

A TREAT for the Feet

Our Foot Form Shoes.

There isn't one out of fifty who hasn't done some harm to his feet by wearing shoes that DON'T FIT and that irritate some particular part. The fault can be remedied, a cure effected, in FOOT FORMS, for they do fit. They're specially designed for special needs and are fitted by professional shoe fitters.

Enlarged joints are comforted and made inconspicuous—corns comforted and eventually cured—broken-down insteps built up. They not only correct foot ailments, but prevent them.

There's a shoe for your foot.

IN THE WORLD OF SOCIETY

A DIPLOMATIC AFTERNOON AT WHITE HOUSE YESTERDAY.

The Vice President and Mrs. Sherman at Another Dinner—Personal Notes.

The first social function of the new administration with an official flavor was held yesterday afternoon, when the President and Mrs. Taft received the diplomatic corps. Automobiles and carriages flying about the west end with their male occupants in court regalia and women folks in their best attire, or the more democratic members walking toward the White House, gave Vanity Fair fleeting impressions that society had reassessed itself and that another season of pleasing flatteries was on.

This 5 o'clock company assembled in the east room, where the first welcome was extended by Secretary of State and Mrs. Knox. The ambassadors, ministers and the charge d'affaires, with their staffs, also in uniform, and the ladies accompanying them passed into the blue room, where they were received by the President and Mrs. Taft, being presented by Col. Brownell and Capt. Butt, military aids at the White House.

Later all went out to the state dining room, where tea and loaves were served.

Mrs. Taft, whose charm as a White House hostess but continues the pleasant memory of her grandmother, Mrs. Jane McCaffrey, at 641 I street southeast, will leave for her home this evening.

Miss Alice McCaffrey of Roanoke, Va., who has been spending the past two weeks at her grandmother, Mrs. Jane McCaffrey, at 641 I street southeast, will leave for her home this evening.

Father of Margaret A. Reinburg Seeks to Recover Damages.

Margaret A. Reinburg, thirteen years old, by her father, has filed suit in the District Supreme Court to recover $5,000 damages from Mrs. Mamie Keller for alleged assault.

According to Attorneys Rossa F. Downing and George A. Berry, who represent the child, Margaret, February 4 last, was charged by Mrs. Keller with pulling up a wicket fence about the front yard of the defendant's residence on Monroe street in Mount Pleasant. Mrs. Keller, it is charged, found the little girl near the latter's residence on Newton street later and, it is alleged, struck her in the face and broke some of the small bones in the child's nose.

The father, in the declaration, alleges that as a result of the alleged assault the life of the child hung in the balance for several days.
