CRANKS IN WASHINGTON

NATIONAL CAPITAL LOADSTONE FOR THE INSANE.

George S. Wilson's Address at the Conference of Charities and Corrections at Richmond, Va.

RICHMOND, Va., May 14.—A feature of the closing day of the national conference of charities and correction here yesterday was the address of George S. Wilson, secretary of the board of charities of the District of Columbia. Mr. Wilson's subject was "Interstate Comity and Cooperation."

That the National capital is a loadstone which attracts many insane persons is the opinion of Mr. Wilson. He classifies as insane many of the persons who visit Washington every year with a burning desire to see the President or some other important federal official about some wild scheme or other, and who are usually designated by the term "cranks." Mr. Wilson says the question of the migration of such persons, as well as paupers of other types, is a question of unusual importance in the District of Columbia and a matter for serious consideration by the states.

The board of charities of the District of Columbia returns to their homes about seventy-five non-resident insane persons who visit Washington for one reason or another. The District also sends away several hundred dependent persons every year who are not insane, but the officers there experience their greatest difficulty with the insane, because such persons cannot be given railroad tickets and put out and are left to look out for themselves as can other people.

Need of Definite Laws.

It is necessary that these persons be taken in charge by some competent person and that they shall be turned over to some responsible person at their destination. Here is where the difficulty arises, without definite laws as to legal residence and settlement in the various states and no central authority to settle disputes.

In some states the public authorities are prompt to accept their responsibility and take charge of such persons, but in legal claim. Some states bear the cost of returning to their homes insane persons who escape to other communities. Unfortunately, many public officers—county and town authorities—are so anxious to get rid of an undesirable member of the community that they are very slow to accept the responsibility for the care of dependent persons, in many instances where such responsibility is perfectly clear.

The board of charities of the District of Columbia has several instances where the public authorities of a neighboring state have sometimes demented persons, from their homes to the city of Washington, with a view to dumping their dependents upon the District of Columbia.

Burden on the Community.

Many instances arise both in the District and in the states where dependents have been wandering about the country for so long that they cannot be located in any definite place, and they naturally fall a burden on the community in which they are found. In very many instances the public authorities of different places as to where the legal residence of the dependent person really is, and there seems to be no authority to determine this question.

It has never been presented to any federal court, and it is doubtful whether there is any authority under the Constitution to decide such a question. It is an exceedingly interesting one, and it is becoming more important by the day. A fact that depends people migrate from state to state more and more than formerly is the case because of the greater facilities for travel, and the fact that it is becoming of such grave importance that it should be settled by judicial procedure or legislative enactment.

Columbia Women.

The annual meeting of the Columbian Women for the election of officers was held in the woman's building Monday afternoon. At the tea which preceded the business meeting, Mrs. Vance being absent, her place as hostess was taken by Mrs. Edgington. After a pleasant social hour the meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Herron, and the reports of the officers and committees were read. The corresponding secretary, Miss Peet, reported a gratifying increase in membership, and the treasurer, Miss Hazleton, gave an encouraging report of the condition of the treasury and the various funds which the Columbian Women are sustaining. The chairman of the constitution committee, Miss Clark, rendered her report in the shape of printed copies of the proposed constitution. Mrs. Eastest, chairman of the house committee, reported that the woman's building had in this one year of its existence thoroughly demonstrated its usefulness, it having been employed for the giving of a number of entertainments of various sorts by the different organizations of the university as well as by the president of the university himself, and also furnishing fraternities rooms for two of the girls' fraternities and a place of meeting for the clubs of the university. Miss Turner, in the absence of the chairman of the

FOR FIRST DEGREE MURDER.

Trial of Gaston P. Philip Set for the 25th Instant.

Just one year and one week from the day on which Frank Macaboy, a local cab driver, was alleged to have been shot to death while in the Arlington Hotel, Gaston P. Philip, a clubman of New York and Washington, will be placed on trial in Criminal Court No. 2 before Justice Barnard and a jury to answer an indictment for first degree murder. The United States attorney has advised counsel for Mr. Philip that the case will be called for hearing Monday, the 25th instant. Philip has been at liberty under a $25,000 bond of $25,000, furnished by his brother and sisters, and has been residing at Cleveland, N. Y.

Henry E. Davis and A. A. Heshling, Jr., who will defend Mr. Philip, will interpose a plea of self-defense to the allegations of the indictment. They intend to prove that Macaboy had threatened Mr. Philip and when he followed the clubman to his room in the hotel he was attacked by the latter. The threats would be executed and shot to save himself.

The prosecution will be conducted by Assistant United States Attorneys McNamara and Turner. The trial is expected to be in progress at least ten days.

S. P. CLEMMONS' WILL.

PITTSFIELD, Ill., May 14.—Mrs. Howard Gould of New York and her sister, Mrs. Sun Yue, wife of a San Francisco Chinaman, were bequeathed $1 each by the will of their father, Solomon Perry Clemmons, just filed here. His estate, which is valued at $3,000, is left to his widow, during her lifetime, with the exception of the $2 mentioned above.

Mr. Clemmons, seventy years of age, was adjudged insane by a commission in the Pike county court March 6 last and sent to the asylum at Jacksonville. His commitment was for the remainder of his life, and he died there May 8. He was totally blind and in a most wretched physical and mental condition.

So far as known no word ever came to the desolate man from either of his daughters, although they were apprised of his commitment to the asylum.

STABBED SPOUSES BETTER.

Mr. and Mrs. Hilbard Recovering From Marital Unpleasantness.

It was reported today at the Casualty and Emergency hospitals that George Hilbard and his wife, Mrs. Lulu Hilbard, who are confined at those institutions, respectively, the former with a slashed throat from a knife in his own hands and the latter suffering from ten stab wounds in her neck and face, said to have been inflicted by her husband Tuesday evening, are improving, and it is expected they will be able to leave the hospital within a few days.

Personal to River Men.

Gustav P. Lohr has returned on his office on Water street after a short visit to Virginia.

Capt. Fred Posey, master of the Norfolk and Washington line steamer Norfolk, is reported ill at his home in this city, and Capt. Henry Kendrick is temporarily in command of the steamer.

William Skinner has been appointed mate of the steamer Lackawanna on the ferry route between this city and Alexandria, succeeding Capt. Peter Klein, who leaves the ferry route to take a berth on the steamer Macalester.

Setback for Chinese Revolutionists.

PEKING, May 14.—The revolutionists in Yunnan province have had a setback. The second column of insurgents, the one that was advancing on Meng-Tze, a treaty port at the head of navigation on Songki river, has been repulsed by provincial troops. The other column was turned back on the Red river last Saturday.

college club committee, Miss McIlhenny, reported the progress that the College Club had made during the year.

Following the reports came the election of officers, each of the following being unanimously chosen to fill her office: President, Mrs. F. E. Edgington; first vice president, Mrs. John Paul East; second vice president, Mrs. E. B. Rosa; recording secretary, Miss Gillespie; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Merrill; treasurer, Miss Hazleton, and historian, Miss Grace Ross.

After brief speeches from the retiring president and the new officers the meeting adjourned.

GARNER, In sad and loving memory of our dear mother, Mrs. MARY GARNER, who passed a peaceful rest one year ago today, May 14, 1907.
In thy graveyard, softly sleeping,
Where the flowers gently wave,
Lies the one we loved so dearly,
Who has been with us for so long,
Farewell, dear Ruth! May your slumber
Be as quiet, sweet and restful,
And when God calls us homeward
We may meet in heaven above.
