not considered, and that the nomination of Mr. Henderson be made unanimous. Mr. Phillips also read a letter from Chairman C. B. Slempp of the state committee, noting the fact that a special democratic primary will be held in Alexandria in October, and advising republicans not to participate in it.

Mr. Henderson will be opposed by Mr. James R. Caton of this city, the democratic nominee, who has served two terms in the legislature. The republican candidate is a young man and a lawyer by profession, who is favorably known in Alexandria county.

Said Shooting Was Accidental.

Information was received at the police headquarters this morning to the effect that a shooting affray had occurred between two colored men on the upper portion of Queen street. Officers Lyles and Mayhugh, who made an investigation, arrested George Lomax and conveyed him to the station house to await an examination on suspicion of having attempted to shoot his brother, Andrew Lomax, with a pistol. When officers reached the house where the brothers lived George admitted that a pistol shot had been fired, but declared that was accidental and that Andrew had not been struck. But against this claim was the statement of neighbors, who told the officers that the shooting occurred during trouble between the two men. Lomax made strong objection to being locked up, clamoring loudly for what he called his rights.

General Matters.

The work pertaining to the removal of the office of the collector of internal revenue for the sixth district from this city to Arlington has been practically completed and some of the members of the official force left today for the new headquarters. Mr. John B. Henderson, Jr., the republican nominee for the house of delegates, has interested himself in an effort to secure the location of a branch of the United States geodetic and coast survey in the apartments left vacant by the removal of the internal revenue office.

The Washington Southern Railway Company has commenced the construction of granite sidewalks connecting the southern end of the new union passenger station with Duke street extended. The sidewalks are being placed on the east and west sides of the depot.

Special services in observance of the Jewish new year were held last night and this morning in the synagogue on North Washington street. Rabbi Gross of Cincinnati officiated.

WILL OF MRS. A. E. JOHNSON.

Estate Valued at $400,000 Placed in Charge of Trustees.

The will of Mrs. Annie E. Johnson, wife of the late E. Kurtz Johnson, dated October 16, 1900, has been filed for probate. To her youngest son, William K. Johnson, $5,000 is bequeathed, with a view of making his share equal to that of his sister and brothers, to whom money advances had been made. The residue of Mrs. Johnson's estate is devised to William Wimsatt and Richard Harrison Johnson as trustees, to hold until William K. Johnson reaches the age of twenty-five years, when the estate is to be equally divided among her children, Richard A. Johnson, Sarah E. McGuire, Oliver Perry Johnson, Charles H. Johnson and William K. Johnson.

During the continuance of the trust it is provided that the net income shall be equally divided semiannually among the five children, except Richard A. Johnson, as to whom the will specifically provides that he shall have no share in the income of the estate during such time as the securities certain securities belonging to his mother and loaned to him in 1880 are not paid to the trustees of the estate, and that he shall have no share in the residue of the estate until he shall return the securities or their market value at the time of the loan. Should the value of the securities exceed his one-fifth share in the estate Mrs. Johnson expresses the wish that the trustees shall collect the difference from Richard A. Johnson and divide it equally among the other children.

William A. Wimsatt and Richard Harrison Johnson, the trustees of the estate, are also named as executors and are requested by the will to accept $2,500 each in lieu of commissions for their services as trustees of the estate. It is estimated that the property left by Mrs. Johnson is worth about $400,000.
