Correct New Clothing For Men of All Ages.

OUR clothes are a matter of some interest to you—style, fit, quality, price.

Woodward & Lothrop clothes for men are reliable in style and quality—equal in every respect to custom made. Every suit is treated as it would be by a first-grade tailor. The cloths are hand-shrunk—that is, wetted and shrunk in the most thorough manner, and not shrunk by steam.

Each suit is cut out individually, not by the dozen, then put together with the best grades of workmanship. Linings and trimmings are of the best qualities.

The saving as compared with the merchant tailor's product consists in the ability of the manufacturer to buy hundreds of yards of materials where the tailor buys one. Then there's better organization in the workrooms.

Our Men's Clothes are made from the finest custom grades of imported and domestic tested wools in exclusive patterns that are not duplicated elsewhere. Prices, $12.50 upward.

BEAUTY OF ROCK CREEK PARK

COMMISSION PLANS TO MAKE FEW CHANGES IN LINES.

Suggested Purchase of Additional Ground—Recommendations Made in the Annual Report.

In the report of the Rock Creek Park Commission, which is being prepared and which will be the first annual report that this commission has made since its creation, a number of recommendations and suggestions for the improvement of this great public park will be included. One of the most important of these suggestions is for the purchase of several strips of land, amounting in all to about forty acres, west of 18th street extended and for another addition of about one hundred acres of land lying along Massachusetts avenue west of Rock Creek Park and adjacent to part of the park. It will also be recommended to construct shelters at various points throughout the big park for the comfort of the thousands of visitors.

This report, which is being looked forward to with much interest, was begun by Col. John Biddle, who was a member of the commission during his service as District Commissioner since the late summer with the local government his position on the park commission has been filled by his successor Capt. J. M. Morrow, who has been assisted in completing the report by Daniel E. Garges, his private secretary, who is also secretary of the park commission.

A general plan of improvement of the park was prepared by Col. Biddle, which plan, it is authoritatively stated, will be adopted and carried out as suggested by the ex-Commissioner. The idea advanced is to build roads in the park only as they are needed; macadamize roads only as their use requires; make all roads the best of their kind, keep them without a suspicion of dust, have as few regulations as possible, sign to "keep out" no part of the park from the public; build a casino and playground near the Brightwood reservoir when needed; to replace temporary bridges with permanent ones suitable to the park, to protect the banks and the big trees along them, and to encourage birds, squirrels and other harmless animals.

Duty of the Public. It is contended that in return the public should do its share by not damaging the plants, shrubs and small trees, the dogwood, Judas trees, laurels, arbutus, etc., and by assisting in keeping the park clean by not leaving debris and papers around the grounds and by generally observing the few regulations already adopted. It is declared that in this way the park will have the greatest value to the greatest number.

The question of water in the park is an important one, according to Col. Biddle's report. He said: "The only future source of a permanent nature that can be done the park is the gradual diminution of the volume of water in Rock creek. I know of no way to avoid this except in the distant future, if a new source of water supply is obtained for the District, to carry the water in the aqueduct to the north edge of the park and empty it into the creek."

According to the report every effort will be made by the commission to have the park maintain its natural and picturesque appearance. Nothing artificial is wanted. The members say that the roads and paths of the park are sufficient for present needs. The beauty of this park, it is added, lies in its closeness to nature—in its lack of artificiality. The fallen trees, the underbrush, and the logs in the stream, are all attractive in the estimation of the commission. The members claim that to open roads before they are needed and to make changes not required would detract from the beauty of the park. They say there is at present no need to macadamize Ross road and Beach driveway north of "Military road" in the future this will have to be done, they claim, but until it is essential, those using the park should have such use as little interfered with as possible. In the same reason the old farmhouses should be left for the present. They are useful, the commission claims, to the workmen throughout the park, decreasing greatly the danger of fire.

MISSIONS THE THEME.

Last Day of the Session of Foreign Missionary Society.

The last day's meeting of the thirty-sixth annual convention of the Baltimore Branch of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society, at the Foundry Church, convened at 9:30 o'clock this morning with devotional services under the auspices of the Wilmington conference and led by Mrs. E. K. Wright.

There were five-minute talks on topics as follows: King's Herald, Mrs. W. E. Logg; Little Light Bearers, Miss Sadie Logan and Mrs. A. Colonna; Mite Boxes, Mrs. C. W. Baldwin; Periodicals, Mrs. R. L. Moore, and Miss Caroline Smith. Mrs. E. Edwards made a brief address in which she urged the women the literary table. The session adjourned at noon for luncheon.

At the afternoon session Mrs. M. S. Huston led the consecration service, which was followed by miscellaneous business. The rest of the program for the afternoon is: Report of committee on Nominations; Election of Conference and district Secretaries; report of committee on resolutions; minutes, Mrs. D. C. Morgan; dogology, prayer, adjournment.

At the session yesterday afternoon the following delegates to the general executive committee of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society were elected: Mrs. A. H. Eaton and Mrs. H. R. Naylor; Mrs. S. A. Hill is first alternate and Mrs. Anna Dovee second alternate.

The greater part of the afternoon session was taken up by an address by Mrs. W. P. Thirkfield upon the work of missionaries in Japan and Mexico. Mrs. Thirkfield is the daughter of the late Bishop Gilbert Haven, Miss F. Allen, secretary of the West Baltimore district, gave an encouraging report of the work being carried on in that district.

Prayer meeting services were held last night. Miss Duellhart of Baltimore gave experiences of her work in South America.

Movements of Lightships.

Lightship No. 40, from the Cape Charles station, is to be given a general overhauling in order to put her in trim for winter service on her station at Baltimore, and the Marine railway machine and boiler works at Baltimore have awarded the contract and will start work on the ship so as to have her ready for service as soon as possible. The bid of the company receiving the contract was $1,346.33 for the work.

Lightship No. 71 of the Diamond Shoal station, which has been temporarily on duty at the Nantuxet station with lightship No. 98 was being given a general overhauling at Boston, will be relieved by the Nantuxet during the coming week and will return to Baltimore, where she will be fitted out for service on the North Carolina coast. The ship will be given a general overhauling and put in trim to withstand the gales on the stormy station. She will about December 1 go to the Diamond Shoal station to relieve No. 72, which will go to Portsmouth, Va., for repairs.

The weather on the coast was so rough early in the week that the lightship service steamer Maple, the largest of the tenders in the fifth district, was unable to go to sea with supplies for the lightship on Diamond Shoal. The Maple had the supplies and started on the trip to the lightship on the North Carolina coast but found the weather so rough that she had to return to wait its moderating.
