STOUT WOMEN IN THE NEMO "NEW AMERICAN SHAPE"

CAN WEAR Directoire Gowns with Grace and Comfort

The illustration shows one of the new Self-Reducing Corsets—No. 405, at $4.00. Its long skirt produces extreme reduction of back, hips and upper limbs when you're standing. When you sit down, the pressure is released, and you are as comfortable as though you had no corset on.

The new Relief Bands add greatly to the hygienic value of this new corset.

Self-Reducing Corsets for Every Stout Figure

At $3.00 For short stout figures—No. 314 and No. 318 (with Flatting-Back). For tall stout figures—No. 312; and No. 320 (with Flatting-Back).

At $4.00 For tall stout figures—No. 405. For short stout figures (sizes 24 to 42)—No. 404. Both have new Nemo Relief Bands.

At $5.00 For tall stout figures—No. 516 (white mercerized brocade) and No. 517 (white French coutil). For short stout figures—No. 518 (white mercerized brocade).

ORDER OF RED MEN.

Sloux Tribe, No. 18, Improved Order of Red Men, had the usual large attendance of members and visitors at the regular weekly meeting last Thursday night. The great sachem, Otto Fisher, and Great senior sagamore, James W. Allison, were present and made remarks on the good of the order and commending Sloux Tribe. Remarks were also made by Sachem E. F. Chrisman of Sloux Tribe and various members and visitors from this and other jurisdictions.

The committee of arrangements for the visit to Aztec Tribe, No. 137, Baltimore, Md., on the 24th instant, reported that about 100 members would constitute the visiting delegation. Owing to the lateness of the hour of adjournment the regular convocation of Sloux Tribe, No. 18, was postponed.

The Red Men's Social will meet March 23 in the council house of White Eagle Tribe, No. 17.

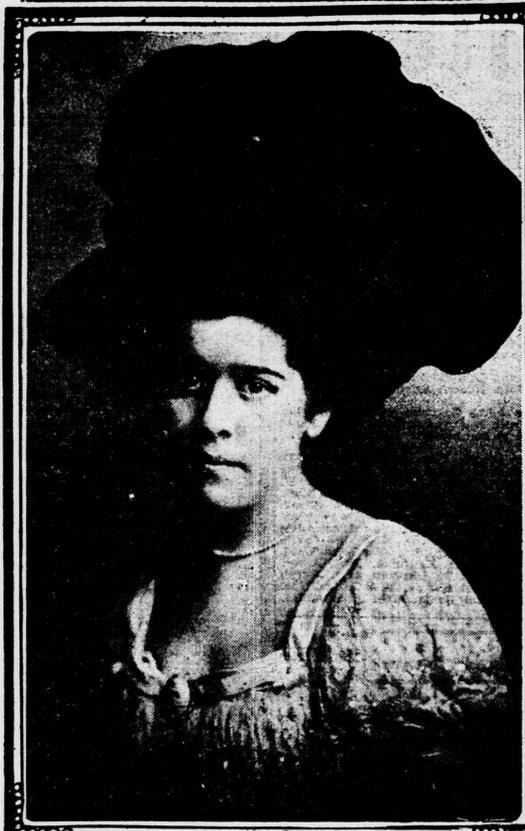

There was a large attendance at the celebration of the eleventh anniversary of Idaho Council, No. 1, Degree of Pocahontas, Improved Order of Red Men, Friday night. Among those present were Great Sachem Otto Fisher, Great Senior Sagamore, James W. Allison, Great Prophet John E. Altman, Great Keeper of Wampum William B. Garner, Great Chief of Records W. H. Tippett, Great Guard of the Forest E. W. Thompson, Great Junior Sagamore D. A. Dugan was reported as detained at home on account of the illness of Mrs. Dugan, who is an active member of Idaho Council. Past Great Sachem Archie Thompson, who introduced the Degree of Pocahontas into the District of Columbia, and D. J. Marvin and delegations from every council in the reservation, with a large number of visitors, were also present.

After addresses by the various great chiefs and visitors there was a piano duet by the Misses Mildred and Edith Caylor, following which refreshments were served. Past Great Sachem W. B. Garner, was acting chairman of the committee of arrangements. The officers of Idaho Council, No. 1, are: Prophetess, Mrs. M. Helmut; Pocahontas, Mrs. E. L. Dresser; Wenonah, Mrs. G. J. Mr. James Garland of Springfield, Ill., spent a few days in the city last week, a Brocklebank, cousins of the bride, and Miss Edith Parker. The bride's gifts to the bridesmaids were white prayer books, while the bridegroom presented the bridesmaids with diamond bar brooches. Mr. Westinghouse was attended by Charles Roger Williams of Derby, Conn., as best man. The church was decorated with white violets and native snowdrops. After the ceremony a reception and wedding breakfast was given at the country residence of the bride's parents, Irtion Hall.

The bride's traveling gown was fashioned of Napier blue cloth. Her hat was in the same color.

Miss Sylvia Brocklebank, the bride's twin sister, who is a noted coaching whip, was anxious to drive the bride and groom to the church, but her duty as chief bridesmaid necessitated her presence at the head of the cortege before the bride's arrival. However, she drove the bride and bridegroom to the little station of Drigg, five miles away, after the ceremony. As the coach was starting the bridesmaids and the best man clambered on its top, indifferent to the arctic weather and the snow-bound roadways and the merry party escorted the newly married couple to the station, with Miss Sylvia Brocklebank, in her bridesmaid's attire, holding the ribbons.

The gifts from Mr. and Mrs. Westinghouse to their daughter-in-law are magnificent, and include diamonds and pearls and a dessert service of solid gold, made for their order in New York.

The bride will attend a May court, to
