

Woodward & Lothrop

New York—WASHINGTON—Paris

Friday is Our Grand Day.

THE character and importance of this Regular Weekly Bargain Day are so well understood by our patrons that a mere announcement of its recurrence is sufficient. Tomorrow there will be a very large collection of remnants—short lengths, one-of-a-kind articles, incomplete assortments, odd and broken sizes, etc. There will also be several bargain lots of goods, from regular stock or that were secured under price for the occasion. In either case they will be worthy your attention, as they are desirable goods and offered at very low remnant prices for quick clearance. Every department in the house is represented.

Sale of Leather Goods At Half Regular Prices.

A manufacturer's remaining stock of fine Leather Articles, consisting of several hundred pieces, offered at exactly half price. In some cases there are a dozen pieces alike, in most cases there's but one of each. They are high-grade goods, in perfect condition; the exceptionally low prices are due to the fact that we closed out the entire lot at a very decided concession. Included are Pocket-books, Handbags, Billbooks, Bill Rolls, Purses and Card Cases, in such popular leathers as lizard, seal, walrus, monkey, levant, morocco, pigskin and vienna. Displayed on center counters, marked at half original prices as follows:

BROWNLOW ON HALE

HOT REPORT ON THE ALLEGATIONS MADE YESTERDAY.

Representative Walter Brownlow of Tennessee today gave out a hot interview on the subject of the statement made yesterday by his colleague, Representative Nathan Hale, relative to Tennessee affairs.

"Yes, I read the malevolent statement in The Star yesterday credited to Nathan W. Hale of Tennessee relative to Tennessee affairs," said Mr. Brownlow. "But I had not intended signing the thing with notice as its reputed author is hardly responsible for anything he says."

"It is a fact well known that I did not attend our recent state convention," I am a member of the national republican committee and have been in attendance at two sets of delegates. Having later on to pass upon the Tennessee contest judicially, I have studiously refrained from discussing the matter in advance and do not care to enter into it now."

"I have been much misrepresented to date in the future," he said. "I do not care to discuss Mr. Hale in connection with this. Oidium sooner or later attacks where it belongs. The people of Tennessee are entitled to know the truth and I am content to leave the matter there."

"I do not know how many federal office holders attended the state convention, nor the extent of their activities prior to and at the meeting. I understand that a list is being prepared and a statement covering every detail as to names, positions occupied, the parts played in each and every respect to a full exposition. This statement will perhaps be sufficient proof, as I learn that it will be sworn to by reputable citizens in due conformity, so that there can be no doubt about the facts."

"Prior to the meeting of the state convention I urged federal office holders to stay away from the convention. I am advised that only two federal office holders from my district did attend, and these were there on the invitation of Mr. Hale as a candidate for national committee."

"Hale's reference to members of my district in office is entirely factually correct. I like a brave, courageous foe, who strikes in a manly way, but there are kinds of men it is well to avoid. Being forewarned, General Almy never made a clean breast with a forked tongue. My own position in Congress is the gift of my people. My position on the Senate floor is the gift of my constituents. It is the gift of Congress, the members generously according me the recognition for service in originating the home at John C. Calhoun. I have resorted to the interests of old soldiers throughout the country."

"My two sons are in the government service on their own merits, being there under civil service regulations. Mr. King holds his position in South Dakota because of his skill as an accountant and stenographer and typewriter, a combination of accomplishments not found every day, and just what the treasurer asked for."

"I ought not to say more. I do not like to talk about Hale. There are reasons. He has been busy in efforts to disparage the reputation of the state and has resorted to various and devious methods to do this, doubtless even entering the White House with his mendacious peddlings. I do not care to discuss him, but I will say this: I never made a clean breast with a forked tongue. My own position in Congress is the gift of my people. My position on the Senate floor is the gift of my constituents. It is the gift of Congress, the members generously according me the recognition for service in originating the home at John C. Calhoun. I have resorted to the interests of old soldiers throughout the country."
