A Fur Sale Without a Parallel In the History of Fur Selling!

Additional Lots From Our $18,000 Fur Purchase Offered Tomorrow at 50 Cents on the Dollar.

We bought a stock of $18,000 worth of Furs of every kind and description at about half the usual wholesale cost. "Slow season," the maker said. "Piled up here with stock and more being made up all the time. You can take it at your own price."

The way we bought is the way we shall sell it—AT ABOUT FIFTY CENTS ON THE DOLLAR. We swing into the second week's selling tomorrow with additional lots that offer equally as great price-savings as those which created such a stir when the sale first started.

Washington women have been quick to show their appreciation of the remarkable values—as the sales record shows. Never in the history of this city's fur selling has such a sale been known—a sale offering such fine qualities, such a complete variety and such values as are to be found in this purchase.
